

Col. Luk Is New Provost Marshal Here

Col. William Luk arrived at Redstone on Monday and immediately assumed the dual responsibility of Provost Marshal and Troop Commander, Army Missile Command.

The newly assigned officer fills the Provost Marshal position that has been vacant for several months and the Troop Commander post that has been filled by Maj. Albert Fellers, who will retire at the end of June. Capt. Daniel Holt has been the acting Provost Marshal.

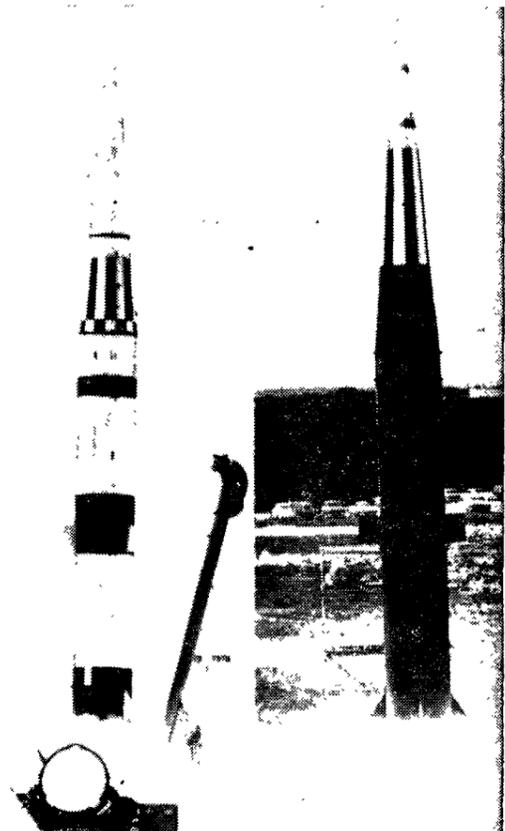

A veteran of almost 22 years commissioned service, Col. Luk came to Redstone from Ft. Leavenworth, Kans., where he had been Provost Marshal for three years.

Born and educated in Lawrence, Mass., Col. Luk entered the military service in 1938 as an enlisted man in the Coast Artillery at (See COL. LUK on Page 3)

The Many Faces Of Pershing

The face of the Army's highly mobile Pershing ballistic missile has changed four times during the system's development program as scientists and engineers developed new and advanced techniques. At left is the early test version of Pershing. The two center pictures reflect gradual changes that occurred in its appearance. At right is the latest face of the missile. The two-stage, solid-propellant weapon was developed by the Army Missile Command to replace the reliable Redstone. The Martin Company, Orlando, Fla., is prime contractor.

Travellers To Be Paid New Rates For Per Diem

New TDY per diem rates have gone into effect for Army civilian travellers. The revised schedule was announced by Col. D. A. Marcelle, Finance and Accounting Officer, Army Missile Support Command.

The new rates are based on the cost of living in various cities rather than pegged at the flat $16 per day used in the past.

For example, the traveller who spends some time in New York or Washington will get $16. But, if he goes to Dallas or Orlando he'll only draw $14 per day when he turns in his voucher.

Los Angeles rates $16, but $14 a day is sufficient to get along in San Diego, say government fiscal planners. Winston-Salem, N. C., is a $15 a day town.

Huntsville also rates $15. Birmingham is $14.

And the Army employee who finds himself in Clarksville, Ark. will have to scrape by on $10 per day.

The place to go if you want a fat refund is the Bahamas during the months of December to April. The per diem is a whopping $40 per day. However, the travel people say you probably won't do more than break even during that season when the wharf waves are breaking against the millionaires.

Anchorage demands $23.

In most of Indonesia, $6 a day should keep you going and on Kwajalein Island it drops to $5—but your room is free.

Bids Asked On RR Ties

Have need for some good used railroad ties? The Army Missile Support Command's Property Disposal Office has 900 that will be sold Friday, June 14.

Joe Engle, Property Disposal Officer, said that nine lots of 100 ties each will be sold at 10:00 a.m. Friday. The ties were recently replaced by Post Engineers in maintenance of Redstone Arsenal's Army-operated railroad system.

Persons interested in bidding on the ties will be able to inspect them between 8:00 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday, June 13. Information on the sale may be obtained from the Property Disposal Office, Bldg. 7408, Phone 876-3528.

The ties are to be sold on an "as is, where is" basis, with the buyer to have about a week to remove them.

AUSA To Hear Gen. Zierdt Friday Night

Returning to Huntsville after an absence of a year, Brig. Gen. John G. Zierdt will be the principal speaker for the annual meeting of the Tennessee Valley chapter of the Association of the U. S. Army Friday evening in the Hawk Room of the Squirrel Hill Officer's Club.

Gen. Zierdt left Redstone Arsenal last June for his present assignment as Deputy Director of Research and Development, U. S. Army Materiel Command. He was Deputy Commanding General, Guided Missiles, under the U. S. Army Ordnance Missile Command prior to leaving for his Washington assignment.

The dinner-business meeting, starting at 7:30, will be preceded by a reception at 6:30 p.m. in the Hawk Room.

An election of officers for the coming year will be held immediately after the address by Gen. Zierdt.

Tickets for the meeting may be obtained from Thomas Burkett of the Martin Company. Mr. Burkett can be reached by calling 881-1350.

Assigned to Redstone Arsenal originally in 1956, Gen. Zierdt served a number of responsible positions while here. Included in these were Chief of Staff, AOMC, Chief of the Control Office, ABMA, and Deputy Commander of the (See AUSA on Page 3)

Mrs. U.S. Savings Bonds To Visit Redstone June 20

Redstone Arsenal will be one of the first stops on a nationwide tour planned for the newly crowned Mrs. U. S. Savings Bond—1963. The Marietta, Ga., housewife, Marilyn Eastham will be at Redstone on Thursday, June 20, in connection with the Savings Bond promotion now underway on the Arsenal.

While here Mrs. Eastham will visit various organizations and will present several savings bond citations at a luncheon in one of the troop dining halls in the school area.

She will also meet with Maj. Gen. F. J. McMorrow, Commanding General of the Army Missile Command, and Col. W. J. Macpherson, Commandant of the Ordnance Guided Missile School.

The Georgia beauty, she was selected after having been a finalist in this year's Mrs. America contest, will return to the Arsenal on Friday to visit the Marshall Space Flight Center.

Army missiles put on an exhibition for President Kennedy last week that was as well timed and spectacular as a fireworks display at a Fourth of July picnic.

He saw them perform during a 2 hour visit to White Sands Missile Range, N. M., last Wednesday.

Among other things, the President saw a Nike Hercules hurtle aloft to destroy another Hercules in a 14-mile high rendezvous. The encounter between the deadly birds was visible in a nearly cloudless sky.

The President arrived at the White Sands Airstrip via helicopter from Holloman Air Force Base, and was welcomed by Maj. Gen. J. F. Thorlin, the Range Commander. After a brief address to about 4,000 Missile Range employees, he left by car for Army Launch Area 2.

He was greeted there by the firing of an Honest John that impacted against a hillside 7 miles down range. The Honest John warhead showered the landscape with a blossom of fire like a stick of dynamite dropped in a burning wastebasket.

The Honest John was followed by a Littlejohn that was flown in by helicopter, set up and fired in that order.

The third missile fired was a (See MISSILES on Page 3)

Traffic Violation Point System Put Into Effect

In the driving game, Arsenal motorists will find that to chalk up no points is to win. A new traffic point system being established on the Arsenal will keep tabs on military and civilian goofs.

Announcing implementation of the point system, Col. R. M. Allgeier, Assistant for Intelligence, Operations and Security, AMSC, said, "The purpose is to provide an impartial and uniform administrative device for evaluating driving performance. It should prove more satisfactory than previous methods of analyzing driving performance."

The Provost Marshal Division will tally 'scores' made by Arsenal drivers on to respective driver records. The point system, as outlined in AR 190-5, will apply to military and civilian personnel operating government vehicles on or off the installation; to military personnel operating privately owned vehicles on or off the installation; and to dependents, civilian employees and contractors operating privately owned vehicles on the installation.

A unit commander, or a supervisor, has a word in the point system also. His response, after a traffic ticket is forwarded to him for report of action taken, may determine whether or not points (See TRAFFIC on page 16)

Col. Crane Will Replace Col. Dooley On Kwajalein

Col. I. O. Drewry, Nike Zeus Anti-missile Missile System Project Manager, has announced that Col. Glenn Crane, a veteran in the Nike Zeus Program, will become head of its Pacific Field Office on Kwajalein Island.

Col. Crane will take over the Field Office in mid-August, according to the Zeus Project Office at Redstone Arsenal.

He succeeds Lt. Col. Edward M. Dooley who has headed up the Pacific Office since July, 1962. During Col. Dooley's tour on Kwajalein the Army has announced five successful intercepts of special ICBM-boosted target vehicles launched from Vandenberg Air Force Base.

Col. Dooley will move to Washington as head of the Project Manager's staff office at the Materiel Command Headquarters.

The head of the Nike Zeus Pacific Field Office on Kwajalein has charge of system testing and development there. He also coordinates the activities of a number of development and support contractors who perform work at the site. He is a member of Col. Drewry's staff—a staff that ranges halfway around the world from Ascension Island in the Atlantic to Kwajalein (See COL. CRANE on Page 3)

Army Birthday And Flag Day—June 14

On June 14, we observe two milestones in the history of the Nation. This date marks not only the 186th anniversary of the adoption of the national flag, but also the 188th birthday of the United States Army.

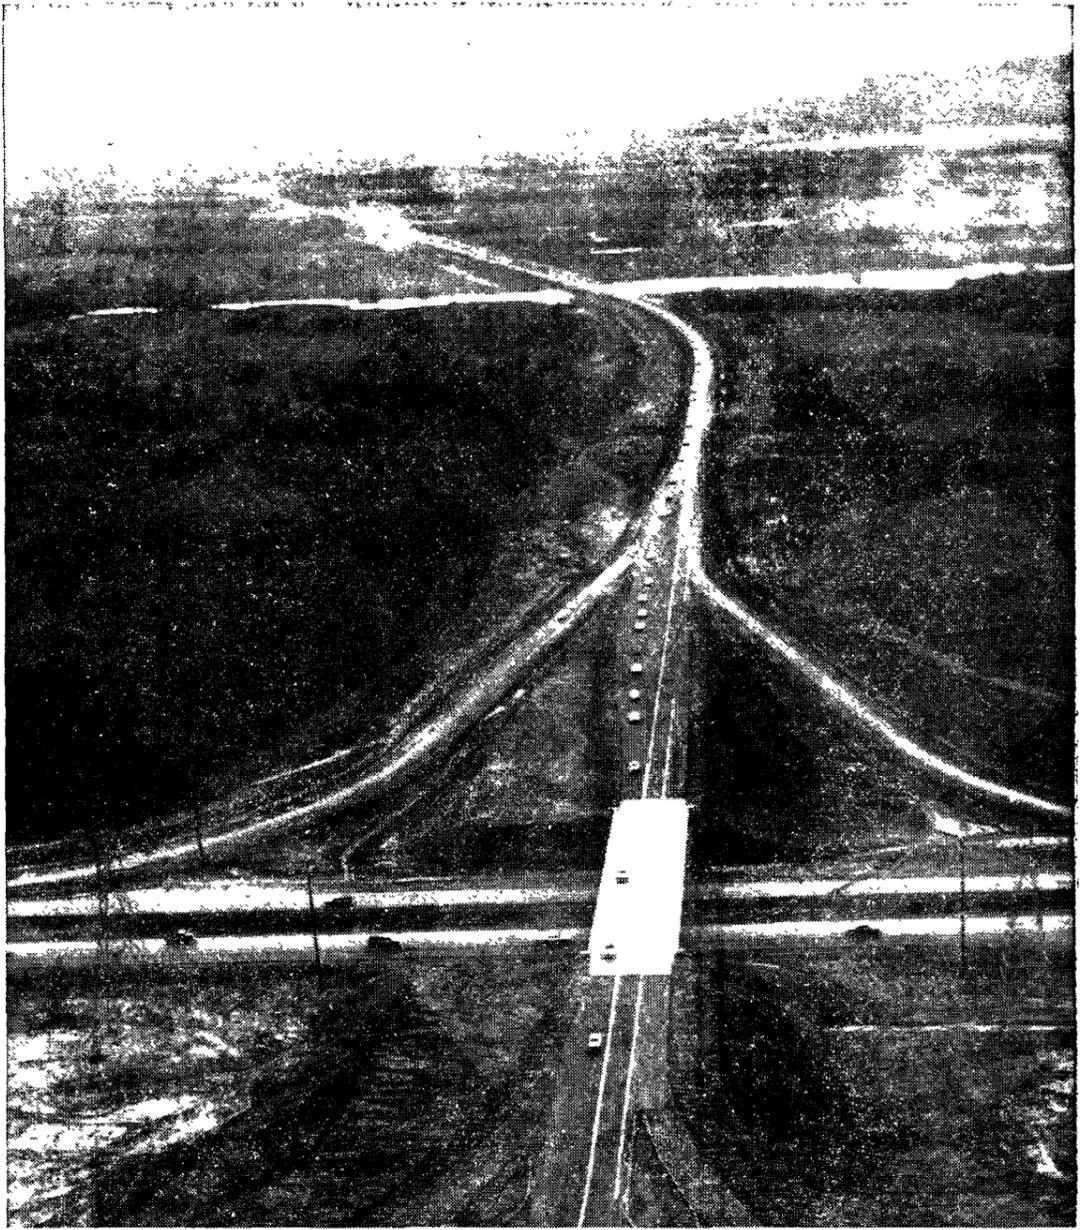

It was also in 1775 that the Continental Congress, meeting in Philadelphia, voted to raise ten companies of infantry to fight in the name of all the Colonies. As the first of our Regular units, they established the Army as the oldest of the Armed Forces.

Two years later, and almost a year after the adoption of the Declaration of Independence, the Congress adopted a resolution which gave birth to the American flag. When the Star Spangled Banner was first flown by the Continental Army, its commander, George Washington, in describing its symbolism, said: "We take the stars from heaven, the red from the mother country, separating it by white stripes, thus showing that we have separated from her, and the white stripes shall go down to posterity representing liberty."

Through the years, as the American constellation has grown from 13 colonies to 50 states, our Army, vigorous and versatile, has served as a guarantor of our Nation's independence and freedom. Unfurl the Stars and Stripes and you also unfold the courageous chapters of Army history written in the blood and sweat of American servicemen who have carried "Old Glory" in the cause of freedom. From Colonial America to Korea, the flag has accompanied our soldiers on the many battlefields of time, sustaining courage, providing inspiration, and signalling victory.

In peace or in war, as Woodrow Wilson said in 1917, our flag "floats in majestic silence . . . And yet, though silent, it speaks to us—speaks to us of the past, of the men and women who went before us—and the record they wrote upon it . . ."

On its birthday, the Army can be proud of its contributions to that record. The 145 streamers on the Army flag commemorating its campaigns evoke not only the heroic sacrifices and battle actions of the past; but also are mileposts marking the Nation's growth to pre-eminence as a force for world peace. (ANF)

Sergeant that scribed a perfect flight down the range.

A Hawk was the first of the Army Missile Command's air defense weapons to demonstrate the ability to pluck a target out of the air.

The Hawk, closing in a swooping flight, struck a QF-80 drone airplane streaming across the sky and sent it crashing into the desert.

Turning to another quarter, the President and his official party, including Vice President Lyndon Johnson and Secretary of the Army Cyrus Vance, saw a tactical demonstration of the Pershing.

The Pershing crew—soldiers in battlefield dress and operating from behind a barbed wire barrier for realism—inflated the missile radio antenna and erected the Pershing on its transporter-erector.

They stopped short of actual firing, however. White Sands is the largest overland range in the country, but it's still too small for the "Long Tom" of Army missiles.

For the finale, the Presidential party, which also included some of the nation's top military men and civilians plus more than 150 newsmen, went to Army Launch Area 3, deeper into the range.

There they saw the Hercules in its missile-to-missile duel. President Kennedy and the others also saw two Navy Talos missiles fired.

A Nike Zeus missile finished the day with an exclamation point. It thundered away from its launching pit in a high sky-scraping trajectory that left a column of smoke dotted on the bottom by a billow of dust.

A model of the Sergeant missile was presented to the President along with another missile memento. This was a plaque depicting the Pershing System.

According to observers, the President was enthusiastic over the display and visually impressed by the Army missiles' readiness and accuracy.

Ft. Adams, R. I. Three years later he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Organized Reserve Corps and called to active duty at Camp Davis, N. C.

He spent the war years assigned to various Coast Artillery units on the West Coast and as a Military Police officer at Ft. Custer, Mich., Camp Maxey, Tex., and in Hawaii.

Early in 1946 Col. Luk went to Germany and was assigned first as Chief of a Weapons Dept. of the M. P. School and later as an instructor of military police and criminal investigation division subjects at the U. S. Constabulary School for the European Command.

In 1949 he returned to the States and was assigned to the University of Denver as an Organized Reserve Corps instructor. While on this tour the Colonel enrolled at the University of Colorado to study Psychology and International Relations.

During the Korean Conflict he was assigned to Headquarters, IX Corps as assistant Provost Marshal, and later the 24th Infantry Division as the Division Provost Marshal. He was awarded the Bronze Star Medal with "V" device and two Oak Leaf Clusters during his tour in Korea.

Upon returning to the States once more Col. Luk was assigned to the Office of the Provost Marshal General as Chief of the Training Branch. In 1953 he was assigned to Headquarters, 5th Army, with duty station at Michigan State University where he was a student officer.

The Colonel continued his pursuit of a college degree during these assignments at the University of Maryland and Michigan State and in 1954 was graduated with honor from the latter school with a Bachelor of Science in Police Administration.

Col. Luk returned to Germany in July, 1955, and served as Deputy Provost Marshal for the Southern Area Command, and later as Provost Marshal at Kaiserslautern sub-area.

Returning to continental United States in 1958, he served as Post Provost Marshal and Battalion Commander at Ft. Bragg, N. C. In 1960 he attended the Command and General Staff College at Ft. Leavenworth and upon graduating, was assigned to the Fort as Post Provost Marshal.

Col. Luk is married to the former Miss Sheila Coleby of Hitchin Herts, England. They are the parents of three children, William J., age 8; Robert J., 6; and Mary J., 5.

Col. Crane is presently attending the Industrial College of the Armed Forces at Ft. McNair Va.

After a number of assignments, including one as Army Project Officer at Bell Telephone Laboratories during early development of the anti-missile missile system, Col. Crane was named assistant to the head of the program at Redstone Arsenal in February, 1960. On that date he moved from Special Assistant to the Commanding General of the Army Ordnance Missile Command to Assistant to Brig. Gen. John G. Zierdt—then Col. Zierdt—who was heading the Nike Zeus Project.

In July, 1960, after Gen. Zierdt became Commander of ARGMA, Col. Crane was placed in charge of the Nike-Zeus Program.

He remained in charge until last July when he was assigned to the Industrial College.

Col. Drewry was named Project Manager with expanded control and responsibility last July when the Nike Zeus Project became a direct element of the Army Materiel Command.

One of the pioneers in the project, Col. Dooley has been working with Nike Zeus since 1957. He organized the anti-missile office at Redstone in 1958 and was chief until 1960.

$1.3 Million Contract Awarded For Nike Zeus

The Army's Nike Zeus Project Office has announced the award of a $1.3 million contract to the Lockheed Propulsion Co., for participation in the propellant development program for the Sprint missile, a part of the new Nike X anti-missile missile system.

Lockheed will perform the work at its Redlands, California plant.

Col. I. O. Drewry, the Nike Zeus Project Manager, also has charge of the Nike X system development. The Nike X system is an advanced version of the Nike Zeus.

The Sprint, a high speed missile, is shorter than the 48-foot Zeus missile.

The contract was awarded through the Army Missile Support Command Purchasing and Contracting Division at Redstone Arsenal.

Western Electric Co. is the prime contractor for the Nike X system and Bell Telephone Laboratories has the responsibility for system design and development. The Martin-Marietta Co. is the Sprint subcontractor.

Letter Contract For Hawk Project Goes To Raytheon

Initial funding was announced Friday on a development project that will extend the capability of the Army's Hawk missile system to engage tactical ballistic missiles.

The Army said it had awarded a $900,000 initial letter contract to the Raytheon Company to get the project underway.

The new equipment to be developed and modifications to the present Hawk equipment will be designed to extend its capability against ballistic missiles which might be encountered by a field army. The system in its present configuration has already demonstrated the capability to engage Honest John type rockets.

Award of the letter order was made public by the Hawk/NATO Hawk Project Office which is a part of the Army Missile Command, a field agency of the Army Materiel Command. Col. Charles R. Graham is the project manager.

The Hawk air defense system is presently operational with the U. S. Army and Marine Corps, and with several foreign countries.

Hawk systems are being produced by five NATO countries having their own deployment.

The project office stated that the new capability would be accomplished by additions of new equipment and internal modifications of the Hawk missile and ground support equipment.

The Hawk was developed as a low altitude air defense weapon. It is especially effective in the low altitude range which was once considered the radar "blind spot."

The 17-foot Hawk missile works on the "homing" guidance principle. That is, it homes—or locks—on radar reflections from a target.

The Hawk system, including the launcher, tracked transporter-loader, acquisition and tracking radars and the battery control central, is air transportable. The work on this project will be performed at the Raytheon

The Redstone Rocket — June 12, 1963 plants at Bedford and Andover, Mass.

Huntsville Toastmistresses Elect Officers Wednesday

Mrs. James Beasley was awarded the Best Speaker's Cup with her autobiography presented before the Huntsville Toastmistress Club's Wednesday night dinner meeting at The Plantation.

Mrs. J. Bonney of Chattanooga, outgoing chairman of Council 8 of the Toastmistress Southeast Region visited the club as she returns from the Southeast Regional Conference in New Orleans. She announced plans of the Council's next meeting June 22 and invited the local members to attend.

Mrs. Cora Carr Briskey served as the narrator of the entire evening, this being a demonstration meeting. Her narration included explanations of each of the features of the evening beginning with the invocation and pledge through to the adjournment.

Mrs. R. P. Hearn, as topicmistress, carried out the meeting theme: "Have Fun, Too!" Of the five speakers, Miss Dolli Wiginton was judged the best.

Mrs. George W. Warren served as toastmistress for the program.

Mrs. Russell Moose made an impromptu speech entitled "Life is Just a Bowl of Cherries!" Mrs. Barbara Ray presented a study on John Hunt, the father of Huntsville.

Miss Dolli Wiginton discussed parliamentary procedures.

Mrs. Bonney, Mrs. C. J. Quinn of the Rocket City Toastmistress Club, and Miss Nell Curtis, served as Panel Members of the Evaluation Panel moderated by Miss Marian Hooker. Mrs. Marion L. Perkins, as a guest, presented her application for membership.

New officers elected unanimously for the new term were: Miss Nell Curtis, president; Mrs. George W. Warren, vice president; Mrs. Miles R. Hardenburgh, secretary; Mrs. James Beasley, treasurer; and Mrs. Cora Carr Briskey, club representative. Installation of the new officers will be June 19.

At the Service Club

By: Brenda Hanson

In looking over this weeks multitude of activities, I often wonder where our program director procures them. It would really be no job at all if a book were published on that particular subject. However, such is definitely not the case. It takes a great deal of work to plan a schedule as varied, in the motivating sense, as these programs.

Starting this week off, an evening of TV programs along with the dancing instructions is on the agenda. Dance instructions under the capable guidance of David Izen invariably present an interesting, as well as informing, evening. Classes have of late been those more difficult numbers such as the mambo, samba, and others of the like.

Thursday evening presents an evening of Card Games. Here's a deal for those who enjoy card games and find relaxation in getting a group together to enjoy an evening of card playing.

Calling All Pinochlers: For you brainy misitemen, we have a Pinochle Contest on the schedule for Friday at 8 p.m.

Here is, what you have been waiting for impatiently all through the long winter. The first function out-of-doors is at hand. Desiring to start the season off right, the Service Club has planned a wiener roast on the patio, plus the added attraction of dancing under the stars. The wiener roast will begin at 5:30 p.m. We've had many requests for a Saturday night Record Dance, so we have planned one. The dance begins at 7 p.m., and continues until 11:30 p.m.

Sunday Morning Coffee Call begins at 9 a.m. along with transcribed Classical and semi-classical selections.

It's a good way for late risers to enjoy a good ole cup of coffee in the morning. But that's not all that is scheduled for June 16. Beginning at 8 p.m. the rafters of the Service Club will rock to the swinging sounds of the High-Boys. The High-Boys played here previously and we had many requests for a repeat performance. So in response to these many requests, this group will play for the "Summer Time Hop."

For Monday we again have the weekly games. The games will begin at 8:15 p.m.

Tuesday, June 18, is the monthly meeting of the Jr. Hostess Group. The meeting will be held in the small lounge at 7:30 p.m.

And so ends the week at the Service Club, but the rest of the month of June promises to provide many happy hours for those who are wise enough to take advantage of the happenings at the Service Club.

Some of the things to look forward to are: Watermelon cutting, "The Little Grass Hut," swimming party, and many others.

Personnel Group Elects President

Mrs. Katy Lyle, Chief, Classification and Pay Management Section, Personnel Branch, Marshall Space Flight Center, has been elected president of the Huntsville Chapter, Society for Personnel Administration.

Other officers elected for the new term are: vice president, Roy Hollihan, Manager, Redstone Federal Credit Union; Treasurer, William Breen, Personnel Manager, Brown Engineering Company; and secretary, Mrs. Louise Parker, Placement Specialist, Personnel Branch, MSFC.

Installation will take place at a dinner meeting and dance Friday, June 21, at the Redstone Arsenal Officers' Club. Retiring president is Luther Adams, Chief, Position and Pay Management Division, Civilian Personnel Office, Army Missile Support Command.

Mrs. Lyle, the new president, has served the government in a personnel capacity for over 20 years. Prior to her employment with the Marshall Space Flight Center, she was in the Personnel Office, of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, St. Louis Ordnance District, and the Red River Arsenal. Mrs. Lyle attended Kansas State College at Pittsburg, Kansas.

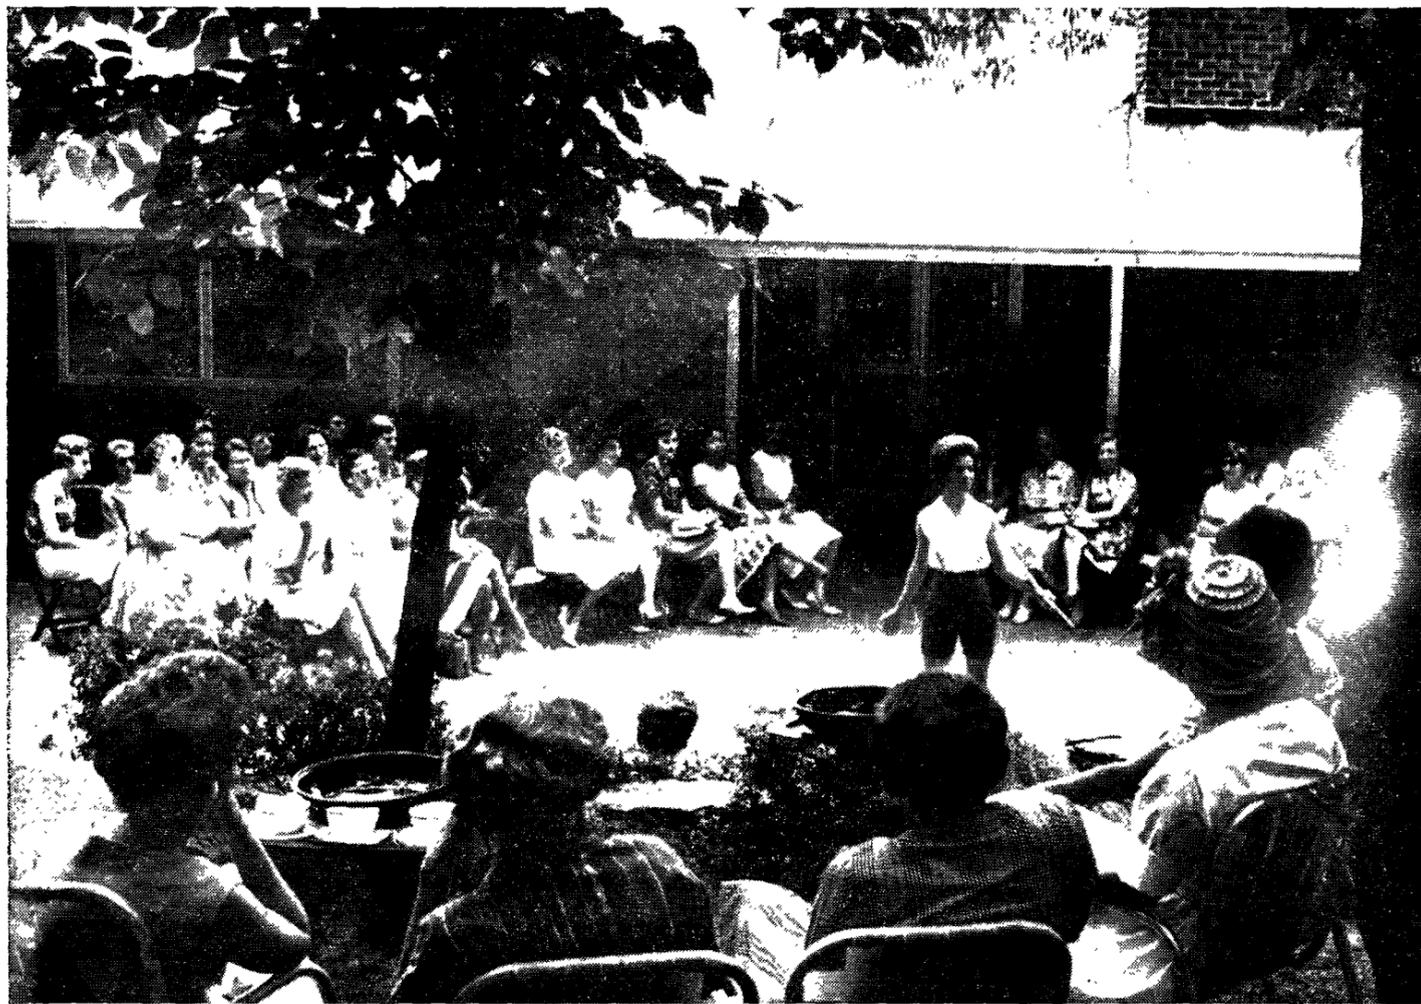

Richard Irvin, Mrs. Jack Marsh, Mrs. W. J. Newman, Mrs. James Cobb, Mrs. Marvin Worley and Mrs. McMorrow baked the pastries for the buffet.

Mrs. E. V. Lau, Mrs. Frank Norvell, and Mrs. Robert Sullivan handled the reservations.

Mrs. Lawson White and Mrs. Drewry decorated the tables.

Mrs. Foster Furphy officially turned over the chairmanship for the group to Mrs. Luczak during the event. Mrs. Katz will be Mrs. Luczak's assistant.

The Coffees will resume in the Fall.

FASHION SHOW—Miss Annette Furphy models shorts and skirt for Summer's relaxed hours during the final coffee of the season sponsored by the Army Missile Command Officers Wives. Clothes ran the gamut from super casual to ultra formal. The coffee was held on the patio of Maj. Gen. and Mrs. F. J. McMorrow. He is Commanding General of the Missile Command.

Missile Command Wives Hold Coffee, Fashion Show

End of the season coffee for the Army Missile Command Officers Wives was a festive patio party at the home of Maj. Gen. F. J. McMorrow.

Highlight of the morning was a fashion show with wives and daughters of the officers modeling summer fashions from the Town and Country Shoppe in Huntsville.

Everything from the bikini — not yet universally accepted at pools and beaches in the U. S. — to formal evening wear was paraded.

Fabrics ran the gamut from cottons and polyester fibers to crepes and sequins.

Big prints in arnel jersey ran the spectrum from bright to dark — a phenomena this year when no particular color seems to dominate. White is used more than it was for several years.

Shorts with easy overblouses in color coordination or contrast and designed for everyone from fisherman to gardener had large patch pockets and were made of easy care fabric.

Shifts and modified A-shapes in casual and party dresses predominated although pleats, pressed and unpressed, were also prominent in the collection.

Among the collection was a complete morning to night group of maternity clothes.

The teenagers who modeled were: Misses Lerry Pearce, Joan Loomis, Loma Luczak and Annette Furphy.

Adults models included Mrs. B. J. Luczak, Mrs. R. W. Van Wert, Mrs. W. H. Clark, Mrs. Leo Huber, Mrs. Jerry Maloy, Mrs. Robert Pearce, Mrs. Luther Cox, Mrs. George Pickett, and Mrs. Henry Katz.

The fashion show was preceded by a breakfast buffet on the side lawn. Bowls of bright flowers were placed strategically on tables to lend a splash of color in addition to the bright petunias flanking the steps to the terrace where some viewers of the show were seated.

Cohostesses for the event were Mrs. McAnally and Mrs. Luczak, who also directed the fashion show.

Mrs. Richard Irvin and Mrs. I. O. Drewry helped the models change costumes.

Mrs. Glenn Bass, Mrs. Leadlay Ogden, Mrs. Henry Katz, Mrs.

SUGGESTIONS

Robert M. Hunter, Army Missile Command, $760 award—this suggestion resulted in the M-14, Hydraulic Test Stand, P/N8001840, being modified so as to provide access to the two hydraulic fluid filters located in the right end of the test stand. The estimated first year savings is $21,596.

Mack D. McCulloch, Army Missile Command, $30 award—this suggestion resulted in RSA-FL 299 replacing RSA-FL 295 and RSA-FL 95. The estimated first year savings is $558.

Dan Hawk, Army Missile Command, $15 award—this suggestion resulted in the preparation of a procedure for making out request cards in which the reference number is to be written before the Federal Stock Number. The estimated first year savings is $200.

Erwin B. Hanan, Army Missile Command, $50 award—this suggestion resulted in a cloth tape, dyed, "day-glo" green, being connected to the safety cotter pin on the BA 605/U Battery used on the Little John Rocket Motors in order that these pins may be seen from a distance to determine whether the batteries are armed or safe. The idea has intangible benefits in the minor-broad category.

Clarence A. Buford, Army Missile Command, $15 award—this suggestion resulted in a "sash lift" or "screen door pull" being installed on the concrete pilasters above the electrical duplex outlets to be used to attach the electrical cleaning equipment cord and prevent damage to the outlets.

Audra E. Chiles, Army Missile Command, $195 award—this suggestion resulted in grouping requisitions and preparing only one AOS-20 for each NICP or supplier. The estimated first year savings is $3890.

John O. Pepper, Army Missile Command, $20 award—this suggestion resulted in an additional information block being added to RSA Form 367. The estimated first year savings is $325.

Malcolm V. Blackard, Army Missile Command, $90 award—this suggestion resulted in building a tape timing generator from spare cards already available in order to save the expense of buying a needed timing generator. The estimated first year savings is $1800.

KNOWLEDGEABLE PEOPLE Insist Upon Credit Union Financing

Because It COSTS LESS!

And the time to best benefit is before the deal is closed on a new car purchase. You avoid the penalties higher rate lenders may charge you for later switching-over to a lower-cost Credit Union loan.

So, don't settle for less than the best in your automobile financing.

The reduced Credit Union interest cost is 8/10% per month on the unpaid balance. Without additional cost, you are protected with life insurance equal to the balance outstanding, subject to the liberal terms of the group insurance coverage.

How much is 8/10%? On a $100 loan repaid in twelve months, the cost is $5.28. It's amazing, the difference in this rate and the rates you may pay elsewhere.

Call or visit your Credit Union when you are ready for your new car. We'll be pleased to serve you!

Credit Union members enjoy the finest benefits in dealing with and promoting their own organization.

New Telephone System Speeds Communication

A new intergovernmental telephone system that facilitates communications among Federal offices throughout the country—and promises to save taxpayers a sizable sum of money—was begun recently.

Developed by General Services Administration and the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., the FTS (Federal Telecommunications System) initially links Federal civilian activities in 43 cities over a 17,000-mile wire network. When the system is fully developed, sometime in 1964 or 1965, it will connect 355 cities and handle almost all civilian-agency telephone requirements in the United States.

GSA Administrator Bernard L. Boutin forecast that the system, started February 15, will save the Government some $7 million a year in its first phases and up to $30 million annually by the time it is completed. Wire rental rates paid by individual agencies, he said, will be lowered because required wire communications will be consolidated within one system.

Eventually the system is expected to link computer centers, provide facsimile transmission, and expand teletype communications, as well as connect voice tele-phones.

TWO-WAY STREET—Safety committees are two-way streets. Members give and get. They give their time, thought, patience and ideas. They get some extra work, extra responsibilities, new friends—and sometimes hard feelings. The satisfaction comes from knowing the effort pays off. Proof is evidenced by the outstanding safety record of the Locomotive Shop, AMSC Transportation Division, spearheaded by the committee above. Left to right are: Harry Bradshaw, J. R. Foote, Shop Foreman, C. H. Hobbs, W. J. Manning, C. S. Stapler, and Marvin Parvin.
