OCTOBER 22, 1958

REDSTONE'S FIRST E-8—Master Sergeant Rudolph A. Weaver, Sergeant-Major of the Ordnance Guided Missile School is the first enlisted man at Redstone Arsenal to receive the E-8 rating under the Army's recently reorganized pay scale. Weaver, a native of Dublin, Ga. came to Redstone in December of 1955. In photo above, he receives a copy of his orders and congratulations from Col. H. S. Newhall, OGMS Commandant.

1,000-MAN OGMS MESS HALL OPENS; HOUSING FACILITY IN FULL SWING

A 1,000-man mess hall has opened at the Ordnance Guided Missile School to bring into full operation a new $1,500,000 troop housing and eating facility at the rapidly expanding "Space Academy."

The new installation consists of 12 large quonset-type structures plus the dining hall and is located one-half mile inside Gate One of the Redstone Arsenal tract. It adds more than 175,000 square feet to troop billets and eating space at OGMS.

Local dignitaries joined with OGMS officers to mark the formal opening of the new facility.

Sen. John J. Sparkman, Mayor R. B. Searcy of Huntsville, Maj. Gen. R. L. Spragins (USA Ret.), Will C. Mickle, editor of the Huntsville Times, and Grady

Reeves of Radio Station WBHP were luncheon guests at the new mess hall and toured adjacent barracks.

Each of the 12 barracks buildings is shaped like a U, with a front measuring 100 feet and two wings measuring 140 by 42 feet. The barracks are divided into (See 1,000 MAN on Page 8)

AOMC Invites Private Concerns to Take Bigger Part in R&D Programs

A move to encourage private industries and research organizations to participate more fully in Army missile research and development programs has been initiated by the Army Ordnance Missile Command.

Purpose of the plan, known as the AOMC Qualitative Development Requirements Information Program, is to release comprehensive data to interested and qualified R&D concerns regarding anticipated Army requirements and problem areas in the broad field of missile development.

In addition to the systematic release of such data, the program provides for proper receipt and evaluation of voluntary scientific information.

Details of the program are available at each of the 11 Army Ordnance districts which are strategically located throughout the United States.

Obstetrical Facilities

Open at Post Hospital

Obstetrical facilities at the Redstone Arsenal Post Hospital were officially opened on Friday with a ribbon-cutting ceremony performed by Col. Keith T. O'Keefe, Post Commander.

The recently completed facilities include a delivery room, labor room, nursery, and patients' ward.

The rooms are attractively painted in pastel blues and greens with the exception of the nursery, which features a cheerful pink.

The Arsenal Hospital serves all military personnel of the various Army Ordnance Missile Command agencies as well as the Ordnance Guided Missile School.

The obstetrical facilities have been designed to accommodate eight mothers and their infants.

AOMC Group Takes Part in Meeting of AUSA in Washington

A group of officials from the Army Ordnance Missile Command is participating in the Fourth Annual Meeting of the Association of the U. S. Army this week in Washington, D. C.

The meeting began Monday and will end today.

Heading the AOMC delegation is Maj. Gen. J. B. Medaris, Commanding General. Gen. Medaris and Dr. Ernst Stuhlinger, of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, will take part in a panel discussion (See GROUP on Page 2)

Career Service Emblems Representing 52,470 Years to Civilians Here

Career Service Emblems representing 52,470 years in Civil Service will be issued to civilian employees at the Army Ordnance Missile Command headquarters soon.

A total of 5,191 employees will qualify for the emblems, for which a minimum of 10 years service is required.

A survey indicates that 10-year emblems will be received by 4,727 employees, 20-year emblems by 437, 30-year emblems by 25, (See CAREER on Page 2)

President Says Decision On NASA Plan His Alone

President Eisenhower last week made it plain that he alone would make the decision as to whether the National Aeronautics and Space Administration could take over 2,100 of the Army's missile experts from the Army Ballistic Missile Agency and the Jet Propulsion Laboratory.

The President was asked at his news conference to comment on published reports that Dr. T. Keith Glennon, NASA chief, had asked that the Army surrender the scientists and engineers, and also transfer the entire facilities of JPL to the new civilian space agency.

The President said he had yet to make a final decision on the request, and that so far it was only a recommendation. He added that a complete study is being made of what facilities should be placed under the NASA.

'Less Than Prudent,' Von Braun Terms Plan

The following statement regarding the reported NASA proposal was issued last week by Dr. Wernher von Braun, Director of Development Operations, ABMA:

"I believe that the missile development team organized under the U. S. Army's sponsorship and direction has won recognition as a national asset through demonstrated capabilities in the weapons and space fields.

"The only question which should be asked is how can this team best serve the nation? Under the present Army management the team develops weapons systems for defense and utilizes military hardware to conduct scientific space programs. I believe that the dual effort has been entirely successful — the results speak for themselves.

"It would seem something less than prudent to risk the dissolution of such an asset at a time when national security and prestige demand a unified effort to achieve and maintain supremacy in rocket and space technologies."

NO DETRIMENTAL ACTION IS SEEN BY GEN. MEDARIS

Maj. Gen. J. B. Medaris, AOMC Commanding General, issued the following statement last week regarding the reported NASA proposal:

"This is not the first occasion when rumors and distortions have affected the Army's missile activities. Our people are becoming inured to this sort of thing as an unfortunate but seemingly recurrent annoyance.

"I believe the position taken by the President, as reported by the press today, clarifies the present situation. It is apparent that any proposal involving the Army missile team will receive careful study and evaluation before any decision is reached. I am satisfied that analysis of all the factors will not result in action detrimental to the best interests of our people and the nation.

"We will continue work as usual to advance the military and scientific programs assigned to us and to insure their successful accomplishment. That is what is expected of us. We have no intention of doing anything less."

FIRST AOMC ELECTRONIC COMPUTER FOR BUSINESS-TYPE USE INSTALLED

The first electronic computer to be installed at the Army Ordnance Missile Command for business-type applications began operations last week in the Computation Laboratory at the Army Ballistic Missile Agency.

The new computer, an IBM 705 Electronic Data Processing Machine, was originally planned for reduction of volumes of data associated with missile firings. However, commercial and business-type applications have grown to such an extent that the machine will now be used primarily for these purposes and other equipment will handle scientific data.

The 705 will serve all three segments of the Command at Huntsville — the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, the Army Rocket and Guided Missile Agency, and Redstone Arsenal.

Dr. Helmut Hoelzer, Director of the Computation Laboratory, considers the installation of the 705 a significant forward step by the Laboratory in the new field of (See FIRST AOMC on Page 10)

REDSTONE UGF TO GIVE 1/2 OF COUNTY'S TOTAL

The Redstone United Givers Fund of 1958 will contribute at least 50 percent of the total goal of the Huntsville-Madison County UGF campaign, it was announced last week by Maj. Gen. J. B. Medaris, general chairman of the Arsenal drive.

This information was reported Thursday by Stuart H. Jones, executive chairman of the Redstone drive, at a meeting of the Madison County UGF Board of Directors and Chairmen of the current campaign.

Jones reported that more than 78 percent of military and civilian personnel of the Arsenal and its contractors have either contributed cash or made pledges.

The Huntsville-Madison County UGF goal is $250,000.00.

The Redstone drive will end Nov. 15. It has emphasized two objectives: 100 percent participation and "Fair Share" giving. A "Fair Share" was computed as 80 percent of one day's pay.

Employees living outside Madison County were encouraged to contribute part of their UGF giving locally and the remainder in the community of residence.

The Army Rocket and Guided Missile Agency leads in participation by percentage of personnel with a record of 96 percent. Other figures based on last Wednesday's report meeting: Army Ordnance Missile Command Headquarters, 92 percent; Rohm and Haas, 91 percent; Thiokol Corp., 83 percent; Redstone Arsenal, 79 percent; Army Ballistic Missile Agency, 75 percent; Ordnance Guided Missile School, 74 percent.

ABMA Solicitors In UGF Urged to Complete Contacts

ABMA solicitors in the United Givers Fund drive are being encouraged to complete their contracts and conclude the campaign this week.

"We have made a fair showing in most areas," said Brig. Gen. J. A. Barclay, ABMA Commander. "There are, however, several weak places that demand immediate attention. I want to strongly urge all solicitors to make every effort to contact all personnel to give everyone an opportunity to participate in this drive."

As a whole, 83.3 per cent of ABMA civilian personnel have contributed. (This is an advanced report, compiled since last Wednesday's overall reports.) Ninety-four per cent of military personnel have participated. Thirty-two per cent of ABMA personnel have given a "Fair Share," which is computed at 80 per cent of one day's salary.

United Nations Day, Oct. 24

Thirteen is not always an unlucky number. Oct. 24 this year marks the 13th birthday of the United Nations; a date that has an intimate meaning for all men and women in the Armed Forces.

On the future growth and vitality of the U. N. rests the world's best hope for peace. It's as simple as that.

The U. N. has its critics. Probably it always will have. Some of them are sincere patriots like the "isolationists" of the 1930's. Others would belittle and sabotage the organization for ulterior motives.

But however much they snipe at its aims and methods, they cannot be blind to its steady growth. The U. N., which had 51 member nations in 1945, has 81 today.

The goal of the U. N. has never wavered: to maintain international peace and security. Since the founding of the U. N., the world has seen the development of new weapons that, in the awfulness of their destructive power, could make WWII the end of civilization.

So it becomes the mission of the U. N. to find a way—in the words of President Eisenhower—"by which the miraculous inventiveness of man shall not be dedicated to his death, but consecrated to his life."

The record of the U. N. is a good one. It has acted quickly and forcefully to discourage aggression and throw the light of free world condemnation on aggressor nations. It has fought poverty, hunger, disease and ignorance.

It stands for a world governed by men of good will.—(AFPS)

Dr. Walter Wharton Is The 'Safety Supervisor'

Dr. Walter Wharton, a research chemist, is this week's "Safety Supervisor," the RSA Safety Office announced.

He is assigned to the Missile Propulsion Branch, Research Laboratory, of the Ordnance Missile Laboratories, ARGMA.

Dr. Wharton was born and raised at Big Bone Lick, Boone County, Ky. He completed his high school education at the New Haven Consolidated School, Union, Ky. In February of 1945 he entered the U. S. Army where he received basic training at Camp Blanding and an overseas assignment at Okinawa. He next entered Georgetown College, Ky., and in 1950 received his A.B. degree. It was during this period that he married Pauline E. Vater of Campbell, Ky. He obtained the remainder of his education at the University of Kentucky where he received an M.S. degree in 1952 and a Ph.D. degree in physical chemistry in 1954.

After graduation he accepted employment with the Research Laboratory where he is now engaged in basic research related to combustion kinetics. He and his family now reside at 3801 Memorial Parkway, North. They have three boys, ages 2, 5, and 9 and one girl, age 3.

Dr. Wharton is completely convinced that safety is essential in research work. Often unknown chemical reactions are investigated, and often the unknown happens. Before new tests are made adequate protective shielding is provided for the operator. When necessary, remote controls are used for valves and mechanisms used in the experimental setup. He is to be commended for his anticipation of hazardous operation and for taking protective

At the Service Club

Everyone enjoyed the Barn Dance very much last Thursday night. The lounge was decorated throughout like an old barn. The dancing area was marked off with a corral and paper streamers formed the ceiling of the barn. Lanterns were used on the stage to form the hayloft. Apple cider was served during the evening. Mr. Jim Baker from the "Merry Mixers" in Huntsville called the square dance and created a great deal of entertainment. The "Paragons" played for social dancing between the square dance sets.

The decorating committee consisted of Bill Walek, chairman; Jim Farris, Keith A. Rodin, E. W. Mason, Joe Palumbo and John Spiro. The lighting was well done by Pvt. Don Poole, chairman, Cpl. Dick Wenger and Cpl. Joe Klump.

The COSTUME BALL is scheduled for October 28 at 8 o'clock. Everyone is urged to come to the Ball in costume and mask, so that the fun of guessing who's who may result in numerous cases of mistaken identity that may cause many lusty laughs.

The setting of the BALL will be most unique with ghosts and witches grinning grotesquely and jack-o-lanterns hung here and there to create an eerie atmosphere. The guests will enter the lounge via the Chamber of Horrors which will consist of a spooky handshake, a spider web and many other miscellaneous features. After an entrance into the Lounge a costume parade will take place. The judges will select the most unique costumes and prizes will be awarded to the best for both the women and men.

TOMMY ALLEN AND ORCHESTRA will play for the occasion.

"You are soon going to come into a lot of money, and . . . You will meet someone you will marry, and . . . You are going to make new friends who will greatly influence your life, and . . ." Are you interested in theatrical work? A theatrical group is in the process of being organized. Frederick L. If you can act, sing, dance or do backstage work call the office immediately for more information.

There is a weiner roast planned for October 24. The buses will leave for the picnic area at 6 o'clock. Sign up today for the outing. There will be plenty of food, singing by the campfire and girls. The Huntsville Junior Hostesses will be guests on the picnic.

Ray has squeezed another dance class into the Wednesday night session. The beginners' Fox Trot will begin at 7 o'clock. The sensuous, care-free, gay and beautiful beginners' Rhumba will get underway at 8 o'clock. The advanced Tango class will begin at 9 o'clock. Registration for the next class, which begins on November 26, has been started.

Don't forget the Square Dance Classes every Thursday night at 7:30.

Joint Activities Council's Sports Committee to Expand its Program

(Editor's note: This is the first in a series of articles about the work of the committees which comprise the Redstone Arsenal Joint Activities Council.)

The Sports Committee of the Redstone Arsenal Joint Activities Council is busily getting into "the swing of things" — preparing for an expanding sports program for Arsenal children.

One of seven committees of the Joint Activities Council, the Sports Committee sponsors Little League Baseball and Pee Wee Football at the post. During their first meeting of the 1958-1959 season, committee members anticipated that participation in both of these activities would double in the coming year. In addition, they discussed the possibilities of a playground program for Arsenal children.

The Committee sponsored two Little League Baseball teams last summer, using the new Little League Baseball Diamond in the Capehart area for the first time. Lt. Col. Neal E. Haggard and Capt. J. M. Bishop served as team coaches for the activity, with about 42 boys taking part. It is expected that there will be at least four Little League teams playing on the Arsenal next summer.

Pee Wee Football is presently underway, with more than 50 boys manning three teams: an 85 pound team, a 105 pound team, and a 120 pound team. The football field is also located in the Capehart area.

The boys range in age from 8 to 15 years. They practice daily except when they have scheduled games, and are participating in the YMCA League at Huntsville and the Huntsville City League. Each team plays an average of one game per week.

The teams began competition during Sept. and will complete in November, playing between 8 and 10 games per team. So far, the teams have scored in competition as follows: 85 pound team, 1 win, 2 losses; 105 pound team, 1 win, 2 losses; 120 pound team, 2 wins, 2 losses.

Capt. H. G. Stratton and Pfc. Dave Northrop are coaching the 85 pound team. Capt. G. A. Ludick, Capt. P. C. Ward, 2nd Lt. J. E. Russell and Pfc. John Conley are coaching the 105-120 pound squad.

As sponsors of the Pee Wee Football activity, the Sports Committee, through the Joint Activities Council, must furnish all equipment and uniforms for the boys. The Committee presently owns 63 Pee Wee Football uniforms. It is anticipated that next fall there will be at least six teams participating in the program.

Members of the Sports Committee, headed by Col. Haggard, are Capt. Bishop, Capt. Stratton, M-Sgt. J. K. Mitchell, Capt. Ludick, and 2nd Lt. Russell.

'Bohunks' off to Fast Start in OGMS Officers Bowling League Play

After several postponements and delays, the OGMS Officers Bowling League finally got off to a start at the Redstone Arsenal lones on Oct. 13.

The "Bohunks", paced by Lt. Ridgeway's 541, got off to a flying start and took 4 points from the "Tigers." High man for the "Tigers" was Lt. Nidever with 442. The Special Weapons group, the "Neutrinos", managed to win 3 points from the high powered "Fogey's." The "Neutrinos" were led by Lt. Breault's 508 and Lt. Buck's 506, while the "Fogey's" high scorers were Maj. Usinger with 504 and Capt. Dodd with 495.

The "Signaleers" split with the "Hawks". Capt. Coogan, anchor man for the "Signaleers" came up with a 515 while Lt. Matika led for the "Hawks" with 457. The "Ickles", plagued with absenteeism, still managed to split with the "Tumblers." CWO Love led the "Ickles" with 484 while the "Tumblers" high scorer was WO Burns with a 462 series.

"Honorable mention should be given to several of our members who have never bowled before," said Lt. Armand Breault, League Secretary. "They show a lot of potential and their rising averages should lead to a very interesting season."

aeronautical engineering from the U. S. Air Force Institute of Technology at Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio, in 1955. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Dunn, of Rt. 1, Hope Hull, Ala. Capt. Dunn's citation accompanying his Commendation Medal stated in part: Capt. Dunn distinguished himself by resolving complicated aeronautical engineering problems of the F-84F and SA-16 type aircraft. He conducted in-service engineering on the F-84 aircraft during the period when this aircraft comprised the majority of the U.S. jet fighter-bomber force with nuclear capability and

Rohm & Haas Offers 350 Silver Dollars For Safety Suggestions

Rohm & Haas Chemical Co (Redstone Division) is offering 350 silver dollars to its employes for safety suggestions that will offer practical solutions for correcting hazards, according to an announcement by Cecil Jackson, Personnel Director.

Beginning today and closing 14 Nov., Rohm & Haas will give five awards of 50 silver dollars for the best employee suggestion. One of these awards will be given each of five divisions of work as follows: Administration, Ballistics, Chemistry, Chemical Engineering and Engineering.

The safety suggestions must define a specific hazard and offer a practical solution for correcting the hazard. If the person making the suggestion has within his authority to institute the corrective measures, he will be ineligible for the awards.

Suggestions will be judged by a panel of supervisors. At the end of the contest, a grand award of 100 silver dollars will be given for the best suggestion made. "The possibility of walking away with a stack of silver 'cartwheels' has awakened great interest in the employes," Jackson said. "It is known that the value of the suggestions will far exceed that of the 350 silver dollars to be given away."

JOSEPH MURRELL

Joseph Murrell Named 'Safe Worker of Week'

Joseph Murrell, long-time Redstone employee, presently employed as a truck driver in the Depot Division, Redstone Operations has been highly recommended by his supervisors to be "Safe Worker of the Week," the RSA Safety office announced.

On the job, Murrell transports explosives and other hazardous materials. He has never received a disabling injury since he was employed in 1942. Supervisors point out that his truck is easily recognized because it is outstanding always in cleanliness and mechanical condition.

Murrell and his wife live at 2402 Moore Street, Huntsville. He claims no unusual hobbies but says he likes to read and do odd jobs around the house, and considers himself an excellent "loaf-er." He was in the Army three years and saw duty in both the European and Southwest Pacific Theaters.

Murrell quickly gives this advice to all employees in regard to avoiding accidents, "Take care at all times — at work, at home, and especially in traffic. When walking in traffic, walk on the left side of the road facing on-coming traffic, but look back too, to be sure that the vehicle approaching from the rear is under control."

- The selection of these titles was the first step in a four-point program formulated by the Army. The next step will be to make these books available for purchase at the PX's or by mail order. The third step contemplates having command support; unit commanders will encourage the reading of these books in hopes of increasing the military competence of officers and men. As a fourth step there will be continuous publicity and a promotion program; any officer or enlisted man can write a letter to his CO "certifying" he has read the books and ask that the letter be included in his personal folder. Such files always are examined by promotion and selection boards.
