$2,885 DONATED TO HEART FUND

Post Engineers Is Leading Division

A total of $2,885.41 was collected in the Heart Fund drive which closed last week at Redstone Arsenal.

It was the largest amount to be donated on the arsenal during a Heart campaign. Last year $2,340.64 was collected.

James Lynch, chairman, and Capt. Wilbert Becker, co-chairman, headed the drive. Both expressed appreciation to Heart volunteers, who collected the money, and to the Redstone employees and service men, who provided the funds. A large part of the money was collected from 300 classy coin containers placed in various areas of the arsenal.

Mr. Lynch was host at a luncheon held last Thursday at Steadman's Restaurant in honor of the Heart chairmen who collected the largest amounts of donation from their divisions.

The largest amount of money came from Post Engineers, where Harry Lewter headed the drive. A total of $513.43 was donated.

In the Guided Missile Development Division, Master Sergeant Howard Love collected $445.43. At the Ordnance Guided Missile School, where Lt. Karl Shade headed the Heart Fund, a total of $390.79 was donated. Ammunition Division, with Windbern Sisco as chairman of the drive, came in fourth with a total of $197.89.

Mr. Wolfe will open his program with a 30-minute, color movie, with sound, on "What's a Silicone?" Following the film he will discuss silicones and will conduct a question-and-answer period.

Mr. Wolfe received his bachelor of science degree in chemistry and mathematics from Central Michigan College. During World War II he served with the "Seabees" in the Central Pacific for two years. He has been employed by Dow Corning since 1948.

INCENTIVE AWARDS COMMITTEE LISTS RULES AND REGULATIONS

BY STEVE JANOVAK

Increased cash awards up to $475 for savings resulting from suggestions and $300 for intangible benefits are possible on a local level and do not require approval of the Army Incentive Awards Board, Office of the Secretary, Washington, D. C. Recommendations for payment of an award in addition to the above must be submitted to them for approval.

Legislation which became effective November 30, 1954 as Title III of Public Law 763, 83rd Congress, established the Army Incentive Awards Board and they assume all the functions of the Army Efficiency Awards Committee. The act is a firm expression of the intent of the President and Congress that there be established a government-wide Incentive Awards Program which will encourage all civilian officers and employees of the Federal Government to participate in the common task of improving the efficiency and economy of government operations.

In announcing this program, President Eisenhower asked that all executive, departmental and agency heads with lower levels of supervision endorse and vigorously support the Incentive Awards Program so that wide participation will be obtained and

RED CROSS MISS AND GENERAL MEET ON KOREAN FRONT LINE

Wherever there's an Army there's a Red Cross story... here in Madison County or somewhere on a farflung battlefield.

One that came out of Korea along with a Redstone officer, is a battle-weary general on the front lines and a miss that had a batch of doughnuts and hot coffee on a little donkey.

The girl trudged up to the men in the line and proceeded to set up her mobile kitchen for them. Someone told the general.

He called her in. She went, girded with coffee and doughnuts. The general didn't care for some. He told her in no uncertain terms that battlefronts were no place for girls with doughnuts and donkeys.

She was stubborn... and mad when she left his tent. Back with her donkey, she proceeded to follow down the line handing out doughnuts and coffee.

The general in his tent swore roundly and had her ordered out again.

The last doughnut distributed, the Red Cross Miss trudged toward the rear.

Here in Madison County things are not so dramatic, but in the past seven months the Red Cross has helped 174 servicemen to get emergency leaves, personal loans or grants, and other services hard to obtain in a moment of need.

This year, Col. George I. Calvert is the Redstone Red Cross chairman. He will meet with his representatives in the War Room of Bldg. A-101 on Friday, March 11.

NACA Conference Scheduled in March

John R. Severing, Jr., of Alabama-Tennessee Natural Gas Co., Muscle Shoals, has been named chairman of the "on to Memphis Regional Cost Conference" committee for the North Alabama chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants.

The appointment was announced today by Chapter President Jack S. Mueller of Chemstrand Corporation, Decatur. Mr. Severing will be in charge of arrangements for members of the North Alabama chapter to attend the conference to be held in the Hotel Peabody in Memphis on Friday and Saturday, March 25 and 26. The program will include an address on "Cost Control through Planning and Control" and one on "Presenting Accounting Information to Management" on Friday morning. Friday afternoon the conference will break up into six discussion groups organized by type of industry.

A case study, "The Contribution of Accounting to Cost Control and Reduction" will be presented by a panel of executives from a major corporation of the Memphis area on Saturday morning.

Auburnite 'Rooks' Himself at Dinner

At the Georgia Tech Alumni Association dinner held here recently in honor of Coach Bobby Dodd, a devout Auburn alumnus was enticed into going with a Georgia Tech alumnus. When they sat down to eat, the Auburn man thought the price of the meal was $2.50 but they charged him $3.50 instead. Being a gentleman he didn't say anything. But at the end of the meeting he discovered what the extra dollar was for. He had joined the Georgia Tech Alumni Association.

The Medal of Honor was awarded to Captain Wilson for outstanding display of valor while a

'THIS IS YOUR ARMY' COLOR FILM SLATED FOR HUNTSVILLE SHOWING

"This Is Your Army," a feature length documentary Technicolor film produced by Movietone News for the Department of the Army, will be shown in Huntsville at the Lyric Theater on March 10-11.

The documentary will be shown along with an RKO Re-Release, "Every Girl Should be Married," starring Cary Grant and Betsy Drake.

The Department of the Army pointed out that the Army film made originally as an orientation film to acquaint troops with the nature and scope of the Army's world-wide activities, was made available to the public on a non-profit basis in order that the American people might have the opportunity to see an excellent pictorial report on their Army.

The film is 55 minutes in length.

The Department of the Army noted that it is probable that no other motion picture has ever required the participation of more people than "This Is Your Army." The selection of material to be photographed, the scheduling of shooting dates and the coordination of men and equipment to have them at the right place at the right time, involved the efforts of thousands of Army personnel at installations scattered throughout the world. The cooperation of foreign governments through United States Army Military Missions was required also.

The picture opens with a prologue outlining the United States' world-wide responsibilities and the mission of the Army in aiding to carry them out.

The first scenes are at a Reception Station with new inductees arriving, orientation and classification processing, clothing issue and adjustment of the individual to his new environment. This sequence is followed by basic training shots taken at an infantry training division. Scenes of more specialized training follows with brief footage on parachute, anti-aircraft artillery, radar, signal, transportation, Army aviation mechanics, QM medics and guided missiles training.

Advanced unit training portraying how the Army trains units to work as well-coordinated teams is the next sequence. Here are emphasized firepower and mobility along with training for fighting in all types of terrain and situations. Jungle fighting in Panama, ski troops in Colorado at Camp Hale, helicopter assault at Fort Bragg, amphibious assault at Okinawa, all topped off by a tremendous air drop of personnel and material by the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg.

The opportunities for leadership in the Army is the next topic covered. It includes leadership schools for enlisted men, non-commissioned officers' schools and the officer candidate school at Fort Benning. Scenes of ROTC training Research, development and testing of new weapons, equipment and clothing is well covered in one sequence. Progress of the Army's guided missile program with scenes of the Nike striking and destroying a B-17 drone plane is shown the public for the first time in a color motion picture. And the finale to the weapons sequence is the firing of an atomic shell by the Army's new 280 mobile artillery piece.

The movie also shows sequences on Korea and on the Army's responsibilities in Europe.

The final sequence is a round-up of American soldiers on the march in many parts of the world—the United States, Seoul, Tokyo and Berlin.

BY SUDIE AMSLER

We've had a wedding, a baby, another engagement, new cars, new hair-dos and lady knows what else; and where does one begin?

As everyone knows, our Chris Bassham is now Mrs. Johnny King. All the girls say she was a lovely and beautiful bride.

Bobbie Williams, Mrs. B. H. Hambrick, Clara Terry and Betty Hambrick had a mighty nice miscellaneous shower for Chris on Feb. 14th. Chris, who is quite a favorite in FSD, received some very wonderful gifts. Now, who will be next?

The most likely nominee is Betty Clark. She's wearing a powerful big chunk of ice on that all-important finger, and the lucky fellow is right here in Bldg. 827—Willie Martin. These two are pretty smug when it comes to giving out the date, etc. but we've a sneaky feeling the wedding is in the foreseeable future.

In parenthesis, Col. Waggoner says it looks as if we're operating a marriage bureau as a side line down here—and we want to know if that's against regulations. I reckon as long as we have little boys and little girls, we'll have engagements and weddings. You reckon?

Little boys, huh? That brings Edna Enfield's story to mind. She said Jimmy Goodwin called her the other night, practically breathless. He said, "Oh, Edna, the baby's come. He weighs six boys and seven ounces—". After the proud father was calmed, it developed that on Saturday night, Feb. 26th, James and Frances Goodwin became the parents of their first son, James Jeffrey. The little fellow weighed six POUNDS and seven ounces. Place of arrival? Fifth Avenue Hospital. Frances was an FSD employe before going on leave, and our heartiest congratulations are extended the new mom and pop. My last comment: What a way to spend Saturday night! (Forgive me, Goodwins).

The new hair-do laurels go to Mona King who decided not to grow old gracefully. What did she do but smear white shoe polish in her brown tresses. "It's for Art's sake," said Mona. Art, of course, was the Little Theatre play where Mona was to play the role of an aged and decrepit 40-year-old woman. (Any comment here would be personal, so tongue is in cheek).

Here are a final summary reports of little items, like Everett Robertson's story about Dolores Killion. Mrs. K. attended a recent meeting of the Rocket Society, and being the only lady present, she tried to make herself as inconspicuous as possible. And what happened? The MC drew a name for an attendance prize, and the first name drawn was Dolores Killion. Mrs. K. made her way to the front of the auditorium to claim her prize—a toy rocket.

There's no space for the race—not enough, anyway. That's the sports car rally held Sunday afternoon, Feb. 27. There were all sorts of cars here from Birmingham, Chattanooga, and everywhere—foreign cars, sports cars, racing cars and the like. And they say it was just like in the movies. Major Hardy drove Mr. Mayfield's "Jag" and came in second, and it was the first time he had driven the car. Now the major says, "Little brown Jag Don't I Love Thee." Chuck Saffel was in the race, and so was Major Mellors. He was doing all right until he missed a check point. Oh, well, it's a man's world.

OGMS SOLDIER OF MONTH—
Sergeant James J. Singleton was selected as Soldier of the Month at the Ordnance Guided Missile School for the month of January.

Sergeant Singleton is a graduate of Lee H. Edwards High School, Asheville, North Carolina. After graduation in June 1952, he went to work for the Augusta Chronicle newspaper in Augusta, Georgia. He remained with the newspaper until he enlisted in the Army in October 1952.

Upon completion of basic training at Fort Bliss, Texas, he was transferred to the Atlanta General Depot as a model maker. In January 1954, Sergeant Singleton transferred to OGMS and was assigned to the Service Shop as a maker of models that are used as training aids in the various courses at the school.

In his spare time, Sergeant Singleton designs, builds and flies model airplanes. He has won numerous contests in the United States, and holds several world records for speed and endurance of model planes. He has quite a trophy collection—fifty in all.

THANK YOU

On behalf of myself and my family, I wish to thank the girls in the Guidance and Control office for their kindness and for remembering with flowers at the time of my uncle's death, Mr. C. F. Scott. We all appreciated it very much.

Miss Frances Scott.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS

Four new examinations were announced by the Board of U.S. Civil Service Examiners on Thursday, March 3.

Jesse W. Stutts, Jr., Assistant Civilian Personnel Officer, who also serves as Executive Secretary of the Board, said that the examinations are announced for Millwright, WB-5, WB-11, and WB-16; for Millwright Leader, WB-18; for Millwright Foreman, WBS-6 and WBS-8; and for Yardmaster, WBS-7.

Details of the qualifications requirements are in the announcements being posted on all bulletin boards. The examinations are open to the public, and Mr. Stutts urges all employes who have not yet been converted to Career or Career-Conditional appointments, and are working in

This column is brought to you through the courtesy of the above named organization while this writer is brought to you by his friends and neighbors in Redding, California.

Has anyone noticed the roomy cabinets that our supply room is making much needed use of. Now there is something that many men would never know was there (other than the brand new ones and the short-timers). I wonder what Sfc. Buckley and Sgt. Driskill would do if they had to get rid of them tomorrow?

In a recent visit to Ye Ole Consolidated mess, I noticed Joe Safarelli busy hanging some scenic pictures on the walls in an attempt to brighten it up a bit. Thank you M/Sgt. Harden. They really do help.

Congratulations to the Hq Det soldier of the month, Sgt. James Singleton. Nice going, guy, and keep up the good work.

I understand we have a brand new TI&E NCO by the name of Morton Davis. Whenever you check the bulletin board, read the daily news article or view the displays here in the barracks, guess who put them there? Welcome and good luck Pvt. Davis.

Now that I have dispensed with all of that, how about reading a little about our basketball team. I guess that everyone knows that the Hq Det team is well on the way to winning another trophy (we hope) to add to the collection we already have in the trophy case.

Yes, other than two mid-season setbacks the Hq Det team has done very well for itself, but one can never know until the season is over and there are still a few games left to play. If we win that Cup who knows, maybe we will be having another of those Company parties a little sooner than originally planned—to sort of celebrate.

When the weather starts warming up, as it has been, it naturally brings to mind thoughts of parties, picnics, swimming and starlight flickers. However, to quite a few of the men in the company it seems to mean mainly BASEBALL. I sure hope that the bug is catchy and the number of people who start limbering up their arms on these sunny week-ends increases so that when it is time for the real thing Hq Det will already have the nucleus of a team to compare with the fine group of last summer.

CHARACTER SKETCH

Pvt. Morton Davis, the new TI&E NCO, is the latest permanent addition to Hq Det. Pvt. Davis has done TI&E work at Ft. Dix where he worked in the division I&E office. Some of his duties there included instructing basic education for enlisted men who wished to obtain a grammar school diploma, conducting command conferences and acting as I&E NCO.

Pvt. Davis came to the Army from New York City where he attended New York University. While at NYU Morton received his BA and MA degrees in history.

After leaving NYU Pvt. Davis went into public relation work. He worked for John Collier, the former commissioner of Indian Affairs, as his personal public relations man while Mr. Collier was presiding head of the institute of Ethnic affairs. Morton worked for two years for Mr. Collier where he had many interesting experiences working around these minority peoples before coming into the Army.

BASKETBALL NEWS

Hq Det 9352, 57—Mechanical Branch, 50

After two successive setbacks the Hq Det courtmen regained their winning ways by turning back a determined Mech Branch basketball team to the tune of 56 to 49 two weeks ago Wednesday, Feb. 23.

The game was purely a second half effort as the Mechanical Men led at the half time 27 to 23. The third quarter found the Mechanical Men still in the game with a 39 to 39 tie but this didn't last long as the Hq Det men managed to win going away in the final frame.

The scoring was as follows: Mechanical Branch: Halkovich 13, Weiher 12, Gruver 12, Easton 8, and Dotson 5.

Hq Det 9352: Wiack 13, Poundstone 12, Thibodeau 10, Cockfield 8, Oard 6, Harnish 6 and Kachulis 2.

Hq Det 9352, 55—OGMS Pen Pushers, 33

On Feb. 26th the Hq Det basketballers took a big step forward as they waltzed past the OGMS Pen Pushers to the tune of 55 to 33.

The game was never in doubt as the Hq Det men jumped to a commanding 16 to 4 lead at the end of the first quarter and were never threatened thereafter.

The scoring for both teams was as follows:

OGMS Pen Pushers: Emmerich 16, Anderson 7, Milliken 5, Vujovich 3, and Bunnell 2.

Hq Det 9352: Thibodeau 16, Wiack 8, Long 8, Harnish 7, Poundstone 4, Cockfield 4, Oard 3, Cortes 3, and Mathews 2.

Hq Det 9352, 42—9330 Det B, 40

In what was a nip and tuck basketball game all the way the Hq Det team eked out a slim 42 to 40 win over a determined B Det 9330th basketball team, last Tuesday, March 1.

The score was tied on numerous occasions and until Jack Poundstone dropped two free throws through the hoop in the final 3 seconds of play the game could easily have gone either way.

The scoring for both teams was as follows:

9330th B Det: Payne 14, Glorfield 9, Graham 8, Wenner 6, McKernan 2, and Stickel 1.

Hq Det 9352: Thibodeau 11, Poundstone 9, Harnish 8, Wiack 8, Connolly 2, Mathews 2, and Kachulis 2.

Hq Det 9352, 47—2nd ETD, 36

The Hq Det quintet ran up against a new look in 2nd ETD teams but came out the victors by a handy margin of 11 points as they took the students into camp 47 to 36 last Wednesday night.

The Hq Det men operated smoothly as a group and though the first half ended with the 2nd ETD only one point behind, at 21 to 20, the Hq Det team ran up a quick 13 points in the third frame while the students could garner but one field goal. It was this scoring outburst in the third quarter that won the game as in the fourth frame both teams were even in points with 13 apiece.

The win was definitely a team effort on the part of the Hq team as could easily be seen by a quick glance at the scorebook. Nearly every player on the team scored one field goal and what was even more interesting was the fact that not one of the players scored in the two digit figures.

The scoring for both teams was as follows:

1ST ETD

By Matt Marinkovich

The peace and quiet of our orderly room was shattered by the return of SFC Paulson. He was on leave last week, and the organization is happy about his return! The word was spread thru the company; if you keep your mouth shut you would keep out of trouble—dental check Tuesday and Wednesday.

Rumors are so thick in the 1st ETD that you are shipped out even before you get here. Pfc. Klein is the chief rumor processor. If there is anything anyone wants to know on post, look him up.

We are going to start a pool and ping-pong tournament in the near future. We seem to have quite a few experts in both games and only hope it doesn't develop into a Civil War. It seems that the only one to give up was General Lee. Many of the Rebels are still fighting. All in fun though!

"ECHOES FROM THE 2D ETD" By Stan Silk

Some GIs collect autographed photos of Marilyn Monroe, Terry Moore, Jane Russell, and the rest of that motley crew, while other guys go in for the sounds of Gerry Mulligan, Stan Kenton and Dave Brubeck; but, in the 2d ETD, things are different. In this detachment we have a young man who goes around collecting rocks. Pvt. Marion H. Harp is the aspiring geologist, and if someday you should see a man on his hands and knees looking at the ground, he isn't digging for lost pirate treasures, he's just rock-gazing. Pvt. Harp intends to make this his life's career once his term of enlistment expires in June of 1956.

As long as I'm on the subject of "Harpo" (his buddies call him that), he has just departed on a 15-day leave to visit his wife and new-born daughter in Redding, California. "Harpo" intends to bring his family back to Huntsville on his return, and has al-

Never let it be said the 2d ETD doesn't appreciate the arts, for we have among us a fine broth of a lad, Pvt. Roger A. He has played in such memorable hits as, "Stalag 17", and "The Children's Hour", both of which enjoyed very long runs on Broadway in their original versions. While in Akron, Pvt. Weiss was employed by Goodyear Aircraft as a senior draftsman in the Aerophysics Department, and he will return there, instead of giving the Hol-

FLORIDA BOUND—Dixie Kelly, administrative assistant to the chief of the Missile Firing Labs at Cocoa, Fla., is moving many of the people working in the Guided Missile Development Division south with her. She's been working with the guided missile scientists almost since the program's inception. (Photo by Tex McCrary)

PLANES WERE GETTING DANGEROUS SO KELLY TURNED TO MISSILES

BY RHODA STAMBAUGH

Dixie Kelly, one of the Ordnance Corps' oldest employes in the guided missile field, has literally had the clouds for her curtains.

She flew with the Wasps in '44 and later worked as a ferry pilot on cross country flights that took her almost everywhere in the U.S. but the West Coast.

Now, she's transferring from Redstone Arsenal to take charge of the Administrative Office for the Missile Firing Laboratories at Cocoa, Florida.

Mrs. Kelly came to Redstone with the first contingent of people transferred from Ft. Bliss, Texas, when the Army Ordnance guided missile research and development center changed.

According to Mrs. Kelly, the funniest thing that happened to her at Redstone was coming here.

It seems that all arrangements for the movement were made between Ft. Bliss and the Pentagon in Washington by telephone. No one checked the day against the date on which they were scheduled to arrive.

Therefore, as the secretary to the chief of the Ordnance Guided Missile Center, Lt. Col. James P. Hamill, Mrs. Kelly came to Redstone on a Saturday. She was carrying documents which she wanted to store.

Mrs. Kelly found Squirrel Hill and Bldg. 112 which was supposed to be the headquarters building for guided missiles, she thought.

The windows were boarded, squirrels and birds scolded her for disturbing their peace. She searched around and finally found Sgt. Gilbert Appler at the desk in Bldg. 111. Together, they located a place for her to store her material and set up an office for the chief.

When Mrs. Kelly went to Ft. Bliss, it was because she figured a ferry pilot only has so much luck. Originally, she only intended to stop and visit in El Paso, but the climate and the atmosphere lured her into a longer stay.

So, she went to work for the Post Engineer at Bliss and soon transferred to the Ordnance Re-

Captain, Mrs. Jaco Visit at Redstone

Captain and Mrs. Charles M. Jaco visited Redstone Arsenal on Friday, Feb. 25.

Captain Jaco has just returned from an overseas tour in the Marshall Islands. He plans to enter the University of Delaware, Newark, Del., to complete work on a Master's Degree in Chemical Engineering. He will also work as an Ordnance Corps liaison officer with Chrysler Tank Corp., there.

Captain Jaco worked as a liaison officer with Rohm and Haas and as the Assistant Executive for Ordnance Missile Laboratories while stationed at Redstone.

search and Development sub office for rockets.

She's a native Texan from the Panhandle, but her education was acquired in Oklahoma where she attended the University at Norman.

Since she likes adventure, breaking from Texas and taking up residence in Alabama wasn't hard. She particularly liked the esprit de corps of the guided missile group.

Mrs. Kelly had the distinction of supervising the Technical Documents section for the Ordnance Missile Center in 1952.

When the rocket and guided missile sections combined their libraries, they chose a jawbreaker name. It was called the Guided Missile Development Division Library Section of the Technical Library of the Ordnance Missile Laboratories and Mrs. Kelly remained the supervisor.

By January of '53, Mrs. Kelly transferred as an administrative assistant to the deputy chief of the Guided Missile Development Division.

Her finger has been on the pulse of the activity since, guiding scientists as well as the administrative personnel through the labyrinth of paperwork entailed in keeping any operation running smoothly. The paperwork that flows across her desk covers everything from personalities to guided missile parts.

Now, she's ready for another adventure and has already moved the nucleus of her new office to Cocoa. Soon, she'll be in permanent residence there as administrative assistant to the chief of the Ordnance Missile Firing Labs, Dr. Kurt DeBus.

Post Garden Club Gives Chapel Shrub

Four boxwood plants were placed in front of the Post Chapel by the planting committee of the Redstone Garden Club last Thursday.

The plants were six years old. A part of the Garden Club project is to keep the chapel foyer and library in flowers as well as taking care of beautifying the chapel grounds.

At present, the arrangements in the library and in the chapel foyer are pastel painted weeds.

Meantime, other things are growing in the greenhouse and will soon be ready to set out in gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. James Goodwin announce the birth of their son on Feb. 26, at the Fifth Avenue Hospital. Mr. Goodwin is employed at the Ordnance Guided Missile School.

TROOP COMMAND

HEADQUARTERS DET
By Bill West

Last Monday, aside from being payday, was set aside for dental examinations in 9330. Before receiving our monetary reward for the month's work, we were marched over the hill to the dispensary and lined up in alphabetical order (according to rank) to have our mouths peered into and our teeth counted. Some, we understand, were missing.

That big jar with a slit in the top which appears in the orderly room every payday was blessed in the amount of forty dollars last Monday . . . the paper taped on the side said "Heart Fund." Speaking of which, those red plastic hearts were hardly removed from sight around the arsenal before the Red Cross publicity began to appear. It is not hard to predict what next month's payday levy will be for.

There is news from three corners of the sports world this week. In the 9330 pool tournament, Headquarters Detachment, in the persons of Sgt. Joe Allen and Pfc. Charles Perkins, swept the place and show positions. Sergeant Allen has received a three day pass and a five dollar bill for his accomplishment, and Pfc. Perkins received a three day pass.

Our sizzling basketball team has added three scalps to its gym shorts recently. After defeating Detachment A, 46 to 26 on Feb. 24, it subdued the Post Officers 55 to 50 two evenings later. Last Tuesday it won an exciting game with the 1st ETD by the score of 43 to 40. The season record stands at nine wins and six losses, however, games were scheduled with Detachment B on Saturday and with the Pencil Pushers on Sunday. The last game of the season will be played with the Mechanical Branch this Friday night.

A memorandum from the Troop Command Athletic Officer announcing a 9330 fishing contest during the month of April has been posted on the bulletin board. There are three classes: Bass, Crappie and Bream; and the prize in each class is five dollars and a three day pass.

The fish will, significantly, be weighed in the mess hall and a tally sheet of weights will be posted inside the entrance. We can, it seems, look forward to a seafood diet next month. The final paragraph of the memo reads: "The judges (presumably the cooks-ed.) reserve the right to thoroughly examine each fish," which includes, no doubt, heating in a moderate oven to test for durability.

Among the names in the news this week are Pfc. Jack Wolff, who has forsaken the 803rd Military Police Company and their motor pool in favor of Headquarters Detachment and the OML Photographic Laboratory; Cpl. Lee Russell and Pfc. Cornelius Brenner who have left for Europe and the Far East respectively; Sfc. Earl Cline who has transferred to the U.S. Army Hospital, Ft. Belvoir, Va.; and Sgt. James Weir who has moved to White Sands. Finally, Cpl. Harold Alberts has been paroled to civilian status.

Early in the morning a week or so ago, the troops of this detachment were roused out of their slumber by M/Sgt. Hugel and invited to the reveille formation in unaccustomed and very positive terms. This phenomenon of our First Soldier beginning his duties at such an unseemingly hour was bewildering at first. Then someone remembered that Mrs. Hugel was on TDY in Washington. If she has not returned already, we wish her a safe and speedy trip home . . . for her husband's good and for ours.

DETACHMENT "A"
By Carl Hensley

For four shots Sgt. Allen of Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment managed to keep the eight ball so screened that Cpl. John Glen was unable to sink it, while he gained ball after ball. The fifth turn again looked impossible with a bank shot across the whole length of the table necessary just to reach the eight ball. Coach Jack Greenwood was quite disturbed but John calmly sank the eight ball with a classic long bank shot which brought applause from the gallery, the Troop Command Championship and ten dollars just a week before payday. Pfc. Don Ashmus, Service Club Ping Pong Champ, is practicing up to take the Troop Command Ping Pong Championship, too, but several others have their eyes on those five dollars.

One would think that five days (less training, KP, barracks orderly, dental survey, tetanus shots, clothing record checks, insurance forms, etc.) a week would give them enough electronics. Not so for our two electronic engineers, John Weimer and Charley Mason. Saturday at 2 p.m. they started repairing Loyd Stonehill's TV set. By 8 p.m., without even stopping for the army's excellent supper meal (which is served at no expense to those of us lucky enough to live on post), one source of trouble, an open coil, was discovered. Whether another six hours of work will be necessary next Saturday remains to be seen.

Those of us in the fourth platoon living on post are looking forward to Loyd's TV with anticipation. Exactly where he is going to keep it poses a question. Suggestions have been made to mount it in the barracks wall which appears to have holes, in places, almost large enough. Others are talking about building a mock foot locker and mounting the set in it. GI's have been known to try to keep two wall lockers on display but, so far as we know, no one has ever tried to keep two foot lockers in front of his bed. Pfc. Stonehill is an engineer; engineers can do anything; so we are certain he will discover a way out. Confidentially we are wondering if the set will ever do more than hum at a sixty-cycle rate.

Last month Richard Turner, William Beck, Winfred Byrd, Charles Mason, Darnard Mushinsky, David Sweigart, and Henry Zurawel became privates first class. Due to the fact that only two allocations came down from Washington three (one demotion occurred) promotions to corporal were made from a list of twenty-seven. Those who now are eligible for corporal were hit last summer by the shortage of allocations for PFC. Congratulations also go to Cpl. Eley, who is now Sergeant Charles Eley.

Two other Det "A"ers have just hit the gravy train although not in the conventional sense. Hardknocks Hartkopf, known locally by the phrase "6 percent per annum" because of his constant deals, really hit it rich. Last week he became eligible to enjoy some of his ill (?) gotten loot—he moved off post. His platoon has pledged to keep him out of the barracks unless he remains on the BO list. Daisy Carlson, complete with pink shirt, just returned from sunny California. We wonder, Roy, whether you enjoyed the climate as fully as you might? Perhaps northern California would have been better? Then there is Joe. Most people go south in the winter, but not Joe. North he goes to play in the snow. Now two others are following him northward to try to bust arms on those thin slats and come home as heroes in splints.

DETACHMENT "B"
By Bill Pulver

Here we go again, and I don't know what the cause is but there is very little news to report this week. Could be that this spring-like weather has made most of us answer the call of the wild and kept things quiet around the barracks of late.

There is one real group of nature lovers in our unit. They are the mountain climbers and cave explorers who have been touring North Alabama and doing quite a bit of exploring as of late. For any further information on the subject I'm told that Corporal Kofford is the expert and leader of these exploits so he is the man to contact.

It seems that I can't get any thing straight anymore, I have been informed that I made two glaring errors last week, I would like to ask forgiveness from Pfc. Baker and Pvt. Leggit. It seems I added three days on to Baker's discharge date—he gets out the 25th of February rather than the 28th as stated last week. Pvt. Leggit is a new man in our unit but he did not come to us from basic training, he came to us after a tour of duty overseas. Sorry gentlemen, hope it doesn't happen again.

Any of you men that read last week's issue of the Army Times have surely noticed that we have several celebrities among us. For any further information on this subject I suggest that you contact our ex-company clerk, Pfc. Hammar; I understand he rushed right out and bought all available copies of this issue of the Army Times. What's this, Earl, a cheap way to get photographs?

I'm sorry to have to report this next bit of information, but I'm sure our condolences are extended to Cpl. Richardson an Pfc. Eugenides who are on emergency leave due to the death of their fathers. We are all very sorry to hear this, gentlemen, and wish to express our deepest sympathy in this time of grief.

Welcome to Pvts. Lewis B. Burgett, Joseph B. Bohac, Hugh L. Cox and Frank E. Wood. These boys all come to us from basic training, at least that is what I've been told, so I hope that is right. Glad to have you with us, men, and I'm sure you will like it here with Detachment B.

It's goodbye to M/Sgt. Franklin Savage and Sfc. Ben Matthews. Our first soldier is leaving us to attend school at Ft. Monmouth. After completion of school M/Sgt. Savage hopes to apply for and obtain his Warrant Officer Bars; we all hate to lose him but wish him the best of luck in his new line of work. I'm sure he will make it through the tough ordeal ahead and make a good officer after it is all over. Sfc. Matthews left us for Atlanta General Depot where he will continue in his medical supply work.

Every company has a certain guy who tops all the others insofar as being a local Romeo is concerned. Our 'Romeo' is a blonde, handsome lad from Mississippi, named Pvt. Robert Hutchison. Just go into Huntsville any night, and sooner or later you're bound to run into him with the best the town has to offer. Don't ask me why, but the gals just seem to flock to him like bees to honey. If he ever ships out of here, there will be a long waiting line to buy his little black book. I've already got my bid in.

The 2d Enl Tng Det basketball team got a hearty shot in the arm with the influx of new students who are, or will be, attending the Ordnance Guided Missile School. Among them are two men who promise to be just what the team needs, Pvts Earl Murphy and Richard T. Tisworth. Last night, Mar. 2, they played the leading post team Hq and Hq 9352 TU, and while the final score was 47-36 in favor of 9352, everyone had to admit that the 2d ETD put on a darn good fight. Now that the warm weather is with us again, just get ready for some of the best softball games you'll ever see. We have decided to be the best this season, and if it doesn't happen, I'll eat my typewriter.

9615 TU SIGNAL CORPS

By Bob Halterman

I guess some of you are wondering what had happened to the Signal Corps. Well, we are still here and working hard to accomplish our mission in the Ordnance Guided Missile School.

We would like to welcome three new members to the organization who have just completed the Radar Repairman's course at the Signal School, Fort Monmouth, New Jersey. They are Pfc. Kenneth W. Coburn of Hazelcrest, Ill., Pfc. Wesley R. Andrews of Springfield, Mass., and formerly employed by General Electric, Syracuse, New York, and Pfc. John A. Lut-zow, of Chicago, Ill. We hope they enjoy their stay here.

Wedding bells have been ringing in the Signal Corps very often lately. Three of our boys were victims last month. Cpl. Leo S. Balandis married Miss Lila Dis-segnatore of Brooklyn, N. Y. Pfc. Leland D. Ackerley married Miss Mildred E. Clegg of Queens Village, N. Y., and Pfc. Donald E. Sweet married Miss Carol L. Stewart of St. Louis, Mo.

We hope that WOJG-1 Bruce L. Morgan, who was assigned to this unit as and SFC for some time, finds the grass greener in the Ordnance Corps. Good luck to your new assignment Bruce.

Mr. Robert C. Knarreborg, who was formerly a Sergeant in this organization, has accepted a GS-7 rating and is working in SAM Branch, OGMS.

BRANCH NEWS
By Marge Williams

"There'll be some changes made". And believe me there were some changes made.

No longer will you hear the names Internal, External and Mechanical Branches. From now on it will be Corporal, Nike, and Collective Subjects Branches. And because of this change, I was sort of scattered from my reporters, making news rather short for this issue. Starting this week we will have a column every week, so any news you might have, I can be reached now at phone 3646 or Building 625-1. Now on with the happenings of the days:

To begin with, we have two new "papa's" in our midst. From Nike Branch, James G. Goodwin's wife presented him with a son. From Corporal Branch, Sgt. Meinhart Baschee's (it should be Dr. Boschee) wife presented him with a daughter. Congratulations "Dad's".

"In my merry Buickmobile." That's the song Lt. Bill Lentz is singing these days. He has a brand-spankin-new two-tone Buick. Wow!! Need I say more?

In closing, we would like to send words of comfort to Cpl. (Mugs) Miller. "Cheer up Mugs. Even though your 'ole buddy-pal' Dave Albrecht, left this arsenal last week, you must remember you have 90 more years—er—days and you can join him.

Civil War & Reconstruction in Madison County
Seminar in Local History 1860-1875

Organized as a non-credit course, this group will be open to all those interested in the Civil War and Reconstruction Period in Huntsville and Madison County. Ten meetings will be scheduled on Sunday afternoons in the Public Library from 3:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. beginning March 27th. (Fee $10.00)

 be given due recognition for the extent to which they are successful in motivating the interests and participation of employees in the Incentive Awards Program. When considering employees for promotion, in addition to giving appropriate weight to the extent to which the employee personally has participated in Incentive Awards Program, consideration will be given to the interest and success the supervisor has demonstrated in motivating his employees to make employee contributions to the program. Supervisors who have demonstrated an unusual ability to stimulate employee participation may be given special recognition by means of letters of commendation, recognition during award ceremonies and other appropriate means."

With the vigorous support of top and middle management, immediate and second line supervisors will be depended on to stimulate employees to participate fully. Since the immediate supervisor is held responsible for the success of other employe-management relationships, his full participation and leadership in the employe recognition program will strengthen his position with respect to personnel management. In addition, such participation serves as continuous training for supervisors in management principles, by giving evidence that unusual contributions by subordinates are a tribute to supervisors and reflect credit on their leadership. A supervisor who develops his staff into a suggestion-minded group should be given credit for that achievement. He should not be asked, "why hadn't you thought of that?"

Awards cannot be expected to take the place of the supervisor's expressed satisfaction with a job well done. Without the supervisors expressed approval, an award becomes artificial. With it, an award reinforces and gives evidence of reality to his approval and satisfaction with the job done.

The proven merit of the suggestion program is beyond dispute. Civilian employes on the arsenal hold a great reservoir of untried ideas. Many men and women in their daily tasks think seriously about their work, job conditions, etc., and have in their minds numerous suggestions waiting only to be encouraged to make them known.

 first sergeant with the Army's 7th Infantry Division in Korea. He had committed a daylight attack against heavily fortified positions situated on commanding terrain near Hwach'on-Myon on June 5, 1951, when the spearhead element was wounded in heavy enemy fire and pinned down.

During the battle he neutralized the enemy position holding the advance by killing four machine-gunners, killing 27 enemies by bayonet and single-handed he charged into the enemy when they opened a counter-attack and killed seven of them, wounded two and routed the remainder.

Captain Wilson was wounded twice in this battle for their objective but remained in the defensive position until all his men had reached safety.

In addition to the Medal of Honor and the Distinguished Service Cross, Captain Wilson holds 12 other medals, ribbons, and badges including the Silver Star, two Purple Hearts, Bronze Star, Combat Infantry Badge and Commendation Ribbon with Metal Pendant.

 that means we must get another, so congratulations to M/Sgt. Redd on his new appointment. M/Sgt. Redd has a big task in filling the shoes of M/Sgt. Savage but even though small in physical stature, I'm sure he will carry on just as ably as M/Sgt. Savage in the past.

The basketball team is still going strong along the winning road; the boys beat the MP's the 24th of February and play the League leaders, 1st ETD, the 26th of February. A win of this game would really shake up the standings so let's hope for the best.

Well, that is all for now if any one has anything they would like brought up or out in this column just let me know and we will see that it gets published. Your help is needed and appreciated.
