Two Army Missile Command scientists have been promoted to "super grades" under provisions of Public Law 313.

They are John P. Hallows, Jr., director of the Physical Sciences Laboratory, and Delman E. Rowe, director of the Electromagnetics Laboratory, both under the Directorate of Research and Development.

The pair received notification of their promotions last week from

School Value Is $73 Million

"The Army Ordnance Guided Missile School is now officially valued at $73,000,000 as it begins observance of its tenth anniversary," Col. William J. Macpherson, commandant, told the Huntsville Rotary Club yesterday.

This is equal to the combined plant value of the University of Alabama, Auburn University and Birmingham - Southern, Howard, Florence State and St. Bernard Colleges, he said.

Col. Macpherson used slides to trace the expansion of the Missile School from its first class of seven students taught by one instructor in an old ammunition loading shed.

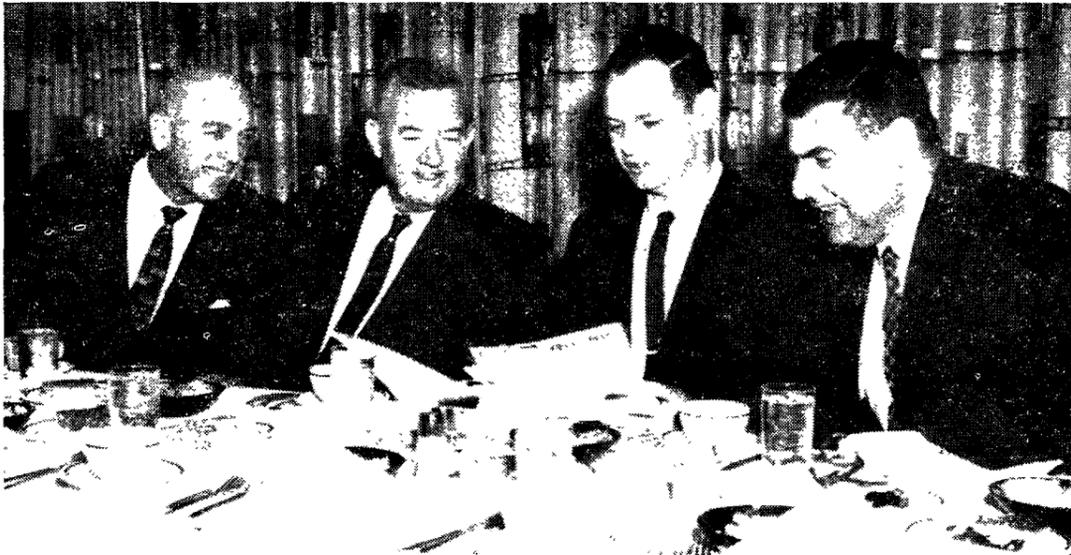

The school now has a faculty of 600 instructors who annually train some 5,000 students from the U.S. (See SCHOOL on Page 2)

Holidays To Last 4 Days

President John F. Kennedy declared a four-day Christmas weekend for all Federal employees except those needed for maintenance and security of the post.

The presidential directive designates Monday, Dec. 24 as a holiday not chargeable to leave. New Year's Day is a holiday.

Maj. Gen. F. J. McMorrow, Commanding General of the Army Missile Command said, "All personnel desiring leave may have the request honored consistent with operational requirements. However, one-half of the unit, including either the chief or his deputy, will be on duty during all regularly scheduled work periods."

Martin Road Extension Await Official Approvals

Opening of the Martin Road extension across U. S. 231 to Whitesburg Drive awaits final contractors release and acceptance by Federal-state highway inspectors, J. B. Vinson, Alabama Highway Department resident engineer, announced.

The 2.076 mile project is tentatively scheduled to open Friday, Dec. 14.

Vinson said recent rain and freezing temperatures have hampered the contractors' completion of the roadway and bridges in the Arsenal link.

There are two bridges in the connecting roadway, one over U. S. 231, and the other just east over Southern Railway tracks.

The road is being constructed by Ashburn and Gray, Huntsville, and the bridge contractor is W. O.

Smith, Burkville.

Col. R. M. Allgeier, Chief of Intelligence and Security at the U. S. Army Missile Support Command, said there will be no special traffic flow during morning and evening rush hours.

There are presently some 3,500 cars using the Martin Road extension during a 24-hour period, Capt. Daniel R. Holt, acting Provost Marshal, said.

Capt. Holt stated the extension traffic is expected to increase to 4,500 automobiles when the new NASA office building on Rideout Road opens next month. Many of the expected new Martin Road users presently work in NASA offices in downtown Huntsville and will be coming to work on Redstone Arsenal for the first time when the new building opens.

Right turns only will be permitted in the U. S. 231-Martin Road interchange. Capt. Holt said the new thoroughfare will eliminate left turns across South Parkway traffic lanes.

Northbound traffic on U. S. 231 now must make a left turn to get on Martin Road and vehicles leaving the new main Arsenal entrance have to be stopped before crossing the southbound lanes of U. S. 231. This will be the first time there has been direct access from Whitesburg Drive onto Martin Road.

The state highway project is the last phase of a new network connecting the Arsenal's main artery to U. S. 231 and Whitesburg Drive. The Army recently completed an interchange at Martin and Patton roads on the Arsenal. Martin Road is a four-lane highway extending (See MARTIN ROAD on Page 3)

NEW SERIES BEGINS

The Hawk

In the second section of The Rocket this week, a new series on Project and Commodity Officers begins. The missiles will be introduced in alphabetical order. The first of the series is the HAWK.

SANTA ARRIVES EARLY—Santa dropped in at Toyland early as a part of the preparation for the Christmas party at which he will appear on Dec. 21 at the Rocket Auditorium and the Post Theater. Santa wanted to be sure arrangements were nearly complete for his visit. While here he conferred with Sharon Asselin, daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. Henry Asselin, and David Beavers, son of Lt. and Mrs. Guy M. Beavers, about their Christmas orders. This Santa is SP5 Donald D. Hamilton from the 291st MPs.

Bloodmobile Has Large Quota Due To Accident Rate

Only a few hours remain for Redstone personnel to reach the most ambitious quota ever established for a visit by the Red Cross Bloodmobile.

The unit is established at Building 7119 until 3 p.m. this afternoon seeking 1000 pints of blood. Volunteers are sought from every organization at the Arsenal.

The increased quota has been established in expectation of the normally high accident rate during the coming holiday season.

Stay Alive

"Operation Stay Alive," now in full sway at the Arsenal, is generally conceded to be a drive to emphasize driving safety throughout the holiday season. While this is a very important part of the overall campaign, there is another phase that is held in equal importance.

This is the potential hazards that exist right in the home—hazards that can be attributed to carelessness alone. All of us have a tendency to let well enough alone even to the extent of allowing obviously frayed electric cords or overloaded switchboxes go for a few more days.

Naturally our intentions are always good, and we will get at them the first chance we get. But as often as not, this first chance comes after the damage has been done and a disastrous fire has given us cause to stop and think about the little things that had been put off so casually.

The winter months, and especially the holiday season, puts an especially heavy load on our electrical systems and as a result is the time of year when we are most vulnerable for a disastrous fire.

For this reason each of us should make a careful home inspection and eliminate all of the potential hazards that might cause a fire which would change holidays to horror, just as an automobile accident would.

Alabama - 143 Years Ago

One hundred forty-three years ago Friday, Huntsville and North Alabama stood on the frontier of a new era. On that date, Alabama was admitted as the 22nd state in the Union.

This is a special day for people of this section of the state, because today's "Space Capital of the Universe" was where Alabama's first constitutional convention and first legislative sessions were held. Huntsville was the first capital of the state.

From the time when it stood as the frontier of a young and expanding country, Alabama has played a prominent role in the great American drama that has seen this nation become the leader of the Free World. As we stand on the threshold of space, the entire world has eyes focused on this state and on Huntsville in particular.

Although the seat of the state government has long since been moved, Huntsville is still a frontier town—a frontier from which man will spring into outer space to explore the universe.

Alabamians are favored with a proud heritage deeply rooted in the soil from which has grown the greatest nation on earth. But the past is for the books. The future holds even greater promise. It is certainly with pride that the Army Missile Command and Redstone Arsenal congratulate Alabama on this anniversary. It is with anticipation that we look forward to its continuing progress and growth.

Management Man Says Scientists Are Not Scarce

One leading Army management expert contends there is no serious shortage of scientific skills which other authorities say are critically scarce.

Dr. Lawrence W. Wallace, of Rock Island Arsenal, Ill., and a senior member of the Ordnance Manpower Engineering Program, made this statement to 400 members of the staff and faculty of the Army Ordnance Guided Missile School last week.

He spoke at the monthly Officers' Call conducted by Col. William J. Macpherson, OGMS commandant, as part of the Troop Information program.

"What we are short on is a top management decision to supply the scientifically talented people with enough administrative supcrackerjacks to the younger children. Military Policemen will be on duty to handle all traffic control at all four of the parties.

The NCO Wives Auxiliary and the Redstone Arsenal Officers Wives Club will decorate the theater and Rocket Auditorium for the events.

The NCO Club is furnishing men to help distribute the toys to both locations.

port to enable them to devote full time to research," Dr. Wallace said.

Both industry and government are afflicted with "too much analysis and too little synthesis," he said.

There are 101 separate agencies of the government working in the field of missiles and rockets, he declared, and many of them arrive at different decisions based on the same set of facts.

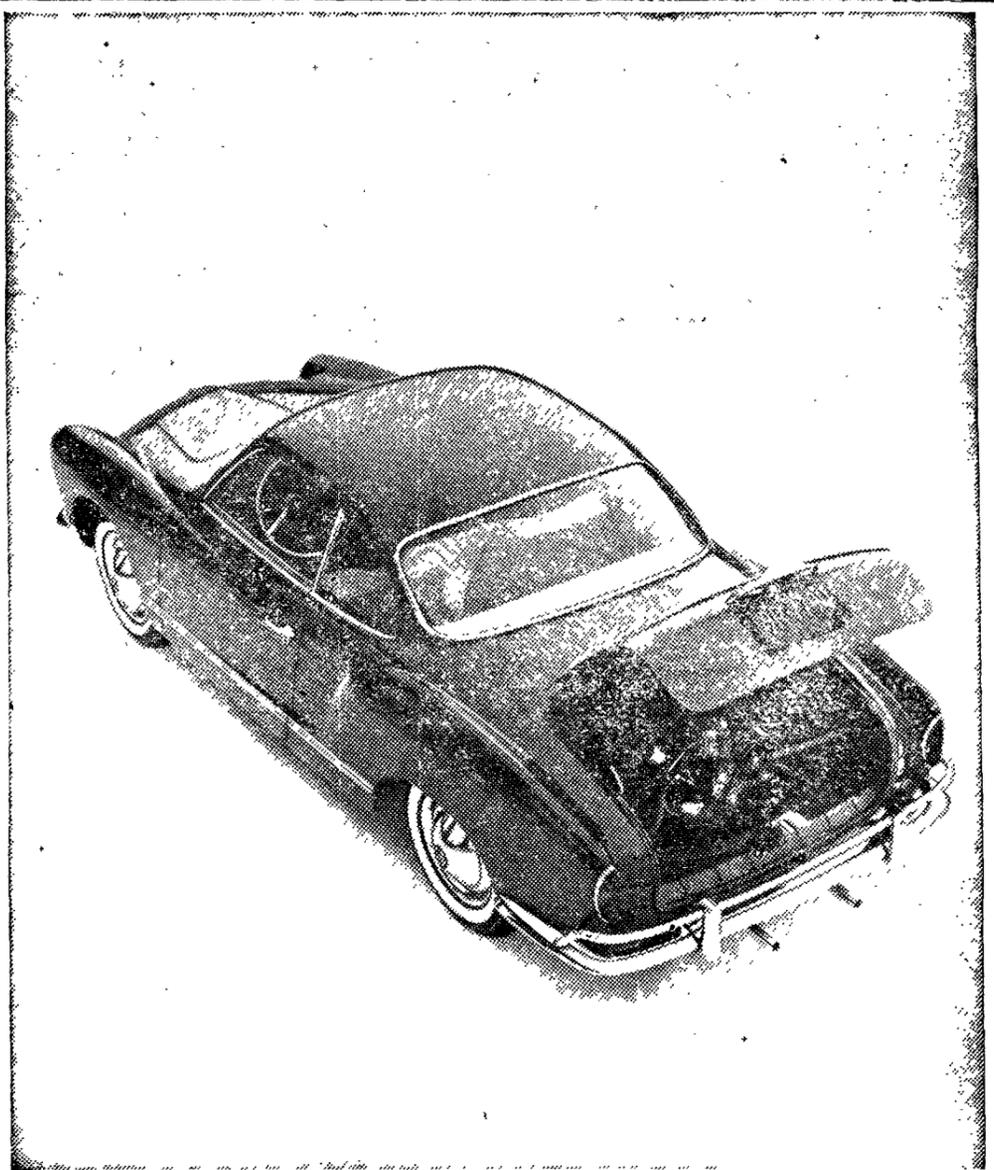

Dr. Wallace said the nation's managers let their minds idle about half the time. He told the Army officers they could "revolutionize" the efficiency of their organizations if they stepped up their use of brainpower by only 10 percent.

"Most managers talk too much instead of listening. If the Lord had intended this to happen, he would have given us two tongues and only one ear," Dr. Wallace said.

A Volkswagen built for 2. It's the VW Karmann Ghia. It wasn't brought up with the other VWs at all. Ghia of Turin designed it as a runabout. With lines so sculptured half the work has to be done by hand.

So Volkswagen called in one of the finest coachmakers in Europe, Karmann of Osnabrück. Where it takes 185 men for the handwork on the body alone. Every seam is welded, filed and sanded by hand.

It corners with any sports car. And holds the worst barreletop roads at 70. But don't let its prima donna look fool you. The engine and chassis are right out of the Volkswagen Sedan. No $100 carburetors. No $40 tuneups.

OPERATION STAY ALIVE PAYS OFF—in more ways than one. Max L. Carder, of the Supply and Maintenance Directorate, is the first winner in the safety card drawing that is held in conjunction with Operation Stay Alive on the Arsenal. Carder became the recipient of a handsome cigarette lighter when his lucky pedestrian safety card was drawn on November 30, first day of the contest. Wallace Phillips, a member of the Stay Alive committee, makes the presentation, while Carder's supervisor in Procedures, Section 2, looks on.

CONGRESSMAN VISITS—Congressman Joe M. Kilgore, (D-Tex.) visited Redstone Arsenal last week and received a briefing on Army Missile Command work by Brig. Gen. H. P. Persons, Deputy Commanding General, Air Defense Systems. Rep. Kilgore, of McAllen, Tex., is a member of the Subcommittee on Military Operations, House Committee of Government Operations. contest is open to any military or civilian employe of AMICOM, MS-FC, OGMS and contractors. Some winners have already been announced in the pedestrian safety card program which runs through Jan. 4. Prizes are cigarette lighters. Winning card numbers are announced in the Daily Bulletin. Deadline for the Junior Miss and Mister Holiday Safety slogan contest is 3 p.m., Friday, Dec. 14. This contest is open to children of military personnel stationed at Redstone. Special posters, displays, flyers and series-type highway signs are appearing throughout the Arsenal, reminding employes that safety is dependent upon each individual. Military Policemen are stopping Arsenal motorists and awarding courteous driving citations to deserving drivers. A list of these recipients will be published at the end of Operation Stay Alive. Arrangements are being made by individual organizations on the installation to show employes special films on highway safety.

Judge Advocate Offers 'Ounce Of Prevention'

According to the old adage "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." Col. George C. Eblen and his staff in the Army Missile Command's Judge Advocate Office take it seriously.

Like safety men, the newly organized staff now has a Soldiers Advocate Section to assure the ounce of prevention. The work formerly done by three sections, defense counsel, legal assistance and preventive law is now in this section. The Soldiers Advocate helps before real trouble develops rather than waiting until the soldier needs a defense counsel.

Two lawyers are handling this, SP4 John Brandow from Albany, N. Y., and Lt. George C. Lackey from Salem, Ill.

Working in this section, they can't be trial lawyers or represent the government on boards because their duties will bring them into close contact with the people who need advice to keep out of debt, make contracts, and prevent law trouble.

A part of their effort is in their approach to Troop Information disseminated to all units at Redstone Arsenal.

The idea was developed at Ft.

Leonard Wood, Mo., and approved by the Judge Advocate General, who okayed an option and adaptation to use or not to use this approach. The program is not identical on every post, but is tailored to the needs of the area.

Any military family with problems involving domestic life, wills, insurance, taxes or any of the multifold problems that families subject to move on short notice face, can apply to the men in the Soldiers Advocate Section for assistance in solving the problem.

"For instance," Lt. Lackey said, "families with homes near Army posts often need to sell on short notice. Transfers of mortgages to new owners can be expedited by seeking the advice of either of the men in the division without cost to the military owner."

These lawyers are ready to aid survivors, obtain the benefits accrued by military members as safeguards for families.

Both men were practicing lawyers in their home states, members of the respective Bar Associations of the state.

As trained members of the Army, they are also conversant with military justice and can advise on "do's" and "don't's".

When they are transferred or released from service there will be others to take their place in this program.

Any soldier or his dependents can seek advice on anything from a contract for a new refrigerator to how much insurance and what kind will best protect a family. They also have information covering taxation in all of the 50 United States.

In fact almost any situation that has laws governing it, short of an out and out crime, will be handled by the Soldiers Advocate.

SOLDIERS ADVOCATE—Lt. George C. Lackey and SP4 John E. Brandow staff the Soldiers Advocate Section of the Judge Advocate Office at the Army Missile Command. The recently formed section replaces three counseling services under the old organization: Lt. Lackey is a native of Illinois and SP4 Brandow a native of New York. Each belongs to the Bar Association in his home state.

Twenty-one years ago Dec. 7th, shock hit the States. Now after 21 years Redstone Arsenal Bowling Lanes was "shook" to the foundation. June Handy, member of the HIT 'N' MISSES team in the Thursday Morning Ladies League bowled a scratch 600 series of three games. She bowled a 221-201-178 series.

Handy is the first woman to hit the 600 series since the opening of the Lanes in '58. With her handicap, Handy's series came to 690, and she has worked for it over the past few years. She deserves credit for her perseverance. Handy's house space is limited because of trophies she has won including many championships. Her aim is to make a name at one of the State Championships or higher. She bowls in two leagues at the present time, Thursday Morning Ladies at Redstone and Monday Morning Ladies at the Plamor in Huntsville. Her average is 150 or better.

Garden Club Holds Annual Luncheon

Christmas trees and golden bells, tinsel wreaths and sleighs holding confections will decorate the U. S. Army Hospital through the efforts of members of the Redstone Arsenal Officers Wives Garden Club.

The decorations were assembled at the annual lunch of the club at the Squirrel Hill Officers Club on Dec. 4.

For the third consecutive year the 55th Army Band played for the event. Mrs. DeWitt Mytinger, wife of CWO Mytinger, the Band director, was a guest in the clarinet section of the band.

Most of the music was old Christmas standard tunes played from Morton Gould arrangements. The music ended with a "sing-along" following a harmony of bells by the band.

The lunch was held in the Hawk Room which was decorated with many of the hanging arrangements which will later be used at the hospital.

Co-chairmen for the lunch were Mrs. James Cobb and Mrs. Phillip Burleson.

Approximately 50 women attended the event.

Holiday Cooking Not Designed For Dieting

'Round-The-World' Flavor Found In Prize Recipes

Different holiday traditions prevail around the world, and many of them have come to the crossroads on Redstone Arsenal—especially where recipes are concerned. Recipes from just a few of our best cooks have been solicited and are offered for your consideration.

Mrs. Curtis Ferrell, whose husband is Lt. Col. Ferrell of the Directorate of Supply and Maintenance, has some favorite recipes from her home land, France.

It is the tradition on Christmas Eve in France to serve a "Yule Log" made as follows:

YULE LOG

Butter a large baking sheet, line with waxed paper and butter the paper. Beat five egg yolks until light and fluffy. Add 1 cup finely granulated sugar, three tablespoons cocoa. Beat until mixture is very thick and light. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in 350 degree oven for 15 minutes. Be careful not to over bake. Test with knife to determine doneness. Take from oven and cover with a damp towel for half an hour. Loosen from baking sheet. Dust with cocoa. Then turn on a sheet of waxed paper, remove paper from bottom. Spread with mocha cream (recipe below). Next spread with a layer of 1 cup of cream which has been whipped with ½ cup of sugar. Then roll cake carefully.

Sojourners Install 1963 Officer Slate

The 1963 slate of officers of Redstone Chapter No. 353, National Sojourners was installed Dec. 7, by Brig. Gen. Harry R. Kutz, USA, (Ret.) of St. Petersburg, Fla.

The ceremony followed the installation banquet which was served at the Arsenal Officer's Club.

Maj. Rudolph D. White of the Guided Missile School was installed as President. Serving with him are Maj. Phillip E. Burleson, First Vice President; Maj. Paul A. Pencola, Second Vice President; CWO John C. Dodd, Third Vice President;

Raymond B. Bates, Col. USAR, Secretary; Glen B. Keith, Lt. Col. (Ret.) Treasurer; William P. McNutt, Lt. Col. USAR, Chaplain; Grady S. Pepper, Lt. Col. USAR, Historian;

Joseph A. Justin, Maj. USAR, Marshall; Maj. John Miller, Deputy Marshall; Color Bearers are Capt. Kenneth Shave, Capt. Ernest F. Schick, and Lt. Col. Leland G. Ewalt.

Wives Bridge Club Holds 'Party Day'

Reservations for the party day being staged by the Party Bridge Group at the Squirrel Hill Officers Club tomorrow are being handled by Mrs. M. J. Dooley.

This will be the second and last meeting of the month for the club.

At the regular bridge session last Thursday, Mrs. D. A. Morgan was declared the winner with second place going to Mrs. J. D. Mullins. Mrs. Don French was the third place winner.

'PATENT-ABLY SPEAKING'

David Ward, engineer with the Army Missile Patent Center, captured the first place trophy last week at the Redstone Toastmasters 1932 meeting at the Squirrel Hill Officers Club.

Ward's speech was titled "Patent-ably Speaking." He touched on all aspects of his business, including the humorous incidents.

Bill Appleton was Toastmaster of the evening.

Put on platter. Cover with mocha cream.

MOCHA CREAM

Cream one cup butter with ½ cup sugar, flavor with two teaspoons strong coffee, 1 teaspoon dark cocoa. After covering the "log", use a fork to mark it in imitation of tree bark. Decorations may be made with the mocha cream to simulate typical whorls and knots on the "bark."

Another favorite French recipe from Mrs. Ferrell is stuffing for the turkey.

TURKEY STUFFING

Chop very fine one pound of fresh fat pork and one pound of lean pork. Add one teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoonful poultry seasoning, one pound of chestnuts roasted and shelled, then cooked again until tender and chopped, one pound fresh bread crumbs. Toss all together lightly and sprinkle on ¼ cup Madeira or Sherry. Stuff bird and bake as usual.

A recipe for tasty holiday bread comes from Mrs. Harry F. Vincent, wife of the Project Director at the Directorate of Research and Development.

DILLY BREAD

1 pkg. active yeast or 1 pkg. compressed yeast
¼ cup warm water
1 cup cream cottage cheese heated until lukewarm
2 tbsp sugar
1 tbsp instant minced onion
1 tsp butter
1 unbeaten egg
2 tsp dill seed
2¼ to 2½ cups flour
1 tsp salt
¼ tsp soda

Combine salt, yeast in water. Combine yeast with cottage cheese, sugar, onion, butter, dill, salt, soda and egg. Add flour gradually to form stiff dough. Beat after each addition. Cover and let rise 50 to 60 minutes in warm place (85 degrees to 90 degrees F.) until dough is light and double in size. Press down and turn into well-greased casserole dish, approximately two quarts in size. Let rise 30 to 40 minutes until light. Bake at 350 degrees for 40 minutes until brown. Brush with butter and sprinkle with salt, serve warm.

A recipe that seems to fulfill the requirement for both salad and the cranberries to accompany the turkey came from an anonymous source.

CRANBERRY SALAD

2 cups cranberries cooked in water to cover with ½ cup sugar. Add 1 pkg. lemon gelatin to hot cranberries.

After this cools, add 1 cup to-kay grapes (seeded), ½ cup drained crushed pineapple, ½ cup chopped pecans.

This makes an attractive molded salad, as individual molds or in one large mold. If a ring mold is used, center may be filled with a fruit salad dressing.

For serving before Christmas dinner, or during holiday parties, there are two hors d'oeuvres recipes which are handy because they may be fixed well ahead of serving time.

Mrs. William J. Macpherson's Shrimp Remoulade is a refreshing and savory dish. Col. Macpherson is the Commandant of the Ordnance Guided Missile School.

SHRIMP REMOULADE

Shell and de-vein three pounds of cooked shrimp. Combine ¼ cups of salad oil, ½ cup prepared mustard, 1/3 cup white wine vinegar, two teaspoons each of salt, paprika and hot pepper sauce.

Beat until well blended and add two chopped hard cooked eggs, one cup finely chopped celery, ¼ cup finely chopped parsley, two tablespoons chopped scallions, and one tablespoon finely chopped green pepper. Add shrimp and toss well. Cover and place in refrigerator for at least 12 hours. Stir once after about four hours, and again one hour before serving. Drain off and discard extra marinade. Serve in bowl as hors d'oeuvres.

The wife of the Chief of the Training and Development Division in the Civilian Personnel Office, Mrs. John Hinkle, fixes an hors d'oeuvres which is good any season.

HOT OLIVE HORS D'OEUVRES

½ cup butter
1 cup flour
2 cups shredded sharp cheese
1/8 tsp salt

About 80 pimento stuffed olives. Mix the first four ingredients, roll into a ball, cover with waxed paper and place in the refrigerator for two hours to chill and blend flavors. Remove from refrigerator and take off one small piece at a time (enough to cover one olive) and work and knead in.

An attractive and delicious candy Mrs. John D. Keeling makes every Christmas is a no-cook fondant. CWO Keeling is assigned in the Supply and Maintenance Directorate.

NO COOK FONDANT

1/3 cup butter or oleo
1/3 cup red label (white) corn syrup
1/2 tsp salt
1 tsp vanilla
3 1/2 cups sifted confectioners sugar

Place butter in mixing bowl and allow to reach room temperature. Blend butter, syrup, salt and vanilla in large mixing bowl. Add the sugar all at once. First mix with spoon and then with hands, kneading in dry ingredients until smooth. Turn onto board and continue kneading until mixture is smooth. This makes about 1-1/3 pounds of candy. The ball of "dough" may be divided into sections and different shades of fruit coloring worked into each portion. Of course, red and green are the colors for adding at Christmas. The candy is good with nuts and/or coconut mixed in. It may be used to stuff dates, or shaped into "logs" about an inch long.

Several tried and true holiday recipes were submitted by a well-known culinary artist Mrs. Thomas W. Cooke, whose husband heads the Army Missile Support Command. Her library of recipes covers the favorite dishes of many famous people. Here are some of her best for the Christmas season!

BAKED OYSTER AUX CRONTES

1/2 cup butter
1 quart bread crumbs
Salt and cayenne pepper
1 pint raw oysters, drained
1/2 lemon
1 small onion
1/2 cup cream
Paprika

The directions say to remove the crusts from the bread, but Mrs. Cooke says she doesn't do that. Whether you remove the crusts or not, cut the bread in 1/4 inch cubes, melt half the butter in a large skillet and add half the bread. Sprinkle with salt and cayenne and toss lightly over low heat until cubes are crisp and golden brown. Saute remaining bread in butter and season.

Cover bottom of baking dish with bread cubes, add 1/2 of the oysters, sprinkle with salt and cayenne, and add a few drops of lemon juice and a bit of grated onion.

Keep adding bread and oysters in layers, topping with bread cubes. Pour cream over all and sprinkle with paprika. Bake in a moderate 325 degree oven for one hour. This dish may be prepared several hours ahead of time before baking. This serves six.

A nice confection to serve with fresh fruit or tea is chocolate fudge date chews.

CHOCOLATE FUDGE DATE CHEWS

Mix together in a bowl in order given:

1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup white sugar
1/2 cup ground chocolate or cocoa
3/4 cup sifted flour
1/4 tsp baking powder
1 cup pitted dates cut into bits
1/2 to 1 cup of walnuts
1/2 cup coconut if desired
2 well beaten eggs

Spread mix in oiled pan and bake 30 to 40 minutes in 325 degree to 350 degree oven. Test doneness with toothpick. Remove from oven and cut into squares while hot, but leave in pan until cool. If an oiled paper was used in pan, this may be lifted out to speed cooling, or the pan may be placed on a damp towel for three or four minutes. When cooled, store in a tightly covered can.

A festive looking, and easy to do cake is another of Mrs. Cooke's holiday recipes.

BUTTER CRUNCH CAKE RING

8 to 10 servings
1/4 cup butter
1/3 cup brown sugar firmly packed
1/2 cup broken walnut meats

canned or frozen
 Proceed in this order:
 Grease 10 inch ring mold
 Break butter in small pieces and place in bottom of mold,
 Sprinkle brown sugar and walnuts over butter,
 Prepare cake mix as directed and pour into mold (red food coloring may be added to mix).
 Bake in a moderate 325 degree oven 45 to 50 minutes. Remove from pan at once and cool. Whip cream and fold in fruit. Fill center of ring with this cream and fruit mixture.

Mrs. Harry F. Ennis makes the following for the holidays. Capt. Ennis is with the Supply and Maintenance Directorate:

ORANGE CAKE

1 pkg of dates chopped
 1 cup pecans chopped
 4 cups sifted flour
 1 cup shortening
 2 cups sugar
 4 eggs, separated
 1½ cups buttermilk
 1 tsp soda
 2 tbsp grated orange peel
 Dredge nuts and dates in small amount of flour. Cream shortening and gradually add sugar, then beaten egg yolks. Sift in ¼ of the flour while beating. Add remaining flour in thirds alternately with milk in which soda has been dissolved. Fold in dates, nuts and orange peel. Then fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in a large greased angelfood cake pan for 1½ hours at 325 degrees.

TOPPING FOR ORANGE CAKE
 2 cups sugar
 1 cup orange juice
 2 tbsp grated orange peel
 Combine all ingredients before starting cake. After cake is removed from oven, and while hot, puncture with an ice pick. Pour topping into punctured holes, and let cake stay in pan until topping soaks in.

Another yummy dessert is crumb cake which is a specialty from the kitchen of Mrs. John W. Murphy, wife of OGMS W/Sgt. Murphy.

CRUMB CAKE

½ lb. butter or oleo
 2 cups sugar
 5 eggs
 1 lb. graham cracker crumbs
 2 tsp baking powder
 ½ cup sweet milk
 1 can angle flake cocoanut
 1 cup chopped pecans
 1 tsp vanilla
 Cream butter and sugar, add eggs and cracker crumbs alternately, one egg at a time. Add baking powder to milk and mix with above mixture. Add pecans, cocoanut and vanilla. This makes three 2 inch layers. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 to 45 minutes (depending on the reliability of constant temperature in one's oven).

FILLING

1 stick of butter or oleo
 1 pkg. confectioners sugar
 1 tsp vanilla
 1 small can crushed pineapple
 1 cup chopped pecans
 Melt butter and add sugar. Drain juice from pineapple. Add the pineapple, nuts and vanilla to butter and sugar, cream well. If too stiff, add small amount of pineapple juice. If too juicy, place in refrigerator for short while. Be sure the cake is cold before icing.

Sometimes between Christmas and New Years when everyone is tired of turkey, M/Sgt. J. A. Justin of the Protocol Office suggests trying these main course dishes.

PORCUPINE MEAT BALLS

1 lb. ground chuck steak, mixed with 2/3 cup minute rice, molded into balls after seasoning with salt, pepper and chopped onion. Put balls in pressure cooker and add 1 can of tomato soup, 1 can of water, four carrots quartered, celery cut up, four quartered potatoes. Cook according to directions for your pressure cooker.

SAUERKRAUT CASSEROLE

1 lb. of weiners
 5 medium potatoes cooked and mashed.
 1 no. 2 can sauerkraut
 Place half of weiners on bottom of casserole, then add layer of sauerkraut and layer of potatoes, rest of weiners and end with potatoes on top. Place in oven at 400 degrees and cook until potatoes are brown.

Other meats such as pork chops, sausage links or smoked sausages may be substituted for the weiner.

A basic and attractive punch for holiday serving was sent us from another anonymous source:

MYSTIC PUNCH

4 1-pint bottles cranberry juice
 Juice from 2 1-pound 14-ounce cans spiced peaches (about 2½ cups)*
 1 cup fresh lime juice (about 8 limes)
 2 cups orange juice
 ½ tsp nutmeg
 ¼ cup white rum (optional)
 ½ pound dry ice in 3 or 4 pieces (no shavings)
 Pine, Chinese holly, green pears

DAY BEFORE:
 Refrigerate cranberry juice and spiced peach juice. If desired, squeeze lime juice and orange juice, then refrigerate them.

ON THE DAY:
 Set punch bowl on serving table with pine, holly and green pears around it.

JUST BEFORE SERVING:
 1. In punch bowl, combine cranberry juice, juice from spiced peaches, lime juice, orange juice and rum.

2. To avoid cracking punch bowl, set a 6-inch glass casserole in center bottom of bowl; then lower one piece of dry ice into casserole with tongs; it will bubble and smoke. When smoke dies down, add another piece of dry ice, using tongs. Be sure to have one person do all the pouring, so that no one gets any dry ice in his cup. Makes 18 servings.

*Use spiced peaches as meat garnish in gelatin desert, or on ice cream.

Purchase on day of party, from ice-cream parlor or soda fountain. One-half pound of dry ice will "smoke" and bubble for about 1 hour.

Happy holiday eating and cooking.

Here is something that you are going to hear a great deal of in the near future. A Post-Wide Talent Contest is now being planned for the latter part of February. Some especially fine prizes will be offered, and it should prove to be a lot of fun for all concerned.

The contest is open to everyone, regardless if you are amateur or professional. All types of acts are acceptable, whether it is opera or Rock and Roll, Barber Shop Quartette or Modern Jazz Group, Dixieland Band, Monologist, Instrumental Soloist, or a Dramatic Reading, or any of a hundred other classifications of acts one could think of.

The acts will be judged mainly on presentation and audience appeal. The Service Club will be available to the contestants for rehearsal, and any equipment on hand that the contestants feel they can use, will be furnished. There will most likely be a time limit on the acts. As soon as this is decided, it will be made known in this column.

We would like to have at least one entry from each unit on post, as there is a good chance that a unit prize, as well as individual

Contract Awards Made On Three Missile Systems

Award Dec. 7 of three contracts totals $13,242,686 for work on the Nike Hercules, Pershing and Sergeant missiles systems has been announced by the Army.

The Western Electric Company received a $10,000,000 award for production of equipment for the Nike Hercules air defense guided missile system at their Burlington, N. C., plant.

A $2,470,966 award will cover production of general support shop sets for the Sergeant by the Sperry Utah Company, a division of Sperry Rand, at its Salt Lake City, Utah, plant.

The smallest award, $771,720, went to the Red Bank Division of Bendix Corporation to fund production of components for the Pershing ballistic missile system. The work will be done at the company's Eatonville, N. J., facility.

Nike Hercules is operational, and is on site around key cities and government installations.

Sergeant, a solid fuel missile capable of carrying a nuclear warhead is guided to its target by a self-contained inertial guidance system.

Pershing is a two-stage solid fuel ballistic missile being developed to replace the operational Redstone.

Program management for all three missile systems is centered at the Army Missile Command.

The New York Procurement District will administer the Western Electric and Bendix contracts, and the Los Angeles Procurement District the Sperry Utah contract.

M-Sgt. Gay Scores 96 Plus In School

M/Sgt. Earl R. Gay, of Orlando, Fla., was honored as an outstanding student for achieving an average of 96-plus in the Nike Internal Guidance Repair course at the Army Ordnance Guided Missile School last Friday.

At a ceremony in the Post Theater, Sgt. Gay was presented with a special plaque by the Tennessee Valley Chapter of the Association of the U. S. Army.

Col. Robert M. Allgeier delivered the graduation address to 67 students from the United States, France, Germany and Norway. Col. Allgeier is Assistant for Intelligence and Security at the Army Missile Support Command. He was introduced by Lt. Col. Raymond Hansotte, chief of OGMIS Training Research and Development.

Col. Allegier devoted his remarks to the accomplishments of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, using the theme: "The whole is greater than the sum of its parts." He spoke directly to the German, French and Norwegian graduates in describing NATO as "a self-help program designed for defense, not aggression." He cited the assignment of missile men to service in countries other than their own as an illustration of individual responsibility under NATO.

Two German Air Force students won honors in Hawk missile courses. They were Sgt. Friedrich Keller and Lothar Olbrich. U. S. honor students were Pvt. Carl J. Reinhart Jr., and Pvt. Henry P. Kubek.

Girl Scouts To Carol, Receive Christmas Tree

Seven Girl Scout Troops from Redstone Arsenal and the surrounding community will be presented a living Christmas tree by Col. Richard Davidson, Deputy Commander, Army Missile Support Command, during tree-lighting ceremonies Dec. 19.

The program includes an assembly by flashlight before the formal lighting of the tree at 7 p.m. The Girl Scouts will present a program of Christmas Carols.

The event is scheduled on Goss Road and is open to the public.

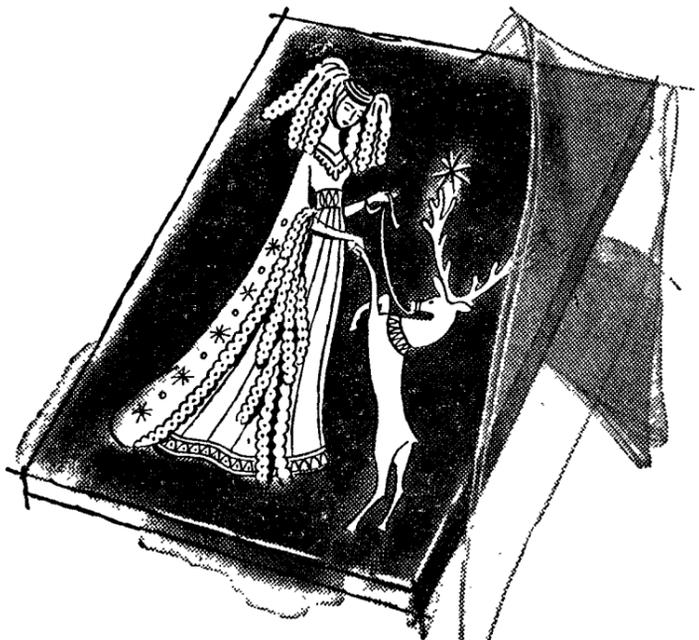

Following the program of carols, the Girl Scouts will go to the Girl Scout Hut for refreshments. Bus transportation to the quarters on post will leave the Scout Hut, Bldg. 3181. If it rains on Dec. 19, the ceremony will be rescheduled for Dec. 20 at the same time.
