Rally Of Key Workers Begins 1967 CSC Drive

Combining a word of congratulations for a tremendous job last year with an appeal for a repeat performance this year, Maj. Gen. John G. Zierdt was the principal speaker for the traditional kickoff rally opening the 1967 Combined Federal Campaign in the Huntsville area at the Redstone Arsenal this morning.

The Commanding General of the Army Missile Command delivered the keynote for the annual appeal among Federal employees in the area in support of the local, national and international fund raising agencies.

Attending the rally were CFC officials at the Arsenal together with the key organizational workers who will be responsible for conducting the solicitation within their individual units.

He congratulated them for "a tremendous job done in last year's drive—a campaign that put Redstone Arsenal out front among all the Federal agencies throughout the nation and produced well over a quarter of a million dollars for people less fortunate than we."

Gen. Zierdt also called on the campaign officials and key workers to, "Carry out an efficient person-to-person canvas of your assignment area, telling the employees of the advantages of the fund raising plan that they helped to create and emphasize the convenience of making one annual contribution."

The single drive concept was introduced at Redstone last year and met with almost unanimous acceptance. Arsenal personnel responded to the appeal with the largest percentage of participation among the 66 areas of the country that conducted a Combined Federal Campaign. Their per capita gift of $20.54 was also the highest in the nation.

Much of the success for the highly successful drive was accorded to the payroll deduction privilege that was instituted for the first time a year ago. Approximately 60 per cent of the contributions were made in this way.

In speaking about the payroll deduction plan, Gen. Zierdt said that, "While the system allows for employee cancellation of their payroll deductions, fewer than twelve individuals out of 10,000 found it necessary to cancel their authorization."

"I am satisfied that making our contributions by the payroll method," he said, "is the most convenient and the most desirable way for our employees to participate in this single annual drive."

The General added that the drive would be conducted in the same manner as a year ago. But at the same time he called on the key workers to strive for still one more improvement.

He said, "I think we can, if we apply ourselves to the task, reduce what used to be a 6-week campaign to something within the framework of 4 weeks."

In this way, he continued, we will reduce further the cost to the Government without sacrifice to productiveness of the campaign.

Also appearing on the program for the kickoff rally were representatives of the Huntsville-Madison County United Givers Fund, the International Service Agencies, the National Health Agencies and the principal benefactors of the fund raising appeal.

Nike-X Contracts Total Record $273 Million

The Nike-X Project—the Army's biggest missile research and development program—Monday signed three contracts here totaling $273,101,844, including the largest contract in the history of the program.

The largest of the contracts amounting to $253,581,512 — or more than a quarter of a billion dollars—was signed for continuation of the Nike-X research, development and testing program during Fiscal Year 1967.

All three contracts were signed with Western Electric Company, Nike-X prime contractor.

The other contracts provided $12,834,296 for continuation of planning and engineering studies and $3,686,036 for facilities to support system research and development.

Brig. Gen. I. O. Drewry, Nike-X

Project Manager, announced the signing of the contracts. He said they had been negotiated by the Project's Contracts Office headed by William O. Turney and would be administered by that office.

Several thousand firms in nearly every state in the Union are expected to share in the Rand D award as sub-contractors and vendors.

The cost-plus-incentive-fee contract will cover research and development work on the system for the period October 1, 1966 until September 30, 1967. It does not include funds for production or deployment of the system.

The Nike-X system is being developed to engage and destroy in flight the warheads of attacking intercontinental ballistic missiles and submarine launched bal-

Building Ceremonies Tomorrow

An assembly of employees and officials will participate tomorrow in the dedication of The John M. Cone Laboratories, the U. S. Army Missile Support Command's newly-constructed Metrology Center building.

Maj. Gen. John G. Zierdt, Commanding General of the U. S. Army Missile Command, will be introduced as host and master of ceremonies by Col. J. N. Jean, Commander of the Support Command.

The General's honor guests are Mrs. Cone, widow of the Major General for whom the Laboratories are named, and Lt. John M. Cone, Jr., their son. Mrs. Cone is scheduled to cut the ceremonial bow that will climax the formal dedication program and give participants and spectators the opportunity to tour the Laboratories.

Lt. Gen. William B. Bunker, Deputy Commanding General of the U. S. Army Materiel Command, will unveil the plaque—a bas relief in bronze of General Cone—and deliver the dedicatory address after the building has formerly been turned over to the Support Command by the Corps of Engineers, Mobile District Engineer, Col. Robert C. Marshall.

Music for the event will be presented by the U. S. 55th Army Band.

Approximately 150 employees of the Metrology Center will serve as host and hostess to dignitaries from the City of Huntsville, representatives of the Association of the U. S. Army, the American Ordnance Association, (See DEDICATION on Page 3)

Bond Participation Honor Will Go To 400 Personnel

Some 350 to 400 Arsenal personnel will be honored with a luncheon at the Officers Open Mess next Monday in recognition of their work in maintaining an outstanding record for participation in the U. S. Savings Bonds program.

They are the organizational solicitors who have worked so diligently through the past four years to make Redstone one of the highest rated installations in the country in the program.

The primary purpose of the luncheon is to present the second star to five organizations for their Minuteman flags and a first star to one other organization. The Minuteman flags represent 90 per cent participation within a unit of 1000 or more for a period of three months.

A star is awarded to units for maintaining the participation at 90 per cent or higher for a year.

Second stars will be awarded to the three large directorates, the Army Missile and Munitions Center and School, and the Army Missile Support Command. The Army Missile Command will be awarded its first star.

Thad Holt, state chairman of the Savings Bond will make the presentation to the Missile Command elements and Col. T. D. Ash-

NCO Club Burns; New Structure To Start Soon

A temporary office and retail store are being set up for the Redstone Arsenal Non-Commissioned Officers Club in a small building just across the road from the fire-gutted clubhouse.

At the same time, efforts are being made to locate adequate temporary quarters to serve the membership's social activities until a new clubhouse can be built.

Even while a board was investigating the cause of Monday's early morning fire, word was received Monday afternoon of approval of a loan that will finance construction of a long-planned new clubhouse. The building will be located off Buffington Road on the hill overlooking the east side of the Arsenal.

Final plans for the new clubhouse were approved some time ago and the building site has already been prepared. Receipt of the loan will now permit awarding of a construction contract in the near future with completion expected about six months later.

The fire that destroyed the NCO Club was first reported at 1:12 a.m. Monday by a passerby. Flames had spread through the loft of the 24 year old converted warehouse building so that Arsenal firemen fought more than two hours before getting the fire under control. The fire burned for almost five hours, with only the outside walls left standing in the main structure and just little more in an addition housing a small private dining room and storage area. Four pieces of Arsenal Fire Fighting Equipment were used during the fight. The building, which dated back to 1944, was made into a clubhouse for Non-Commissioned Officers in 1960.

A board has been named by Col. Nelson Jean, Commander of the Army Missile Support Command, to investigate the cause of the fire. Preliminary estimates set the Temporary offices and a retail store are being established and temporary quarters for social activities of the 2,000 members hopefully will be found in the near future.

Bloodmobile To Visit

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit Redstone Arsenal on Wednesday September 21, 1966 from 8:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. at the old hospital, building 7110.

Volunteer nurses willing to help on the Bloodmobile may telephone Mrs. J. M. Loomis at 881-9582. Red Cross volunteers may contact Mrs. W. D. Lewis at 837-5004.

PULLING TOGETHER—All kinds of challenges and counter-challenges could be passed around by this quartet at the Combined Federal Campaign kickoff rally, but they are pledging to pull together towards another outstanding arsenal success. Shown at the Rocket Auditorium at the close of the rally are, left to right, Col. J. T. Prendergast, Assistant Project Manager of the Nike-X Project Office, Col. J. N. Jean, Army Missile Support Command, Col. Erwin Graham, Commandant, Army Missile and Munitions Center and School, and Dennis Garrison, Fifth Region vice-president, American Federation of Government Employees.

explaining thoroughly all facets of the fund raising appeal. When the pledge cards were received the greatest part of their work was finished. All that remained was for them to pick up the contributions and payroll deduction authorizations.

Last year ten of the 17 agencies attained 100 per cent participation and four others came within a single percentage point of perfection, as the overall Army participation reached 98 per cent.

In reporting his second consecutive 100 per cent drive, Ingram listed all 103 personnel assigned to ADCCS as campaign contributors. Their total gift of $1645.48 exceeded that for last year despite a reduced work force.

Like ADCCS, each of the other three 100 per cent organizations listed total gifts in excess of last year. There were 101 personnel included in the perfect report for the Comptroller and Director of Programs. Their contributions were ten per cent higher this year.

Thirty employees of the Quality and Reliability Management Office joined in the appeal with gifts that totaled "1.621.64, almost 25 per cent higher than a year ago. About the same was true in the Commanding General's Office where all of the twelve assigned personnel exceeded their 1966 contributions by almost 20 per cent.

100 per cent Participation In CFC Told

Monday may have been the official opening of the 1967 Combined Federal Campaign for most of the Arsenal but the traditional kickoff rally was more of a victory celebration for a few of the organizations whose agency chairmen don't believe in following time schedules.

The annual fund raising appeal was kicked off by Maj. Gen. John G. Zierdt, Commanding General of the Army Missile Command, at the Rocket Auditorium just five days after the initial report was received at CFC headquarters.

In his keynote speech Gen. Zierdt called on the agency chairmen to work toward "one more improvement in our campaign technique." He said he was convinced that the solicitation could be reduced from the usual six week period.

"If we can do this," he said, "we will further reduce the cost to the Government without sacrifice to the productiveness of the campaign."

The honor of being the first chairman to report 100 per cent participation went to Bob Ingram of the Air Defense Control and Coordination Systems Office. He was joined by the end of last week by SGM John Monger, reporting for the Office of the Commanding General, Abner McNaron, agency chairman for the Comptroller and Director of Programs, and Aaron Bracheen, of the Quality and Reliability Management Office.

Each of the three key workers canvassed their personnel early,

Mrs. Savings Bond To Visit Redstone

For the fourth consecutive year the reigning Mrs. U. S. Savings Bonds will include a visit to Redstone in her nationwide tour as the goodwill ambassador for savings bonds and stamps.

Mrs. Joan Berry, a five-foot-three, blue-eyed blond from Lusk, Wyo., will be here Friday, September 23. She will have lunch at an enlisted man's mess and tour Army and NASA facilities during her visit.

She is the mother of three children and the wife of a leading businessman in Lusk. Mrs. Berry is the ninth person selected to serve as Mrs. U. S. Savings Bond, after having competed in the Mrs. America Pageant.

Her selection was based on an outstanding record of participation in civic and community activities and her strong belief in the regular purchase of bonds.

The system is designed to use highly advanced radars and interceptor missiles to detect attacking missiles in flight, discriminate between real warheads and decoys and then destroy the warheads before they can hit their targets.

Besides design and development work on Nike-X, the contract also covers testing of system equipment and related research at White Sands Missile Range, N.M., and the Nike-X operated Kwajalein Test Site in the Marshall Islands.

Western Electric Company will perform work on the system at its plants in Burlington, Greensboro and Winston-Salem, N. C., as well as Laureldale and Allentown, Pa., and field offices at the test sites.

Bell Telephone Laboratories which is responsible for the Nike-X research and development will perform its work at Whippany, N. J., and at the test sites.

The principal Nike-X subcontractors and their locations are: Avco Corp., Everett, Mass., discrimination techniques and studies; Burroughs Corp., Plainfield, N. J., display system; Control Data Corp., Minneapolis, Minn., computer development; Cornell Aeronautical Laboratories, Buffalo, N. the Army Advisory Board, and other municipal and civic organizations in the area as well as officials from the Department of the Army in Washington, representatives and Commanding Generals from Subcommands of the U. S. Army Materiel Command, and from the Bureau of Standards.

Don I. Hervig, Chief of the Metrology Center, expects several representatives of other Military Services who work in Metrology, to attend the dedication.

The building houses four laboratories: Electronics Standards,

Neck, N. Y., radars; Sperry UNIVAC Division, St. Paul, Minn., data processing equipment; Thiokol Chemical Corp., Huntsville, Ala., Zeus propulsion; and Wheeler Laboratories, Great Neck, N. Y., engineering services.

Project officials said a number of sub-contractors would share in the facilities award. These include: Douglas Aircraft, Raytheon Corp., Microwave Associates, Burlington, Mass., electronic components; General Electric, Sperry UNIVAC, and several smaller firms.

The contract covers the cost of the facilities furnished by each firm and does not include a fee.

Under the planning and engineering studies contract, Western Electric and the major subcontractors will perform studies dealing with production planning and engineering for the system.

Project officials noted, however, that these studies are preliminary in nature since there is no Department of Defense decision on the Nike-X production.

Similar studies have been underway for several years and are aimed at finding ways to reduce costs as well as increase system reliability.

Microwave Standards, Physical Standards Laboratory and Engineering and Evaluation. The Electronics and Microwave Laboratories are shielded against infiltration of outside electromagnetic energy.

Offices and workshops line the wall area on the four sides of the building. An eight feet hall separates the laboratory areas in the center of the building, and the hall acts as insulation for the laboratories. Air conditioning is monitored by computer to keep the temperature and humidity under control. Built in filters in the air conditioning system help regulate the dust particle count and baffle electromagnetic energy infiltration.

Seismic shock has no effect on the Physical Standards Laboratory which is built on a isolation slab of four feet thick concrete in an area selected because of low seismic shock incidence. The site was chosen after seismologists had studied several sites on the Arsenal. worth, Third U. S. Army Comptroller, will present the second star to AMMCS.

Each of the organizations have not only maintained their rate of participation within the prescribed limits, but have increased during the year. The overall Arsenal rate is now at the highest point that it has ever reached, 94.3 per cent.

The Supply and Maintenance Directorate and the Procurement and Production Directorate each have reached 97 per cent while the Research and Development Directorate and the Missile School are at 96 per cent.

The Missile Support Command is now at 93 per cent participation and 90 per cent of the Missile Command staff elements are regular buyers of savings bonds.

Another organization that will come in for a share of the honors is the Nike X Project Office. Although not large enough to qualify for a Minuteman Flag, the office has shown a consistent rise in recent months and is now at 90 per cent.

Procurement Fair To Open Oct. 5 At Redstone Arsenal

Companies looking for business with the U. S. Army Missile Command will have the opportunity to review numerous competitive procurement packages during a Procurement Fair Oct. 5, at Redstone Arsenal. The event is being sponsored by the Missile Command's Procurement and Production Directorate headed by Col. E. J. McGinnis.

The Fair, first of a continuing series to be held the first and third Wednesday each month, is a follow-on to the successful Procurement Symposium held by the Missile Command in mid-June when some 350 contractors gathered for a day-long meeting in Huntsville.

Objectives of the Fairs are to add new names of qualified sources of supply to the current bidders list, and to facilitate operations of both the government and contractors by having available at the Fairs a large quantity of competitive procurement packages at one time and one place. Potential contractors can review a number of requirements and selected the ones of interest to them.

Further information will be released as plans progress. An announcement of the Fair will be distributed to firms already registered with the Missile Command and to potential contractors. Any company desiring to receive information and announcements should contact either the Small Business Office, 876-5441, or the Army-Industry Material Information Liaison Office 876-9891.

Lance And Redeye Put Through Paces At White Sands For Officials Of DA

Two of the Army's newest battlefield missile systems, Lance and Redeye, were fired successfully this week at White Sands Missile Range, New Mexico, before a top Department of the Army official.

Watching the firings was Lt. Gen. James H. Polk, Assistant Chief of Staff for Force Development. With him were Col. A. W. Reed, Project Manager for Redeye and Col. W. E. Mehlinger, Lance Project Manager.

Both missile systems are managed by the U. S. Army Missile Command at Redstone Arsenal, Ala.

Redeye, carrying a high explosive warhead, knocked down a small target drone in flames, after a direct hit that almost disintegrated the target.

Lance was fired from the system's lightweight launcher and impacted in a pre-planned area, far down the White Sands range.

Redeye is the world's smallest air defense guided missile system—a weapon which gives infantrymen an effective defense against low-flying enemy aircraft.

Built to be carried by a soldier and fired from the shoulder, Redeye gets its name from an infrared heat seeking device it employs to home on the heat of an aircraft's engines.

The Pomona Division of General Dynamics Corporation is system prime contractor.

Lance is the Army's newest battlefield missile system, capable of carrying either nuclear or conventional warheads. The first Army missile to use pre-packaged, storable liquid propellant, Lance fills the Army's need for a highly mobile weapon that can be transported easily by plane and air dropped.

LTV's Michigan Aerospace Division is prime contractor.

THREE ROYAL AIR Force Vulcan B Mark III aircraft will participate in this year's Strategic Air Command Combat Competition at Fairchild AFB, Wash., Oct. 2-8. SAC will have 37 B-52 aircraft in competition. Unit with highest number of 1,500 possible points will be awarded Fairchild Trophy. (AFNB)

Sixteen Civilians Start New School Assignments

Sixteen Army civilian enrolled for graduate study in their individual career fields this week at five leading American universities. All but three of them are employed in the Research and Development Directorate.

Two of them will attend graduate school for the first semester of the present academic year while the others will spend the entire year away from the regular assigned duties.

The training is made available to the civilian employees through the Missile Command's career development program administered by the Training and Development Division of Civilian Personnel. It is intended to assist the workers in increasing their career potential.

Charles Lyons and Julian Bynum will spend the first semester at the University of Alabama graduate school. The former is studying Public Administration and the latter is taking study in Metallurgy.

Ten others will be on the campus at Tuscaloosa for the academic year in the graduate school. George Emmons is taking Engineering & Mathematics, Billy Heatherington is enrolled for Mathematics & Physics and Carolyn Broten is taking Electrical Engineering.

John Howerton and Billy Gibbs are taking graduate work in Mathematics while Billy Jenkins and Howard Jackson are taking Mathematics and Physics, Donald Rubin is in Aerospace Engineering, James McCraw is taking his graduate work in Education, Management and Public Policy, and Barry Allen is enrolled for graduate work in Chemistry.

Gibbs works in the Support Command's Computation Center and McCraw is assigned to the Supply and Maintenance Directorate.

Hawks Meet Bulldogs In Football Lid Lifter

Sport Returns To Arsenal Slate

The Hawks will go up against the Bulldogs next Tuesday evening in the opening game of the 1966 Unit Level football league season.

Four teams will be competing for league honors in the first organized football competition at Redstone in two years. Joining them in the league will be the Bombers and the Arapahoes.

All but the Bulldogs will be made up of personnel from the Army Missile and Munitions Center and School. Personnel assigned to the Army Missile Support Command will be playing on the Bulldogs, coached by Lt. Barnes.

SSG Machielac will coach the Hawks, a team made up of players from Hqs, ETC, and A, B and C Companies.

Personnel from the 1st, 2nd and 3rd ETC units will be playing for the Arapahoes which will be coached by SP-5 Hickey. Those from the 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th ETC units will be molded together on the Bombers by Lt. Merle.

Games will be played on the Arsenal gridiron on Patton Road, each Tuesday and Thursday evening. Each team will play six games, or two rounds. Games will start at 7:30.

Following the completion of the regular season schedule, an All-Star game will be played pitting the first and fourth place teams against the second and third place finishers.

Playoff Final Tonight Ends Softball Season

The long Civilian softball league season comes to an end tonight when the final two survivors of the post season playoff go at it in the final game, or games, of the double elimination meet.

Two rounds of the tournament were played last week with only Finance and Accounting and Pershing coming through unscathed. The four Monday games and another last night determined the finalists.

An early development of the tourney was an opening round loss inflicted on Data Processing by Communications. The Processors lost a game to Documentation early in the season and then reeled off 19 consecutive wins before dropping their final regular season game to Communications.

The upset forced DPO into the loser's bracket where one more loss meant elimination. Communications turned around and dropped a 15-9 decision in 8 innings to Pershing.

In another extra inning affair, Finance and Accounting advanced to the third round with a 23-22 nod over Documentation in a real barn burner. The regulation game ended in a 16-16 deadlock, and each team scored twice in the 8th and three more times in the 9th.

Dave Bobo provided the margin of victory by hitting a home run with two mates aboard in the top of the tenth. Documentation almost tied the game once more but died after scoring twice. The losers had the winning run on base in each of the last four innings.

Tournament Results

Tuesday: Comp Center 19 Prop Lab 12; G & C Lab 23 S & M Lab

Wednesday: Communications 11 Data Processing 10; Pershing 19 Comp Ctr 6; Fin & Acctg 20 G & C Lab 13; Documentation 14 Comptrollers 4; Pershing 15 Communications 9; Fin & Acctg 23 Documentation 22.

Defending Champs Find Going Tough In Opener

The defending champion Rocket Rollers found the going a little too rough as the 1966-67 season for the MMCS Officers bowling league got away from the post last Wednesday.

The Rounders were completely unawed at meeting the Rollers on opening night and walked away with a clean sweep of the four points. Another clean sweep winner was the Black Jacks with four straight from the Bad Gnus.

Bob Percy led the Rollers attack with a 508 and Bob Love pitched in with an even 500 while Myron Sato hit for 505 in the losing cause.

Tom Wilkerson grabbed individual honors with a 565 for the Swags who were only able to split their match with the Hubs. Karl Pasch added a 526 to the Swag attack and Don Davis connected for 507 more.

Another even split resulted in the match between the Squirrel Hill Mob and the Satellites. John Miller had a 213 game and a 522 series for the Mob.

BACK NINE OPENED FOR BUSINESS—SGM Charles Sutey hits one straight down the fairway to open the recently completed back nine of the Redstone Golf Course. Sutey had the honor of playing in the first foursome off the tee along with Maj. Gen. John G. Zierdt, Col. Erwin Graham and the course pro, Mac McClure. Each was enthusiastic about the addition to the course and the Sergeant Major in Post Communications said that "it was an addition that was needed for a long time."

Vanderheyden Starts Season With A Bang

A pair of clean sweeps and one Honor Roll count featured the opening night session of the A-B-C Officers bowling league at the Post Lanes last Thursday evening.

The Wheezers picked up where they left off last spring by sweeping all four from the Hopefuls and the Lucky Strikes equalled that against the Pin Splitters. Saturn won three from the War Hawks and the Mixers took the same number from the Black Jacks.

Don Vanderheyden provided most of the individual fireworks with a 603 Honor Roll count for the Strikes. Don had a 201 and a 206 in leading his mates to a 2806 team total.

Ray DeBolt had a 216 and a 587 set for the Strikes and Rene Mood chipped in with a 533. Tom Wilkerson set the pace for the defending champion Wheezers with a 566. Johnny Johnson had a 531 and Dean Rodeman collected 523 sticks.

Saturn got a 557 effort from Carl Bayer and Dave Urbel put together a 504 in the losing Black Jack attack.

CWFE Cage Loop Off To Good Start

A response that "exceeded all expectations" greeted the preliminary announcement last week concerning the possibility of forming a civilian employee basketball league this year.

Eight teams have already indicated a desire to enter such a loop and several other persons have expressed interest, according to Len Twinem, of the Civilian Welfare Fund Council.

As a result Twinem has called for an organizational meeting tomorrow at which time more definite steps will be taken toward organizing the league. He said that the meeting will be held at the S & M conference room in Building 5681, starting at 1 p.m.

He said that all persons who have already entered teams plus those who are interested in getting further details should be present for the meeting. It is expected that first point of business will be to elect officers and designate committees to continue the exploratory work that has been taken by the Council.

The league would play under the sponsorship of the CWFC with the games scheduled at a local gym. The Council will provide the necessary equipment and buy uniforms for the teams.

AMSC Defeats Hqs. STC For Post Basketball Title

The Support Command pushed across three early runs and then made them stand up the rest of the way for a 3-2 win over Hqs, STC, in the third and final game of the post baseball championship series Sunday.

The winners had taken the first game of the series, 3-1, but STC came back to even matters with a 5-2 victory setting up the final game.

Pitching was the whole story of the final series with Bailey and Hensley sharing honors for the Winning Support Command nine and Ramsdell turning in a pair of outstanding performances for the school team.

Hensley had the honor of pitching the big victory although Bailey came on to get the last two outs in the ninth inning. He was touched for six outs but was tough in the clutch and left 12 runners stranded.

Ramsdell had turned in the STC win with a brilliant four-hitter in the middle game and he tried to make it two in a row on Sunday. But the three early scores proved his undoing when his mates were unable to overcome the deficit. He allowed just seven hits in the two games.

Bailey struck out 18 STC hitters in the opener and allowed three hits in outdueling Seeger to get his team off to a running start.

ED LEAHY FIRST ON HONOR ROLL

Ed Leahy signalled the opening of a new civilian bowling season last week when he fired a rousing 611 as the Field Services League pried the lid off their 1966-67 schedule at the Parkway Lanes.

Two more civilian leagues launched their season on Monday night and the fourth loop will get going tonight.

Leahy tossed a 227 game on his way to the first Honor Roll count of the season as he led his Bannaer TV mates into a 3-way tie for the league lead. The defending champion Guided Muscles and the Baker Co. bowlers also won a trio of opening night points to share the lead.

Jack Wade was a distant second in the individual scoring race with a 552 for the Rejects, George Farra led the Muscles with 547, and John Echenroth tossed a 546 for the Misfits.

Warren Schoenecht had the second best game, a 222, for Loeb's Barbecue and Wade included a 214 in his series.

Bridges-Clark Duo Takes Golf Title

Ray Bridges walked off with most of the honors as the first season of the P & P Golf League came to a very successful conclusion at the Piedmont Par 3 course late Wednesday.

Bridges teamed with Floyd Clark in winning the team title and added the low individual average to his laurels while Eddie Hammons was named the most improved golfer during the season.

The Bridges-Clark duo copped the league title by a single point after a season-long duel with the team of Billy Perkins, Bill Evans and Ralph Kay. Each of the contenders dropped four points on the final night of action.

Trophies and cash awards for the season were presented to the players by Paul Schaeppi, the acting P & P director, on Monday.

Bridges compiled a 59.86 average to take the average crown and also fired the most birdies for the season with 25. Howard Andrews had 20 birds and Jim Turner ended the season with 19.

Andrews won a special award for shooting the only hole-in-one for the season.

ARSENAL YOUTHS OPEN GRID PLAY

Arsenal youths will be represented in the Huntsville Parks and playground junior football program this fall with teams in each of the weight divisions.

The young Redstone gridders have been going through their practice paces almost daily for the past three weeks and have been pronounced ready by their coaches to make a strong run for the championship in each division.

The three teams will open league play next week.

Earl Joslyn will coach the Mustangs in the 110-pound division, H. D. Kelley directs the 95-pound Eagles and William Willis handles the Jets in the 80-pound class.

Asmus, Haley Hurl C Co. To Pennant

Stunned by a 2-1 loss to Hqs, STC in the opening game of the playoff series, Company C came back to hang up a 6-2 win in the final game and win the post softball championship last week.

The pitching of Asmus and the lusty hitting of Caruthers turned the tide for C Company in the final game after STC had dealt the champions their only playoff loss in the opener.

C Company got excellent pitching through all four of their tourney starts permitting their opposition to score six times. Haley and Asmus split the winning verdicts.

STC got the chance to challenge C for the crown with wins over B Company and the officers after a first round loss to C Company. Hitting was the key to their success over B, 10-3, and the Officers, 9-8.

Chargualaf did most of the pitching for STC and he got credit for each of their wins.

ZERO DEFECTS PAYS—Walter G. Kittleson, left, receives a certificate of excellence presented by Kelly Prady, the Assistant Director for Support Operations in the Army Missile Command Procurement and Production Directorate. Kittleson was the July "Buyer of the Month" in the Directorate based on the high quality of his work.

Walter Kittleson Gets Buyer Of Month Certificate

Just as the mail must always go through, the people in the Army Missile Command Procurement and Production Directorate who buy needed items for Army missiles have to work quickly, accurately and in the best interests of the government.

To recognize those who perform their tasks with Zero Defects, the Directorate has started a "Buyer of the Month" program for the person with the most outstanding record.

The July winner is Walter G. Kittleson who received a certificate of excellence and will have his name engraved on a metal plate to be attached to a plaque in the lobby of Bldg. 4488.

Officers Wives Sign Up For Busy Season Ahead

SUGAR AND CREAM?—At the Welcome Coffee for new members and guests of the Redstone Officers Wives Club, three are served coffee by a relative newcomer, Mrs. S. E. Gray. Awaiting their turn are (left to right): Mrs. H. N. Olsen, Mrs. G. H. McBride and Mrs. C. B. Williams.

TEEN TOPICS—Mrs. Samuel Yarchin (seated) and Mrs. C. R. Crawford discuss some of the activities open to teens at Redstone Arsenal. Mrs. Yarchin was in charge of the roster for parents who will help with teen activities at the Teen Age Club, as baby sitters (who will soon begin a class), or for special events. This is just one phase of the youth activities the Redstone Officers Wives Club helps support.

NEWSGIRLS—Pocket Rockets were handed to more than 370 members and guests of the Redstone Arsenal Officers Wives Club last week at the semi-annual "get acquainted" and "welcome" coffee. Coffee was served in the ballroom of the Redstone Officers Open Mess which was lined with tables along three walls where individuals could enroll in the activities the club sponsors. The Pocket Rocket is edited by LaVonne LaHatte who produces a chatty line of information, education and entertainment all about Arsenal-related business.

TOURS—Mrs. E. E. Stembridge, (standing), and Mrs. R. H. Mullen discuss the upcoming tour of the Farmer's Market at Scottsboro the Redstone Officers Wives Club is sponsoring. Also on the tour agenda this year is a trip to Gatlinburg and another to Atlanta. This is only one of many projects the club sponsors. Activities range from religion, music, theater to the practical aspects of home making, design, art and ceramics.

SPORTS—Keeping fit is a program that involves whole families and one way is golfing, another bowling. Mrs. J. N. Lathrop signs up for golf watched by Mrs. L. W. Martinec behind the bowling roster and Mrs. P. J. Lanphear and Mrs. W. H. Fogel at the golf station.

SECOND TIME AROUND—Mrs. J. N. Jean (standing) re-joins the Redstone Officers Wives Club. She was a member when her husband was stationed here as Secretary of the General Staff, Army Ordnance Missile Command. Now he is the Commanding Officer of the Army Missile Support Command. The workers at the membership table are (left to right) Mrs. A. O. Wiklund, Mrs. W. H. Clisson, and Mrs. D. E. Kreul.

Wives Plan Coffee

An "Operation Friendship" Coffee is planned for wives of civilians and officers of the Missile and Munitions Center and School on Tues. Sept. 27, 9:30 a.m. at the Officers' Open Mess.

The event will be hosted appropriately by the ladies of Office of Operations with Mrs. M. I. Fogle as chairman.

Those planning to attend are requested to bring an item of use clothing for a schoolage child. All such donations will be made available to less-fortunate youngsters in Huntsville.

Reservations close Friday, Sept. 23 and cancellations Monday, Sept. 26 at noon. Both are handled by Mrs. J. E. Williams, 877-4442.

CHILDREN'S BALLET—Mothers who may have aspired to the role of Prima Ballerina inquire about the classes being offered the offspring of members of the Officers Wives Club. Some mothers probably hope that the budding ballerina at least coordinates enough to gain poise and grace. From left are: Mrs. John Monroe, Mrs. C. W. Peters, Mrs. J. D. Christian, Mrs. J. G. Rogers, Mrs. T. O. Kennemer. Grownups are not left out. Adult classes in ballroom and cotillion dancing are being offered. There are also classes in the last two for teenagers.

WHOS—Members of the Redstone Officers Wives Club are helping organize a group of Wives With Husbands Overseas to give these wives the moral support the ones with husbands stationed on post may need themselves some time in the future. Discussing possibilities for such an organization are (seated) Mrs. E. E. Hayes and Mrs. T. G. Berry, (standing) Mrs. K. T. Taylor and Mrs. J. G. Foote.

MAKE YOUR OWN—Mrs. W. N. Knopka admires a cocktail dress Mrs. V. H. Williams displays during the Officers Wives Welcome Coffee at the Officers Open Mess. The dress was on display to lure new members to beginners, intermediate and advanced sewing classes sponsored by the Wives Club.

SOCIAL <sup>and</sup> CLUB EVENTS

Volunteers Are Making Red Cross 'Ditty Bags'

Civic clubs and business concerns in Huntsville and on Redstone Arsenal are cooperating with the Madison County Chapter, American Red Cross on a plan for assuring that there will be no "Forgotten" U. S. Servicemen in Viet Nam on Christmas Day.

"Santa Ditty Bags", small drawstring pouches of nylon net filled with gift items that would be welcomed by a serviceman, are being prepared for shipment overseas.

The Huntsville community has been requested by the National Red Cross to provide 900 bags to be ready for shipment to Viet Nam by Oct. 15. The local Red Cross chapter is coordinating this effort with Red Cross volunteers on Redstone Arsenal.

Mrs. Edwin I. Donley, Chairman of Volunteers at Redstone Arsenal, is working with Mrs. Max Murray, Chairman of Volunteers, Madison County Chapter of the Red Cross, in coordinating and directing this effort.

Clubs and businesses are being asked to contribute by making and furnishing the contents of a certain number of bags, by furnishing the contents only, or by contributing funds for parcel post mailing.

Reigel Mills of Huntsville has donated all materials necessary for making the bags and Mrs. Charles Yates, Madison County Chapter, American Red Cross production chairman and her committee are cutting out the bags. Greeting cards will be placed inside each bag with Christmas greetings from the organization or individual filling it.

The following items are suggested as suitable fillers for the Santa Ditty Bags: ball point pen, small packages writing paper, small address book, plastic cigarette case, lighter, plastic soapdish, terrycloth washcloth, nail clipper, individual packages of tissues, foot powder, small plastic bags (moisture protection for personal possessions), small puzzles or solitaire game, miniature checkers or chess etc., playing cards, paperback books, comic and cartoon books, small tapes for recording personal messages to send home (reel of 3" tapes, 150" in length), small plastic snapshot holders.

Redstone Arsenal has made commitment to sew and fill at least 100 bags. Sewing will be done by Senior Girl Scouts, Jangoes, Teen Club and Officers' Wives' Club.

Items to fill the bags will be collected in boxes at the following points: Main PX, Rod and Rake Shop, MMCS Book Store, Army Community Services Center at Building 7101, Officers' Open Mess and NCO Club.

Anyone wishing to contribute gift items is requested to do so as soon as possible, or not later than Oct. 8, because the bags must be filled by volunteers and ready for mailing by Oct. 15.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Edwin I. Donley, Chairman of Volunteers, Redstone Arsenal.

Officers Wives Plan Trip To Scottsboro Market Day

The first of four Fall tours sponsored by the Officers' Wives' Club will be a day to visit the Farmers' Market at nearby Scottsboro on Monday, Oct. 3.

On the first Monday of each month people converge from near and far to the Scottsboro Court House Square to sell, buy and trade wares. Crowds arrive early Sunday evening to camp in order to secure their favorite spots. Antique fanciers have always put Scottsboro high on their shopping-hunt list since sale items include everything imaginable.

The old time trading markets have almost disappeared but Scottsboro has earned its offbeat title of Flea Market of The South. The bus will depart the Officers'

Club parking lot promptly at 8.15 a.m. Oct. 3, returning 2:15 p.m. Reservations must be paid in full by Tues. Sept. 20.

Members of the Officers' Wives' Club, their immediate families and bona fide houseguests are eligible to participate in all OWC tours. The second tour of the season will be a scenic overnight trip to Gatlinburg, Tenn. Oct. 20/21. Mrs. A. W. Meagher, telephone 536-3980 is chairman for the Gatlinburg trip.

SAME To Meet Tomorrow Night

There will be a Society of American Military Engineers dinner meeting tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. at the Redstone Officers' Open Mess.

Jesse C. Horn, Chief of the Construction Branch Facilities and Design Office, Marshall Space Flight Center, will speak on "Construction of Facilities for M.S.F.C.". His discussion will encompass Michoud, Mississippi Test, and West coast facilities.

Horn attended University of Oklahoma and was admitted to the Degree of Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering.

Guests are cordially invited. Please phone Mrs. Bertie Clinton for reservations (876-3610).

THURSDAY BRIDGE

Among the seven tables of bridge players at the weekly session sponsored by the Redstone Arsenal Officers Wives Club Thursday, Mrs. Fred Croxton held high cards with Mrs. Jack Swearingen in second place, Mrs. John Bull, third and Mrs. E. L. Pearce low.

Mrs. Walter Thomas coordinates the sessions. Her phone: 881-8851.

Bookstore Adds Operating Hours

Another day has added to the shopping week for personnel authorized to use the U.S. Army Missile & Munitions Center & School's bookstore.

The bookstore is now open Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. This allows use by students who may find their week full of studies and classes. Items that can be purchased in the bookstore range from pencils to high-fi equipment, with every thing in between. If the desired item is not to be found in the store, qualified personnel will order it for the customer.

Another announcement made from the bookstore concerns the "grand Opening" of the "new" bookstore building. The "target date" has been set for Oct. 15. The new bookstore will be housed directly across from the MMCS Personnel Building (Bldg. 3222).

GARDEN CLUB TO MEET

The Redstone Arsenal Garden Club will present a program "Dried Arrangements", by Mrs. R. G. Moore, Tuesday, Sept. 20, 9:30 a.m. until noon at the Officers' Open Mess.

Reservations are not necessary. New-comers will be most welcome. For further information contact Mrs. T. L. Richards, 877-5767.

GARDENS OF MONTH—No gardens in Area A won the coveted Redstone Arsenal Officers Wives Garden Club plaque of the month but in Area B they had a repeater from last year, LCdr and Mrs. W. C. Brame, U.S. Navy who live at 362 Crowell Circle. The Brames had bright zinnias and morning glories framing the front porch. He is assigned at the Marshall Space Flight Center. She is snipping a zinnia. In Area C Capt. and Mrs. R. T. Walker, with Bob's help, had the best looking yard in the area with cannas, zinnias and roses. They live at 221-A Dyer Circle. The Captain is assigned at the Missile and Munitions Center and School.

Rosh Hashanah Services Begin At Chapel Today

Today marks the beginning of the Jewish New Year, Rosh Hashanah. Religious observance will begin at sunset this afternoon and end Friday at sunset.

Both traditional and reformed services will be held in Huntsville, and reformed services will be conducted at the Redstone Arsenal Post Chapel by the Jewish Auxiliary Chaplain, Rabbi Sherman Stein at 8 p.m. tonight and at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

The traditional services at Etz Chayim Congregation will be held in the Seventh Day Adventist Church, 3001 Whitesburg Drive at 5:30 p.m. today; at 8:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. tomorrow and at 8:30 a.m. Friday. Sabbath of Repentance services will be held at the Huntsville Conservative Synagogue, 2501 Whitesburg Drive South at 8 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. Saturday.

Yom Kippur (Day of Atonement) will be observed from sunset Friday Sept. 23, through sunset Saturday. Services at the Post Chapel begin at 8 p.m. Friday and will be conducted from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday.

Etz Chayim Congregation will hold services at the First Christian Church, 3209 Whitesburg Drive South at 5:30 p.m. Friday and from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday. Contact for the conservative services is Fred Glusman, 536-6621.

Students Hear LTC Carlson

Graduating students at the US Army Missile & Munitions Center and School, Redstone Arsenal were surprised to hear themselves referred to as "vessels" by their guest speaker during graduation ceremonies held Friday.

LTC Leonard W. Carlson, Acting Deputy Chief, National Maintenance Point, Supply and Maintenance Directorate, MICOM, used the reference in connection with vessels used in measurements. In his words, "As an individual who has just completed his course of instruction, how do you measure up?"

Col. Carlson also had a few words of advice for the graduates when he said, "Approach your new assignments with the idea that you are going to do the best job you can, and use those minor failures that you may have as experience toward doing even better".

The graduating classes of 10 different courses totaled 126 enlisted men from four nations. Included were thirty-five graduates from Germany, two from France, one from Nationalist China and eighty-six from the United States. Of the US personnel, three were from the USMC.

Designated as honor students of their respective classes were: PFC William D. Hoover, 87.1; PFC Robert A. Archer, 95.2; SP5 Cecil R. Bewley, 90.7; Pvt. Randall L. Schwab, 86.2; PFC Gerald E. Overton, 85.5; and Pvt. Harold Tecube, 88.0.

Foreign honor students from Germany were: Sgt. Dieter Schmitz, 93.1; SFC Alfred Meier, 95.5; and SSG Gilbert Radtke, 95.7. SSG Jean-Paul Rozier (France) was also an honor graduate with a 93.5 average.

He puts your VW on a special pedestal

Our Volkswagen mechanics are the best around. They're specially trained in exacting VW factory methods. They're equipped with special VW tools and hoists that help save you time and money.

More important, our mechanics know your VW through and through. They don't have to keep up with drastic model changes year after year. They're so familiar with your VW they could repair it blindfolded.

Next time you talk with a VW owner ask him about our VW Service. He'll tell you it's as unusual as the VW itself. Or, better yet, come in soon and see for yourself.

ZERO DEFECTS—SP4 David H. Torrance is congratulated by Col. J. N. Jean, Commanding Officer of Army Missile Support Command, for performing without error in his administrative duties at the Army Hospital. SP4 Torrance's certificate of achievement carried the story of how he had eliminated all errors from the physical records by suggesting several new methods in handling and processing. Previously, a high percentage of records were returned because of incomplete or inaccurate information. SP4 Torrance intends to become a physician and has enrolled in the University of Alabama, Huntsville Campus upon completion of his Army service.

Talk About Religion Proves Popular

"Don't get into conversations with foreigners about religion!" That has been one of the hard and fast rules at the Missile & Munitions Center & School here which trains several hundred students from Europe, Asia, Africa and South America each year.

In recent days exceptions to the rule have become one of the most popular and non-controversial activities of the foreign students and their families who are entertained by local citizens in a continuing hospitality program.

What's more, great enthusiasm for talking about other spiritual faiths comes from so-called "fundamentalist" Christian groups in the Tennessee Valley area.

For example, a Mohammedan lieutenant from Iran was asked to talk about his religion for half an hour to a group of Southern Baptists. Questions from the floor prolonged the event for another hour.

Roman Catholic students from Italy spoke to a Methodist group in Tennessee, not far from the site of the famous "monkey trial" where the late William Jennings Bryan and Clarence Darrow started in a famous debate between fundamentalism and evolution.

Episcopalians held a picnic for more than 300 foreign students where a highlight was an explanation of the religious practices of American Indians.

Students from Israel invited Protestants to attend their Pass-over meal.

The foreign students are now invited to attend church suppers of many denominations across the entire Valley. Requests for foreign speakers are handled by the school's Foreign Liaison Office.

Missile, Aerospace Symposium Is On Astronautical Society Agenda

The Southeast Regional Section of the American Astronautical Society will sponsor a three-day symposium in Missiles and Aerospace Vehicle Sciences at Huntsville, Nov. 29-Dec. 1, 1966, it was announced today by Dr. Steve S. Hu and H. E. Sharp, general chairmen.

The general objective of the symposium, to be held at the Sheraton Motor Inn, is to provide engineers, scientists and educators with the opportunity to be appraised of the current state of the art in the dynamic technology of the aerospace industry.

The meeting will be divided into six sessions covering the following areas: Aerodynamics & Thermodynamics, Propulsion & Structural Dynamics, Flight Dynamics & Mission Studies, Aerospace Environments, Meteorology & Geophysics, Guidance, Control, & Optimization, Special session on related subjects in missile & space vehicle sciences.

The papers will emphasize new ideas and the related technology, direct application of theoretical methods to specific engineering problems, verification of theoretical work and assumptions, and the results of flight and other test programs.

June 6, 1944 — D-Day landings were made on the coast of Normandy, France.

The U.S. flag was raised over the recaptured island of Corregidor March 2, 1945.

MSG JOHN B. SHEA

Special Forces Man Briefs Scientists On Vietnam War

The U. S. Army Missile Command, whose job is to arm the American soldier with missiles and rockets, this week got a first-hand report from the fighting front of the Vietnam War.

MSG John B. Shea, a veteran of three wars, was at Redstone Arsenal Wednesday. He talked to personnel of the Future Missile Systems Division in the Research and Development Directorate about his experiences in Vietnam.

The "Green Beret" soldier now is serving with Company E, 7th Special Forces Group (Airborne), Ft. Bragg, N. C., as a team operations sergeant.

The Missile Command believes his views and comments will aid in evaluation of requirements of the soldier in the Southeast Asian-type environment.

MSG Shea joined the Army in 1943. After completing basic and parachute training, he was assigned to the 11th Airborne Division and served with the 511th and 187th Parachute Infantry Regiments in the Pacific during World War II.

He was in the Korean War, serving as first sergeant of Company C, 23rd Infantry Division. After being wounded twice he was evacuated to the United States.

The 23-year veteran soldier volunteered for the Special Forces in 1958, and served from 1962 to 1966 with the 1st Special Forces Group in Okinawa. During this period he had tours of duty in Vietnam, Thailand, Taiwan and Korea.

Between wars, Sergeant Shea was stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga., and Ft. Lewis, Wash., and in Italy, Japan and Germany.

His awards and decorations include the Army Commendation Medal, Good Conduct Medal, the Purple Heart (second award), U.S. and Korean Presidential Unit Citations, Vietnamese Service Ribbon, Combat Infantry Badge (second award) and Master Parachutist Badge.

May 14, 1942 — Women's Army Corps (originally Women's Army Auxiliary Corps) was established.
