REDSTONE ARSENAL, HUNTSVILLE, ALABAMA

NOVEMBER 25, 1959

$207,880 IS DONATED BY ARSENAL TO UNITED GIVERS FUND CAMPAIGN

The 1959 Redstone United Givers Fund campaign, which officially ended Nov. 6, netted a record-breaking $207,880.

In announcing the final receipts, Jackson Balch, executive chairman of the Redstone drive, said that 98 per cent of the Arsenal's permanently-attached personnel contributed an average of $11.50: The 1958 UGF drive collected $154,962 — $52,918 less than this year — with the average donation being $10.09.

In keeping with the Redstone UGF policy, campaign proceeds will be distributed according to individual requests; i.e., to those out-of-county agencies or specific humanitarian organizations that were designated by contributors on their Redstone UGF Pledge cards.

Madison County's share of the total receipts will be $181,329, although the Madison County UGF goal for the Arsenal was $157,543.

The Redstone UGF Committee, which held its final meeting last week with Maj. Gen. J. B. Medaris, drive chairman, attending, decided to present Madison County two checks — one for the $157,548 it asked the Arsenal to contribute and another for a surplus of $23,781. In presenting the second check, the Arsenal is requesting that Madison County match this additional, over-the-top contribution.

Gen. Medaris paid tribute to the cooperative spirit of Arsenal personnel. "I am extremely pleased that under my stewardship the installation assumed this prominent role in the community's health and welfare. In the three years we have participated in the United Givers Fund, our contribution has been successively larger and more important. This is evidence — of the best kind — that the Arsenal recognizes its responsibility to the community,"

SENDER RECEIVES SECOND HIGHEST CIVILIAN AWARD

The Army's second highest award for civilian personnel, the Meritorious Civilian Service Award, was presented last week to Karl Sendler of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency's Missile Firing Laboratory.

Brig. Gen. J. A. Barclay, ABMA commander, presented the award at a ceremony at the Agency headquarters which was attended by laboratory directors and other key ABMA personnel.

The citation accompanying the award follows:

"Meritorious Civilian Service Award, Department of the Army, to Karl Sendler for meritorious performance as a supervisory astronomical research engineer with the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, Redstone Arsenal, Alabama. His outstanding leadership and aggressiveness have placed him in the commendable position of being one of the pioneers in conceiving and designing high and ultra high frequency systems for tracking guided ballistic missiles and advancing the state of the art and standards in this field. This achievement reflects great credit on the Department of the Army and is an inspiration to fellow employees."

Sendler was born in Vienna, Austria. He received a master of science degree in electrical engineering from the University of Vienna and was later with the Rocket Research Center at Peenemuende, Germany.

In 1945 he joined the Research and Development Division at Fort Bliss, Texas and moved to Redstone Arsenal in 1950. He is now

Thanksgiving Day Observance Will Follow Traditional American Pattern

READY FOR THANKSGIVING—SFC Leonard Belcher at the U. S. Army Garrison Mess No. 1, tests a turkey under the thoughtful eye of Mess Steward SFC. Gordon Turner and the wistful eye of PFC. Joseph Strang from the Motor Pool. The six mess halls will serve approximately one pound of turkey and trimmings to Army, Air Force and NATO personnel stationed here.

Chapel Services, Dinner, Football Are On Schedule

The military and civilians at Redstone Arsenal are prepared to celebrate Thanksgiving Day tomorrow in the traditional fashion.

Civilian employees will have the day to give thanks in the community's churches and to partake of the traditional holiday feast at home.

The military may attend special services in the Post Chapel.

Under the supervision of Maj. George M. Parker, food supervisor, and his assistants, SFC. Richard Turner and SFC. Curtis A. Dunning, approximately 4300 pounds of turkey is being prepared with all of the trimmings for Thanksgiving Day dinner in the six mess halls by the cooks. The Food Service Advisors expect to follow an around-the-clock schedule from Wednesday until after their 4300 guests are served on Thursday.

Maj. Gen. J. B. Medaris, Commanding General of the U. S. Army Ordnance Missile Command, and Mrs. Medaris will follow Army tradition and eat with the troops at the U. S. Army Garrison Mess Hall No. 1 where 900 guests are expected.

At Mess No. 2 six hundred guests are expected, and at Mess No. 3 six hundred and fifty more are anticipated.

Col. Charles W. Eifler, Commandant of the Ordnance Guided Missile School and Mrs. Eifler will eat with the school troops and the NATO troops who will share the Thanksgiving Day dinner. These two mess halls have 1250 reservations.

Col. Owen T. McCloskey, commander of Redstone Arsenal, will have dinner with the personnel and patients at the U. S. Army (See THANKSGIVING on Page 2)

'BLUE STREAK' CONFERENCE WILL BE HELD HERE

The Army Ordnance Missile Command will be hosts to the "Blue Streak" Procurement Conference to be held Dec. 1-3 at Redstone Arsenal.

Another Versatility Test Is Passed By Jupiter IRBM Missile

The Army fired a Jupiter Intermediate Range Ballistic Missile last Wednesday from Cape Canaveral, Fla. It was programmed for less than maximum range.

This firing further demonstrated the system's versatility.

Nearing the end of the development phase of the Jupiter launchings, the missile was pronounced operationally ready in January of this year by Maj. Gen. J. B. Medaris, commanding general, US Army Ordnance Missile Command.

Today's missile was of the final tactical design as have been other Jupiters launched in recent months. The missile was fabricated by the agency which developed the system, the Army Ballistic Missile Agency at Redstone

Advisory Committee Confers, Tours AOMC

The Army Scientific Advisory Committee for Materials is at Redstone Arsenal for a two-day conference and orientation tour of the Army Ordnance Missile Command and its elements located here.

The orientation tour will include visits to the Ordnance Guided Missile School and to the Thiokol Chemical Corp. plant at the Arsenal.

Norman L. Reed from the Ordnance Materials Research Office at Watertown Arsenal, Mass., is the chairman for the conference. Representatives from the Signal Corps, the Chemical Corps, Office of the Army Chief of Research and Development in Washington, Walter Reed Army Hospital, and the Quartermaster Research and Development Command, are among the conferees.

Capt. Morris J. Herbert, Executive Officer in the Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff for Research and Development, AOMC is the coordinator for the visit.

OUTSTANDING UGF PARTICIPATION—Maj. Gen. J. B. Medaris, Commanding General, Army Ordnance Missile Command, is shown, center, having presented "UGF missiles" to 10 AOMC Headquarters organizations for their 100 per cent participation in the Redstone UGF campaign. The AOMC Headquarters United Givers Fund agency contributed $8,748.93 to the 1959 drive, with 99.5 per cent of its personnel giving an average of $17.33. Shown above are, left to right, Joseph Muller, Executive Office; Capt. James Hutchison, Judge Advocate General's Office; Mrs. Doree Winstead, Inspector General's Office; Mrs. Eline Swanson, Public Information Office; Capt. Richard A. Lyne, Research and Development; Gen. Medaris; Theodore Valander, Support Operations; Maj. Rextord Javins, Signal Office; Horace Williams, Comptroller's Office; Lt. Col. Henry R. Del Mar, Transportation Division; Harold Lloyd, Engineering Office, and C. E. Apostolakis, assistant chairman of the AOMC drive.

The Redstone Rocket

The Redstone Rocket is a privately owned newspaper published every Wednesday at no expense to the Government by Jack W. Hoffhaus, Hartselle, Alabama, with exclusive regard for the reader interests of personnel at Redstone Arsenal, Alabama, in accordance with an agreement between the publisher and the Public Information Office, Army Ordnance Missile Command, Redstone Arsenal, Alabama.

The Rocket is NOT an official or semi-official Army or Ordnance Corps publication. Policies and statements reflected in the news and editorial columns represent the views of the individual writers and are not necessarily those of the Department of the Army, the Ordnance Corps, or any organization at Redstone Arsenal, Alabama. Appearance of advertisements in the Rocket does not constitute an endorsement of the advertising matter by the Department of the Army, the Ordnance Corps, or any organization at Redstone Arsenal, Alabama.

The publisher will receive editorial content for publication in the Rocket only through the Public Information Office, Army Ordnance Missile Command, Redstone Arsenal, Alabama, Bldg. 4505, Extension 2722. All advertising copy and payments therefor are received by Mrs. Zillah Newsome, 311 Holmes Ave., N. E., Huntsville, Alabama, P. O. Box 346, telephone JE 4-4701, as representative of the publisher.

The Redstone Rocket is distributed free of cost to personnel at Redstone Arsenal. Mailing rates for the Rocket are $5.00 a year, or $2.75 for six months. Mailing arrangements may be made with the publisher.

UGF

The remainder of the $207,880 will be distributed as follows: Morgan County, $6,126; Marshall County, $4,435; Limestone County, $3,510; Lincoln County, $1,113; Jackson County $1,012; Cullman County, $450; Other Alabama counties, $449; Tennessee counties, $260, and miscellaneous expenditures, $196. The Redstone Arsenal Joint Activities Council will receive $9,000, or half of the amount donated to the UGF by the Arsenal's military personnel.

An alphabetical breakdown of the Arsenal's 10 United Givers Fund agencies shows their individual contributions in 1958 as compared to those received in 1959, and the per cent of their personnel that participated:

Agencies	1958	1959	Percent
	Donations	Donations	Participation
ABMA	$50,283	$63,516	95%
Air Force	—	2,046	100%
AOMC Hq.	6,908	8,726	99%
Area Engineers	1,576	991	100%
ARGMA	36,330	51,162	99%
OGMS	8,593	9,571	99%
Rohm & Haas Co.	4,704	5,315	93%
Redstone Arsenal	30,053	36,632	97%

Electric propulsion systems, Heller explained, are ideally suited for space missions that start at satellite speeds and have as their purpose a transfer between orbits of various attitudes and various inclinations.

Applications of plasma jet propulsion for space vehicles, Heller pointed out, are for attitude control, position and angular adjustments of orbits, transfer of heavy payloads from low to high orbits, rotation of orbital planes, and "high thrust" maneuvers during short periods for planetary missions that use the ion drive as the main electric propulsion system.

C. T. N. Paludan, of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency's Guidance and Control Laboratory, delivered a paper on "Redstone, Jupiter, Saturn: Evolution of a Measuring System."

Noting that ABMA's measuring technique is based on overall missile development, Pauldan said that purely scientific research measurements have had secondary importance to the development of ballistic missiles. "We believe," he said, "we have been successful in providing this country with information vital to the defense program." "At the same time," he continued, "we have provided a framework for measurements on projects with purely peaceful purposes."

Heinz H. Koelle and Horst F. Thomae of the Preliminary Design Section, Structures and Mechanics Laboratory, Development Operations Division, Army Ballistic Missile Agency, combined in writing a paper "On The Economy of Recoverable Two-Stage Orbital Carrier Vehicles."

In this study, Koelle and Thomae pointed out that a fully re-

Library, the gym will be open from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., the bowling alley will have the same hours, the craft shop will be open from 8 a.m. to 4:50 p.m. and the Post Theatre will have three showings of the "Wreck of the Mary Dear" at 2 p.m. at 6:15 and 8:15 p.m.

The Rocket Service Club schedule begins at 9 a.m. with coffee call. The Club will be open all day for the enlisted men and their guests. Games will begin at 6:30 p.m. and last until 9:30 p.m.

coverable two-stage vehicle may prove economically superior to a three-stage orbital carrier system without or even with recovery. This evaluation, they said, is particularly so for high annual firing rates.

ABMA was further represented at the ARS meeting by Dr. Wernher von Braun, Director of ABMA's Development Operations Division, and Dr. Ernst Stuhlinger, Director of ABMA's Research Projects Laboratory.

As chairman of the national ARS membership committee, Dr. von Braun gave a report on the activities of his committee. Dr. Stuhlinger presented a paper on "The Advantages of Low Thrust Space Vehicles."

The keynote speaker will be Lt. Col. William Mulheron, Jr., from the office of the chief of Ordnance. Col. Mulheron will discuss the "Blue Streak" program and policies governing requisitioning procedures for supporting the customers, ultimately troops in the field.

Representatives from the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics, the Army Air Defense Command, the Continental Army Command, all Army areas, overseas supply agencies, the chief of Ordnance, the Ordnance Training Command, all Ordnance districts and key depots, and National Inventory Control Points will be among the policy makers at this conference.

AOMC was chosen host jointly by the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics and the Chief of Ordnance.

Announcement of the meeting was made by Col. Sylvester A. Hall, assistant chief of staff, Support Operations, AOMC.

Jupiter is to be deployed in Europe with the NATO Shield Forces. It is under the operational control of the U.S. Air Force.

Last week the Command disclosed a contract to the Chrysler Corp., which operates the Michigan Ordnance Missile Plant for the Army, to produce modified Jupiters for use as target missiles. The tactical Jupiters are turned out at the Michigan plant.

As a target missile, Jupiter will be employed in the development of the anti-missile system, Nike Zeus, also being supervised by the Army. It is planned to launch Jupiters which will simulate hostile IRBMs over a mid-Pacific range and thus to test the Zeus system capability to intercept and destroy the warheads.

The Jupiter development program was initiated at the Army Ballistic Missile Agency Feb. 1, 1956 when the Agency was activated for that express purpose. The development was conducted in-house but Chrysler, as prime contractor, and other industrial firms were brought in during the early stages to assist in production engineering aspects. As soon as the design of components and sub-systems had been finalized, a portion of the production responsibility was transferred to the contractor.

The Jupiter fired in May, 1957 was the first completely successful launching of an IRBM in the United States. Jupiter has contributed to the national space program also, transporting scientific experiments in its heat-protected nose cone, and serving as the booster unit of the Juno II vehicle which launched the Pioneer IV space probe that became the first made-in-the-USA satellite of the Sun and the Explorer VII scientific earth satellite. These launchings were sponsored by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

At the Service Club

DRAMATICS: A one act play entitled "Let's Get Married" taken from "Your Show of Shows" is now being rehearsed by members of the Show Production Group. Judy Jonakin will take the female lead; and Joe Rimsky is taking the male lead. The play is full of humor and you are sure to enjoy it. The play will be presented at intermission at one of the dances at an early date.

MUSIC: The Male Glee Club meets every Thursday night at the Service Club at 10:20 hours. The organization is enjoying part singing very much, but they would like to invite more singers to join the group. The greatest fun in the activity comes as the result of hours, days, months and years of practice. This group has just recently been organized and they are beginning to work on music for a public appearance. If you have a talent in this art join the group and enjoy the comradeship and unity you are sure to receive from the group. Bob Morgan is directing the Male Glee Club.

DANCE CLASSES: The Wednesday night dance classes will continue for six weeks and the next series will begin the first Wednesday night in January. Tango and fox trot will be on the agenda for the first series of the new year. Reservations are being accepted in the Service Club office now.

The Friday night waltz class will be discontinued until Dec. 4. This class will continue until December 18 and on January 8 a jitterbug class will be scheduled. The basic steps including the single and double lindy will be taught in this series of classes.

DANCE: "May I have this dance?"

The final dance for the month is Nov. 29 at 2000 hours. All Enlisted Men, who had birthdays during the month, will lead the line, and the Birmingham and Huntsville hostesses will serve coffee and birthday cake prior to the dance. Don't miss the first tango.

BINGO: Bingo is always popular and generally well attended at the Service Club every Monday night. All games are played from "straight" bingo to forming the letters E, F, X, P, B and others. You'll enjoy a nice cup of coffee and ten games of bingo Monday night so join the gang.

We will try Christmas Carol bingo during the holiday season; and we will also try some novelty bingo games soon. Don't miss a Monday evening playing bingo with your friends.

PARTIES: A fudge party is scheduled Nov. 27 at 2000 hours. Molly will be trying her favorite recipe again so do not miss this delightful affair.

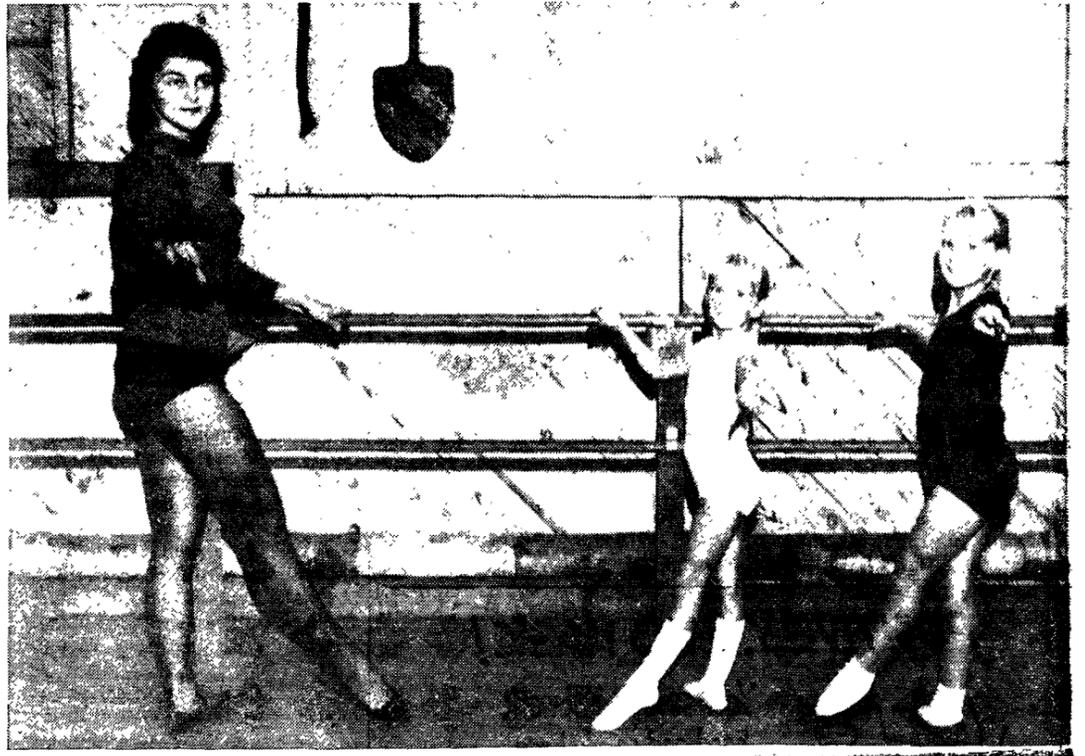

Nov. 28 is the date of the Monopoly and Scrabble Party. Select the game of your choice and join the crowd in the game room for an enjoyable evening. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

SLIDE NIGHT: Nov. 28 is "show your slide night," therefore, bring your best slides to the Service Club that night and let your friends take a wheelchair tour with you. Several boys have just returned from Europe and we trust that you will want to enjoy their slides.

TOURNAMENTS: Congratulations to Gerald Heck, winner of the monthly ping pong tournament. Aarous Brenncsons was the second place winner. Watch for the announcement regarding next months tournament.

CHILI SUPPER: The restaurant "La Fonda" was a very popular place Sunday night when the costumed waiters served 100 customers. The club lounge was decorated using the "South of the Border" theme and all implied that they felt as if they were in Mexico City for a gala fiesta.

BUFFET: The Rotary Club and Rotaryann "United Nations" Thanksgiving Buffet Supper was a very successful, well attended, elaborate affair. All of those in attendance were very grateful for an enjoyable evening. Approximately 30 Rotary Club Members attended the buffet and entertainment.

Following the buffet a group of students from Jacksonville State Teachers College presented a very impressive program consisting of native songs, dances and special numbers. The group, and the entertainment, was well received by all.

Hilding Holmberg's Orchestra was at its best for dinner music; and also for the dance which followed the special program.

SERVICE CLUB: The Service Club is having a face lifting since the departure of the Library and soon it will be equipped with many more facilities, and much more space for your enjoyment. Bear with us during the renovation and we will have much better accommodations at a very early date.

PRESSES ROLL—Herbert Maxwell operates one of the two large presses in the Reproduction Branch where nine million printed pages of material are produced each month. There are a number of smaller presses in the main plant and in strategic locations throughout Redstone Arsenal for units that produce material in quantity and cannot delay deadlines.

STACKS AND STACKS OF INFORMATION ROLL OFF PRESSES IN REPRODUCTION

The Reproduction Branch of the Redstone Arsenal Administration Division produces enough printed matter to fill 7,665 Webster's Collegiate dictionaries every month.

Nine million printed pages of textbooks, manuals and other printed items that concern the Army missile programs are reproduced in the main shop Bldg. 5688, and at branch offices in strategic locations where printed matter is needed in quantity in a hurry.

It takes $80,000 a month to operate this establishment on the Arsenal, and other $15,000 in contracts with commercial printers to fill the needs of the Army Ordnance Missile Command, it's three local elements: the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, the Army Rocket and Guided Missile Agency, Redstone Arsenal; and the Ordnance Guided Missile School.

A complement of 98 people, housed in the Reproduction headquarters, ABMA laboratories, the headquarters of AOMC and ARGMA and other strategic spots, keep the printed material moving into the hands of the "customers."

An order may consist of anything from charts and maps to textbooks used in classrooms at OGMS. Complicated drawings of missile component assemblies may lie beside piles of newly-printed Arsenal phone directories.

Engineering drawings are produced by diazo process, a method that has almost completely replaced the blueprint in all the government printing plants.

Every job is accepted under the regulations written by the joint Congressional Commission on printing. According to these regulations, color processing may be used to print a manual which will help clarify wiring diagrams and components of a missile system. It may not be used merely to beautify a brochure in which it is nonessential.

The Commission also governs every piece of equipment purchased by any Agency of the government.

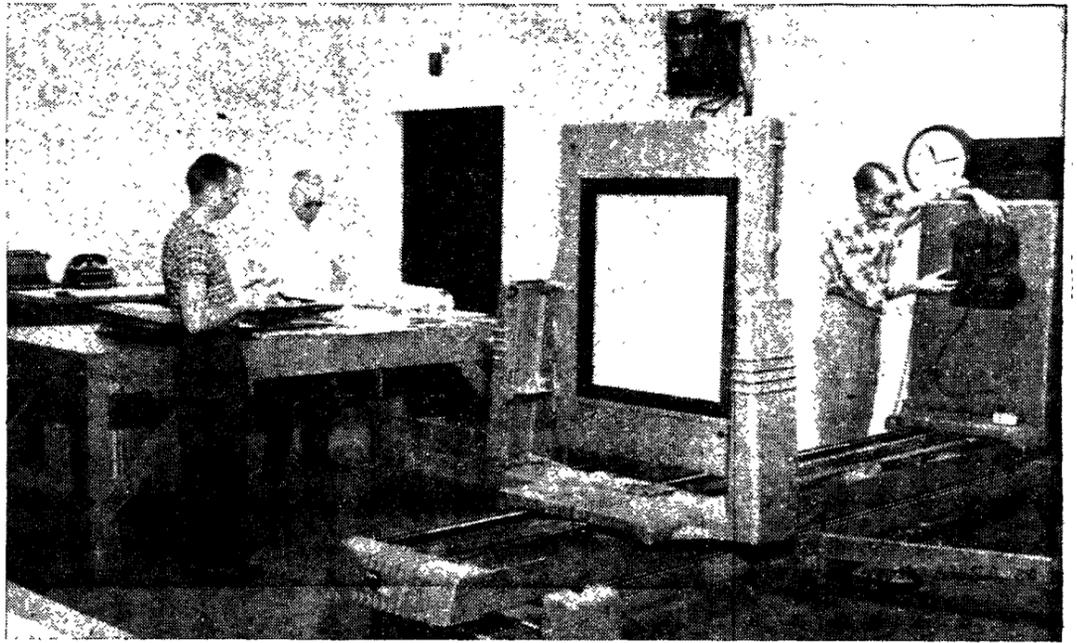

The Redstone Reproduction branch produces 40,000 photostats a month, and cover a scope of work ranging from original drawings to pages of books that cannot be obtained with enough speed to fill an immediate need.

Donald L. Voorhees, chief of Redstone Arsenal's Administration Division, and Post Adjutant.

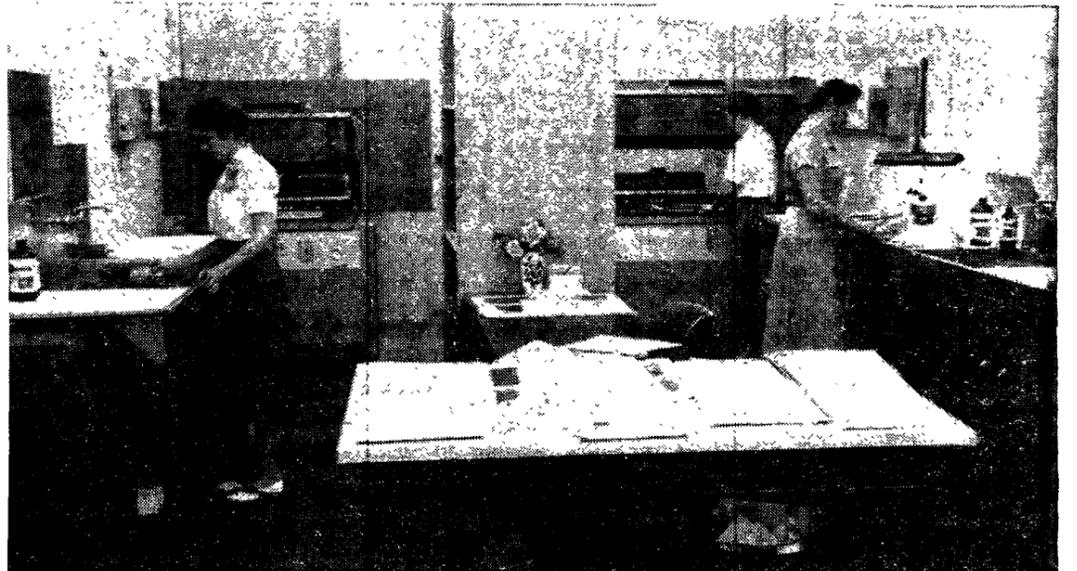

The chiefs on Tyson's staff include Wallace R. Phillips, chief of production control who allots the works and schedules printing according to a required deadline; Herman "Bud" McLearn, chief of the printing plant who assigns the printers, binders, and assemblers to produce the finished manuscript on schedule; Kelly Brown, chief of field operations, who sees that all goes smoothly in the field plants; and Clarice B. Norton, chief of the administrative section who keeps the office staff busy taking care of the paperwork detail for a large and bustling operation.

The principal customers are, the Army Guided Missile Agency, the Army Rocket Guided Missile Agency, the Army Ballistic Missile Agency and the Ordnance Guided Missile School. Services are also provided for the Air Force units stationed here and for Redstone Arsenal.

TESTIMONIAL: "Buying U. S. Savings Bonds has proven a great aid in the education of my two children and meeting unexpected financial emergencies." — Mr. L. E. F. (DA Civilian)

PLATES ARE MOUNTED—Plates are processed for the printers in the Reproduction Branch at Redstone Arsenal. These plates resemble a photo negative and are mounted in sequence for proper placement in a manuscript by the automatic folder. Air Force Dumps "B" Det ABMA

The 864th Air Force downed "B" Det ABMA in a hard fought contest to open this weeks action. This was one of the better games of the season and went down to the wire. ABMA opened the scoring in the first period when HB Tillery ran 5 yards for the score. The try for the PAT failed and ABMA led 6 to 0.

Early in the second quarter the Air Force came back to take the lead. QB Hackney passed 15 yards to his End Dellegar to register the PAT and give the Air Force a 8 to 6 advantage. This didn't last long as ABMA drove back with Wildermuth going the final 10 yards for the score. Mason passed to Klecka for the PAT and ABMA went ahead 14 to 3 as the half ended.

ABMA registered their third score in the third period when Tillery scampered 75 yards for the score. Klecka passed to Matthews for the PAT and ABMA held a 22 to 8 lead. The Air Force came back with a TD but missed the PAT and the quarter ended with the score ABMA 22 and Air Force 14.

Early in the fourth quarter the Air Force scored when "Choo Choo" Cameron rambled 75 yards for the score. Hackney hit Dellegar with a pass to register the PAT and put the game in a tie. The Air Force wrapped it up when Hackney hit Dellegar with a pass for the winning score. Barnett added insurance when he took a pass from Hackney for the PAT. The game ended with the score 864th Air Force 30 and "B" Det ABMA 22.

Garrison upsets 3rd ETD

A fired up ETD team upset Hq Det USAG in this weeks second game. Garrison hurt by the loss of key players was able to hold in the first half but could not contain the 3rd ETD in the second half.

Garrison opened the scoring in the first period when Lucas took a hand-off and went 30 yards for the score. They try for the PAT failed and the score was 6 to 0 with Garrison ahead. The ball changed hands the remainder of the first half with neither team able to score. 3rd ETD was held down on some fine kicking by Garrison's Cassidy when he put kicks out of bounds on ETD's 5, 8 and 12 yard line in this half.

The roof caved in when the 3rd ETD hit for three scores in the third period. The first score came when Bolman passed to Henry for the score. The playing covering 15 yards. The try for the PAT failed and the game was all tied up at 6-6. This didn't last long as ETD stormed back for a score with Henry going the final 3 yards after Garrison had held for three downs. The PAT again failed but the 3rd ETD had a 12 to 6 lead. The 3rd ETD hit for one more score in this quarter when Foster went 65 yards on a fine play. The PAT failed and the score at the end of the third period was 3rd ETD 18 and Garrison 6.

3rd ETD got the only score in the final quarter when Foster went 15 yards for the TD. The try for the PAT failed and a happy 3rd ETD team went home with a 24 to 6 victory.

UTC Dumps A Det OGMS

Hq. Det. UTC moved closer to the League Championship when they downed "A" Det. OGMS 32 to 8 in this weeks final game. UTC hit for two touchdowns in the first period, the first coming on a 25 yard pass play from Leonard to Fromveal. Leonard passed to Coago for the PAT and UTC led 8 to 0. UTC drove for their second score with Cialino going the final 2 yards for the score. Cordell ran for the PAT and the quarter ended with UTC in front 16 to 0.

UTC registered the only score in the second quarter when Leonard passed 25 yards to Parker. Leonard passed to Gaymon for the PAT and UTC held a comfortable 24 to 0 lead.

In the third quarter both teams tightened and the ball changed

Redstone 105-Pounders To Compete for City Championship Tomorrow

The undefeated Redstone 105-pound football team will play for the city championship at Goldsmith-Schiffman Field at 3 p.m. on Thanksgiving day.

Redstone has remained undefeated in 10 games this season, rolling up 133 points to the opponents 19.

Leading Redstone's hard-charging line again this year have been hand with neither team being able to score. UTC opened the fourth quarter with a score when Cialino passed 15 yards to Jordan. Cialino added the PAT with a run and UTC led 32 to 0. "A" Det. OGMS registered their only score of the game in the fourth quarter when Norton ran 60 yards. Ryan ran for the PAT and the game ended with Hq. Det. UTC winning over "A" Det. OGMS by a 32 to 8 margin.

Tim Koeneman and Bob Bucholz, two veteran All-City boys from last year's 105-pound team. Also outstanding in the hustling line have been center, Buddy Hufnagel, guard, Tom Dooley, and end, Keith Granger.

Crisp blocks and tackles have been noticeable this year as Redstone has limited all opponents to a stingy score.

One factor that has made Redstone so tough to handle is the balance in the backfield as indicated by the closeness of individual scoring. The team features a multiple offense using mostly the tee formation and the Notre Dame box.

Head Coach Lt. James Russell, states he has fair speed and an exceptional power and passing attack in the backfield. It is difficult to defense against a team that does not have an individual star but has a balanced attack of running and passing with each boy in turn cracking out yardage.

When the team has stalled on the ground, quarterback Mike Detchemendy takes to the air and hits one of his two favorite targets, Tim Koeneman or Keith Granger.

Grinding out the yardage on the ground have been Walker McGinnis, Bill DeLamarter, and Lans Broadhurst. The balanced scoring has been Granger 32, McGinnis 30, Broadhurst 24, and DeLamarter 23 thus far.

Offentimes, it's the mink in the closet that is responsible for the wolf at the door.

SAFE SUPERVISOR OF WEEK IS CLEM

T. J. Clem, supervisor, Storage Section, ABMA, Technical Materials and Equipment Branch, Raw Materials, has been selected by the Redstone Safety Division as this week's safe supervisor.

The selection was based upon information furnished by members of the Employee Safety Committee of the TM & E. Branch and employees under Clem's supervision who state, that his deep regard for the safety of personnel and equipment under his supervision more often reaches beyond the call of normal duty. Clem's interest and ability to control accidents through able supervision is further manifested through the record of a no-lost time injury by any employee under his supervision.

Clem was born in Athens, Ala. He served 34 months in the Army during World War II and was stationed in Europe. He joined the Redstone Team in 1951.

Clem advises that one of his techniques of safety supervision is, "Give the individual, who commits an unsafe act, a chance to explain why he does things that have been pointed out to be unsafe. Don't demand this. Instead explain that you are interested, concerned, and disturbed. You want information. You want to be fair. You want him to cooperate and be concerned about safety." Clem is married and has two children ages eleven and seven. The Clem's make their home at 413 Rodgers Street, Athens, Ala. Clem loves sports of all kinds but has an avid interest in football.

M/SGT. GREGORY RETIRES AFTER 22 YEARS' SERVICE

M/Sgt. Arnold W. Gregory recently retired from the Army after more than 22 years of active service. At the time of retirement he was a member of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency's Missile Firing Laboratory at Cape Canaveral, Fla., the organization which launches all of the Army's long range missiles and space vehicles.

During World War II, Gregory was a member of the 36th Division in Europe. His numerous decorations include the Combat Infantryman Badge with Star, Purple Heart with Oak Leaf Cluster, Bronze Star Medal and the Silver Star, the nation's highest honor for bravery in battle.

M/Sgt. Gregory recently received the ABMA Certificate of Achievement for his outstanding work as a member of the Military Support Office at Missile Firing Laboratory.

BASSLERS RETURN FROM VISIT TO BRITISH ISLES

Maj. Robert E. Bassler, Jr., Project Officer for several missile systems at the Atlantic Missile Range Army Field Office, and Mrs. Bassler, recently returned to Cape Canaveral after a visit to the British Isles.

In London, Maj. Bassler had a reunion with an old friend from his service in the Argentine, Maj. Gen. Walter Ahrens, retired. Gen.

War College Group Visits Canaveral

A group representing the National War College recently visited the ABMA Missile Firing Laboratory at Cape Canaveral.

try where he was previously employed.

Pressnell is married and makes his home at 101 Christopher Circle, Athens, Ala. The family is well rounded out with two girls ages seven and five. His main hobby is fishing. He is always ready to "Wet a Line" and from information received the "Big ones" don't get away.

Ahrens is the newly appointed Argentinian ambassador to Germany and stopped over on his way to his post at Bonn.

Maj. and Mrs. Bassler also visited with the Argentine Miltary Attache at the Argentine Embassy in London, Lt. Col. Julio E. Aguirre and Mrs. Aguirre. While in England they visited the cities of Cambridge, Canterbury, Salisbury, site of Stonehenge, the Druid monument and the site of the Battle of Hastings.

WSMR INSTALLS REMOTE TRACKING TELEVISION CHAIN

White Sands Missile Range, N. M. — Television has received a boost in the missile business through the 45 TV camera chains now being operated here by the U. S. Army Missile Support Agency. White Sands Missile Range is an element of the Army Ordnance Missile Command.

The latest development in the application of television to missile work is the Remotra (Remote tracking) system recently installed on the range by the Television Division of SMSA.

The Remotra system is located a mile north of the Army Blockhouse on the "yaw line" of most major missiles launched at White Sands. The yaw line is an imaginary line on the surface of the range with the same azimuth as the missile flight path.

Here, where it would be extremely dangerous to station a man to control an optical tracking device, Remotra's cold silent eye takes the risks and delivers the data.

The remote television camera is linked with the telescopic camera that is to evaluate the flight of the missile. In a safe area, the camera operator watches a monitoring screen that shows what Remotra's eye is seeing. Since this recording camera is mounted side by side in exact collimation with the TV screen, all the operator must do is to keep the remote TV camera "on" the missile to gather film data.

SMSA's Television Division, under the direction of Harold Lambeth, Roby Cathey, and Lt. Anthony V. Campi recently completed installation of six closed loop television systems in the Nike Zeus Complex.

These TV systems provide safe observation for the engineers developing America's missile killer during tests, preparations for firing, and surveillance of launch.

The 65 military and civilian technicians of the Television Division recently installed similar closed circuit TV systems in the Army Blockhouse, Army Launch Area No. 1, and the 500K static test stand.

Remote cameras at the static test stand observe flame characteristics of missile motors as they roar in tests, providing a detail-

Rees, Debus Given Fellow Memberships By Rocket Society

Washington, D. C.—Two top scientists of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency were honored today by the American Rocket Society "in recognition of their distinguished work in the field of rocketry or space flight or outstanding service to the Society."

Dr. Eberhard F.M. Rees and Dr. Kurt H. Debus were among 21 persons from throughout the United States awarded Fellow Membership by ARS at a luncheon today during the Society's fourteenth annual meeting here. Rees is deputy Director of ABed view of an area that would be unsafe for personnel.

MA's Development Operations Division, which is headed by Dr. Wernher von Braun. Debus is Director of the Division's Missile Firing Laboratory.

ABMA is an element of the Army Ordnance Missile Command, which has its headquarters at Redstone Arsenal, Ala. and is commanded by Maj. Gen. J. B. Medaris.

The number of memberships awarded this year represents a new high in the 14,000-member Society's history, and mirrors the sharp growth of the field of astronautics. Twelve memberships were presented last year.

As noted on the above chart, Arsenal personnel contributed $207,880, of which $181,329 will be given to Madison County.

ADVANTAGES OF ION ENGINES ARE OUTLINED BY DR. STUHLINGER

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The advantages of ion engines for space transportation were outlined today by Dr. Ernest Stuhlinger, Director of the Research Projects Laboratory, Army Ballistic Missile Agency, at the annual meeting of the American Rocket Society here.

Dr. Stuhlinger declared ion propulsion offers great usefulness because of the large payloads it can transport. He predicted electrically propelled vehicles would populate space by the 1970-1975 time period.

"However," he cautioned, "its application will remain limited to the space beyond any appreciable atmosphere."

Within Earth's atmosphere, he said, chemically fueled rockets are definitely superior because of their much larger thrust potential.

Dr. Stuhlinger described a basic ion system. It would employ a nuclear power supply, an energy conversion plant transforming the heat of fast nuclear fission into electric power, an ion source and electric thrust chambers.

Dr. Stuhlinger envisaged these possible uses for ion propulsion systems as the space program moves forward:

1. To lift heavy payloads from low satellite orbit into high orbit. For example, a payload of 50 tons could be transported from an orbit of 400 kilometers above the Earth to 40,000 kilometers in about 23 days with a propulsion system weighing only 22 tons. The "low truck" could return to the low orbit in six days and be ready to boost another cargo. The system would develop 4.5 megawatt electric power.

2. Transportation of a manned satellite, after its assembly in an orbit close to Earth, to an altitude of 22,300 miles. Faster, chemical rockets would carry the crew from Earth's surface through the Van Allen Belt of high radiation activity to a rendezvous point with the ion "ferry."

3. To power a ferry system that can propel heavy payloads to the Moon. Dr. Stuhlinger expressed the conviction that there will be a human colony on the Moon which would require food, Oxygen, building materials and exploration equipment. For a payload of 100 tons, he said, the "ferry" would weigh 36 tons and would require 52 days to reach the Moon and eight days for the return trip.

4. Manned flights to Mars or Venus. The Mars could transport a payload of 150 tons and would have a total initial mass of 435 tons. The trip would require 300 days, and the return trip would last 260 days, allowing ample cargo room for samples collected on the planet.

5. An unmanned probe with a payload of a ton could be placed in satellite orbit around Jupiter 1.5 years after it left the Earth. Take-off mass would be about 5.5 tons. A similar probe to Saturn could achieve orbit in about 2.5 years.

"If we compare chemically powered and electrically powered vehicles and ask their relative merits," Dr. Stuhlinger added "we find a very definite advantage on the side of the chemical system—it exists. Electric systems have not had a failure yet, but they cannot either score one successful flight. It will take a few years before the first electric engine operates in space and some more years before we can think of entrusting human passengers to an electric ship to Mars."

FIVE YEARS AGO: The Army's 259th FA Missile Bn (CORPORAL) completed training at Fort Bliss, to become (Nov. 1954) the first operational US ballistic missile unit.

MEET YOUR LAWYER

You should want to meet your lawyer, for often he can be one of your best friends. You may not know him at all, and if you do, you probably don't see him nearly as often as you should.

Who is this man — your attorney? He is a member of an old and honored profession. Twenty-one of his fellow attorneys have become presidents of the United States, and his is the profession that regularly supplies more Congressmen, Senators, jurists and distinguished statesmen than any other.

The business world is also filled with top-ranking executives who began their careers as lawyers. Wherever a trained mind and good character are important, the legal profession is well represented. The lawyer turns up in many other important posts where you might not expect to find him — for instance, every FBI agent must be a graduate of a resident law or accounting school.

Attorneys Are Specialists

Most people are neither doctors or lawyers, yet people who would never think of attempting surgery on themselves frequently undertake to handle legal matters which can be just as hazardous to their pocket books as a self-diagnosis is to their health.

Since only the more "dramatic" court room trials make news, we naturally hear and read more about attorneys in the headline cases. Few people realize that over 90 percent of all lawyers' services are performed far from the court rooms. The attorney's function is to prevent legal trouble — to make sure that ignorance of proper legal procedures does not lead to lawsuits.

Most people lead quiet, uncomplicated lives and naturally feel they don't need attorneys — until, in some cases, it is too late and much more difficult and expensive than it would have been had counsel been sought beforehand.

Commonplace Examples

Let's consider just a few examples of the common-place things that can happen to all of us — things you should talk over with your attorney in order to keep your life quiet and uncomplicated.

In agreements with friends involving money, remember that people easily forget the exact terms of an agreement. Failing memories on such occasions may cost money or destroy friendship — or both. Consult your attorney, and he can draw a simple contract that will save you time, money and your friendships.

Except for cash transactions, most important purchases require your signature on a legal document. Read all legal forms carefully, no matter what you are told. If you find words you don't understand, consult your attorney before you sign.

Buying A House

Most of us either buy or sell a house at least once, and many go through several such transactions. When you do, consult your attorney. Only an attorney can be sure that earnest money contracts, contracts of sale, abstracts, and other documents say what you think they say.

Not all accidents happen to "other people." When you are involved in any accident that results in property damage or personal injury to yourself or to others — consult your attorney. His knowledge applied to protect your interests may save you king-sized headaches later on.

We become involved with taxes sooner or later — and all taxes, whether income, estate, inheritance, gifts, sales, excise, or other, are imposed by law. Your lawyer will know the tax laws and his counsel on your business affairs can help you avoid unnecessary tax liabilities.

Adoptions

The adoption and rearing of children entails certain responsibilities of great importance both to the adopting parents and the child. Consult your attorney, and see that all necessary legal steps are taken to prevent trouble later on.

If you own property and care who gets it after your death, consult your attorney. Perhaps you think a handwritten or "home-made" will is all you need, if it is signed and witnessed. It may be but not unless certain procedures prescribed by law are followed.

The court records are full of cases where a deceased's wishes could not be determined or fulfilled because of an improperly prepared will. No matter how simple you think your estate problem is, consult your attorney and let him make sure your will does what you think it does.

If someone owes you money and you haven't been paid, consult your attorney. The mere fact that you see your lawyer about past due or apparently uncollectable debts doesn't necessarily mean a lawsuit. Your attorney knows that lawsuits are resorted to only after everything else has failed to effect a collection. A simple letter from your lawyer may suffice.

If not, he knows of successive steps that should be taken to spare you the expense and inconvenience of a lawsuit. If a suit is necessary, he knows best how it should be done.

These are only a few examples of the many day-to-day problems your attorney can help you with — and at reasonable costs which, in most cases, can be accurately determined in advance.

You Can Gamble

There is, of course, an alternative to seeing your attorney about possible legal questions. You can gamble that you know the answers, or if you don't that somehow trouble will always happen to somebody else — not to you. But statistics show that it is often and sadly true that this gamble is lost — and by those with the most at stake — or by those who can least afford to lose.
