Two School Graduates Receive Education Award

One hundred VIP's and "glamour" men from four countries were graduated Friday, from the Army Missile & Munitions Center & School.

Guest speaker for the formal ceremonies involving servicemen from Germany, Belgium, Israel and the United States was Maj. Hershel P. Entreklin, Chief, Combat Requirements Branch, Research and Development Directorate, Army Missile Command.

Entreklin referred to the missile maintenance graduates as those with the "glamour jobs", the ones people hear about.

He told the men that the U. S. is building good weapons systems, but "Without your work, ("maintenance support"), the systems mean nothing." He pointed out that a single cold solder joint could deadline a whole Hawk Missile Battery.

He then told the men in the ammunition courses that although largely forgotten during peace time, "Let a Korean or Vietnam situation arise and suddenly you become 'Very Important People.'"

Two graduates who averaged 96 in their studies were presented the Association of the U. S. Army Educational Achievement Plaque. They were: Pvt's Jess L. Greer, (96.1) and Garth Walters, (96.3). Greer is from Houston, Tex., Walters from Chicago.

Other honor graduates included: PFC Russell D. Crenshaw, SSG Friedrich Gensewich (Germany) ISG Andre M. Depuydt (Belgium), and PFC Richard L. Jones.

Vice President Cancels Visit

TO ALL PERSONNEL:

Announcement was made last week that Vice President and Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey would be overnight guests at Redstone Arsenal this week. Monday morning the Vice President's Office had to cancel the Redstone visit because of other demands on Mr. Humphrey's time. We hope that our Vice President can reschedule a visit to Redstone at an early date.

There was a short time frame to make appropriate preparation for the proposed visit this week. Many of you had worked very hard to assure that the Humphreys received Redstone's traditional cordial welcome. Each person who was involved has my personal thanks for the cooperative spirit in which the multitude of details were being worked out.

Sincerely,
John G. Zierdt
Major General, USA
Commanding

Three Pershings Fly On Schedule On Desert Range

Two U. S. 7th Army units and one from the Federal Republic of Germany Air Force successfully fired three Pershing missiles the past week from the Blanding Test Site, Utah, into White Sands Missile Range.

This was the second round of firings in this series to be launched, all successfully. Two of the missiles were fired Monday night and the

Brazilians Visit Huntsville Area

Goods, Services Cost $16.3 Million

Several hundred small business firms in the Southeast and nationwide were among companies both large and small receiving $16.3 million during the last month from the Army Missile Command. The money was spent to cover orders for goods and services to support Army missile programs.

The city nearest Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, had the largest share of the business, $2.9 million. Firms in other Alabama cities received approximately $140,000, and those in neighboring states some $342,000.

The Missile Command buys such items as office supplies, electronic and other equipment for research and development laboratories. (See GOODS on Page 3)

Placement Bureau Will Help Students

Students attending or planning to attend the University of Alabama in Huntsville in the Fall Term of '67 who desire to work may now receive assistance through a newly developed Job Placement Bureau at UAH. The Bureau will also aid students seeking full-or part-time jobs this summer.

This service, open year-round, is available to full-or part-time students who have undergraduate or graduate status, according to Machael F. LaBouve, director of admissions and student affairs.

Students wishing to take advantage of this new service, particularly for the summer or Fall Term, are urged to register as soon as (See PLACEMENT on Page 3)

Nearly a hundred staff members and students of the Brazilian Army Command and General Staff College are visiting Huntsville and Redstone Arsenal this week as part of a tour of the United States sponsored by the Department of the Army.

The tour is designed to give the Brazilians a first hand look at the American way of life—socially, militarily and politically. A similar group toured the Huntsville area a year ago.

Traveling in two groups, the Brazilians arrived in Huntsville Tuesday. Shortly after lunch, they were welcomed to the U. S. Army Missile Command by Maj. Gen. John G. Zierdt. Later, they were briefed on Army activities at the Arsenal and toured many of the Army's Research and Development laboratories.

While here, the visitors will be briefed on many of the Army's air defense missile systems. Today the entourage will travel to Gunterville Dam.

Huntsville residents will roll out the red carpet tonight when the Brazilians will split into groups for dinner with several Rocket City families.

Heading the party is Colonel Francisco de Matts Junior, Executive officer of the Command and General Staff College.

They will depart from Huntsville Thursday morning.

Silver Anniversary Of Service

Education often can be compared to the weather. That is, "everyone talks about it, but no one does anything about it."

There is, however, one organization that has done a great deal for servicemen's education.

The United States Armed Forces Institute, more commonly referred to as USAFI, has enrolled more than six million students during its 25 years of educational service to the Armed Forces.

Beginning as the Army Institute on April 1, 1942,

25 years of educational service

there were 64 correspondence courses in technical and academic subjects and a few hundred university and high school courses from the extension divisions of participating colleges and universities available to Army personnel.

Since then, USAFI has become a world-wide, all-service, comprehensive educational effort.

Located in Madison, Wisc., USAFI's catalogs now list more than 6,000 available courses from 47 participating colleges and universities. USAFI itself has developed 222 courses.

In addition, thousands of service personnel have earned high school diplomas and college credits through the USAFI General Educational Development (GED) tests.

Continuing application of research and innovation in the USAFI program, such as the General Examinations of the College Level Examination Program, seek to improve the learning process of service personnel.

The USAFI contribution to the military community is immeasurable and has earned the respect, appreciation and admiration of all the Armed Forces. (AFNB)

STUDENT EARNS WHILE SHE LEARNS — Miss Margie Hammonds, who is studying electrical engineering, is gaining practical work experience while she earns money as a Co-op student at the U. S. Army Missile Command. A sophomore at Tennessee A&I State University in Nashville, she attends school for one quarter, then undergoes on-the-job training at the Missile Command for one quarter. Here she works under the watchful eye of her supervisor, Edward Williams, an engineer on the staff of the Arsenal Support Operations Directorate, Assistant for Communications Office. Coordinator for the Missile Command's Co-op Education Program is Charles Syer who works in the Training and Development Division of the Operating Civilian Personnel Office.

97 OFFICERS and enlisted men of four major Army units assembled at Hqs., 25th Inf. Div., RVN, to receive Vietnamese awards. Recipients ranged from brigadier general to private first class. Crosses of Gallantry with palm, gold star, silver star, or bronze star were awarded for exemplary leadership, guidance and outstanding technical and logistical support during Operation "Attleboro." NHA TRANG, RVN—Maj. Gen. Charles W. Eifler, left, commanding general of the U. S. Army's 1st Logistical Command, attaches the Meritorious Unit Citation streamer to the guidon of the 44th Medical Brigade's 8th Field Hospital during ceremonies here. Lt. Col. Charles O. Onstead (Ennis, Tex.), center, hospital commander, and Capt. Charles R. Clapp (627 Riveria Dr., Idaho Falls, Idaho), right, hospital adjutant, assist in the ceremony. The medical unit is a part of Cam Ranh Bay Support Command's Nha Trang Sub-Area Command.

VUNG RO, RVN—The morning's sun and the ripple of the South China Sea cast a picturesque setting on Vung Ro Bay's Port Lane. Vung Ro Bay, part of the 1st Logistical Command's chain of port complexes in South Vietnam, is nestled near the fishing village of Tuy Hoa, some 200 miles northeast of Saigon. The floating De Long deep-draft pier here, a port item which has already demonstrated itself as a valuable aid in Vietnam at such Log port locations as Cam Ranh, Qui Nhon and Vung Tau, has expanded the logistical base's capability. The bay, ideal for deep-draft ships, also enables Landing Ship Tanks (LSTs), foreground, to transport vital cargo directly to the coastline. More than 19,000 tons of cargo, destined for elements of the U. S. Army's 4th Infantry, (Ivy) Division, Republic of Korea soldiers and U. S. Air Force personnel, was handled by Port Lane during the short month of February.

The Rocket City Astronomical Association has scheduled two events: one on March 28 and the other on April 7.

On March 28 Conrad Swanson will lecture about the Size of the Universe at 7:30 p.m. in the Association's Planetarium where the audience will be taken on an imaginative tour of the galaxy. A second lecturer, Clarence Ellis, will talk about Grinding, Figuring and Polishing Reflecting Mirrors.

The April 7 meeting will be an Open House. The Planetarium's telescope will be turned on Mars, Jupiter and Venus—weather permitting. In addition to viewing the planets, visitors will be able to see a continuous showing of two films, Log of Mariner Mars, and Search for Extra-Terrestrial Life, both on loan from the Marshall Space Flight Center film library.

Activities are open to the public.

Flamenco Dancers To Be Presented

Jose Molina Bailes Espanoles, acclaimed by critics as Number One attraction among touring Flamenco dance companies, will perform at Huntsville High School Auditorium, on Wednesday, March 29.

The handsome young company of Flamenco dancers, singers, and instrumentalists scored an overnight success when it premiered in Washington, D. C. in 1962. The company has had a sweeping range of engagements from Montreal to Honolulu and from the Mexican border into all five provinces of Canada.

The majority of these engagements have been re-scheduled for a forty-week tour this year—the longest ever played by a Flamenco dance company in a single season in the history of U. S. show business.

The program consists of songs and dances from all of the Spanish provinces, from the court of Charles III, from the great Spanish operas and ballets, and from the Spanish gypsy camps. The costumes, appraised at $80,000, were designed in Madrid by Spain's foremost designers.

The performance will mark the end of this year's University Cultural Series, sponsored by the University of Alabama in Huntsville.

Tickets went on sale Saturday, March 18 at: Morton Hall Information Desk, Temporary Arts Center, Bookland in The Mall, Book Inn in Heart of Huntsville, and Andan News in Parkway City.

SOCIAL <sup>and</sup> CLUB EVENTS

Wives Welfare Committee Lends Hand In Emergency

The Welfare Fund Committee of the Redstone Arsenal Officer's Wives Club has been in existence less than a year, but it has already proved its worth.

According to the Chaplain, Maj. Robert E. Johnston, "The Chaplains have found this very useful because it is immediate response to an extreme emergency at times like weekends and holidays when a family is facing real distress. The Branch of the Military service is not important," the Chaplain says. "When a family needs help, the Wives Club Welfare Fund Chairman, who never sees the recipients, turns over a check to the Chaplain.

The Chairman has demonstrated real interest and is ready with needed help whenever I call." The Chaplain recalls four such cases that he considered in dire need. Others have been emergencies of lesser urgency.

He also stressed that this is not duplication of the work done by the Red Cross or the Army Emergency Relief Fund, but is assistance when these avenues of help are not available.

The Chairman of the Wives Welfare Committee is Mrs. Charles R. Cranford, Jr. Her assistant is Mrs. Sterling H. Abernathy. So far, approximately $600 has been used for the emergency fund, the Boy Scouts, and the International Park.

"The assistance to the families is only for immediate emergency need—such as late in the day when banks are closed," Mrs. Cranford echoed the Chaplain. "The entire Wives Club Board is wholeheartedly enthusiastic in this project."

Mrs. John G. Zierdt, Honorary Wives Club President, agrees with them. She said, "This project is the most important thing that we could do."

The recipients, if they were known, would probably agree wholeheartedly. The seven cases so far this year who have received these outright grants, (which individually do not exceed $50,) are not required to repay the money.

TEACHERS NEEDED

Mrs. Safron Canja, director of the Redstone Preschool for the year 1967-68, is accepting applications for teachers for the coming school year.

Qualified kindergarten and nursery school teachers will be needed when the school term opens in the Fall. Application forms and information can be obtained from Mrs. Canja at Bldg. T-3187 between 8 a.m. and noon. The telephone number is 877-5156.

NCO Orientation To Begin In June

FORT MONROE, VA. — A two-week Senior Noncommissioned Officers Orientation Refresher Course for infantry, artillery, engineer, signal, and armor NCO's in grades E7-E9 enroute to Vietnam begins 17 June at the Fifth US Army NCO Academy, Fort Riley, Kan.

The course is primarily for platoon sergeants, intelligence sergeants, operations sergeants, first sergeants or sergeants major ordered to Vietnam from non-branch assignments of an administrative nature such as: Reserve Officer Training Corps, reserve components or staff duty.

The curriculum includes 100 hours of instruction in leadership, physical training, small unit administration, combat supply, first aid, communications, public information, tactics, map reading and land navigation, and weapons training. Particular emphasis will be placed on infantry, armor, and artillery tactics. Thirty-three hours are scheduled for combat formations, fire support, patrolling, ambush techniques, platoon in attack and defense, security forces, local security, evasion and escape, air-mobile operations, counterinsurgency operations and practical work in the mock Viet Cong Village. Twenty-four hours of weapons, Starlight Scope, medium anti-tank weapons, M14 rifle, M14A2 automatic rifle, enemy and friendly mines, booby traps, and qualification firing with the M16E1 rifle.

Two courses will be held each month with approximately 30-40 students in the Jun-Aug classes and 15-25 in the remaining FY 68 classes.

Ballroom Dancing Classes To Start

The Redstone Officers Wives Club is investigating the possibility of sponsoring an intermediate ballroom dancing course for members and their husbands, to start Apr. 3 from 7-8 p.m.

The course would last ten weeks, and a minimum of 15 couples would need to participate in order to receive a special rate from a local dance studio.

Coordinator for this is Mrs. F. H. Niedermeyer, telephone 877-4548.

Recreation Group Plans To Study Ballroom Dancing

Group ballroom dancing lessons are being offered by Redstone Recreation Association this year. The instructors are qualified Arthur Murray representatives who will assist the group in improving dance techniques, and learning new dances. The next meeting of the group is Thursday, March 23, 7 p.m. at the Arthur Murray Studios.

Persons interested in joining this activity are asked to call 534-6576 or 536-9625 for information about the rates per couple, and the types of lessons being offered.

NEW OFFICERS—Attrition has wiped out the original slate elected last Spring to serve as officers of the Redstone Officers Wives Club—with the exception of the club president. Filling out the term of the recording secretary is Mrs. Richard M. Hobbie, III; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. S. Flynn, and publicity chairman, Mrs. H. D. Frear.

ENGAGEMENT TOLD—Col. and Mrs. Raymond Chapman Bishop of Redstone Arsenal, announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara, to First Lt. Robert Anderson Mann, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Mann of Chattanooga, Tenn. The marriage will take place at the Redstone Arsenal Chapel on June 3rd. Miss Bishop attended the Universita Cattolica del Sacro Cuore in Rome, Italy, and graduated from Mary Washington College of the University of Virginia in June 1966. She is presently teaching the third grade at Madison. Lt. Mann graduated from Tennessee Technological University in 1964 and was assigned to Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland, prior to his present assignment at the Missile and Munitions Center and School.

Photographic Society To Compete In Exhibitions

The Huntsville Photographic Society members are scheduling entries in the monthly competition as a part of the March 27 meeting in the Civic Arts Center. They meet at 7:30 p.m.

The entries will be placed in the Arts Council Exhibition to open April 1 at Huntsville High School and then move to the Temporary Civic Arts Center.

North Alabama Salon Competition in DUNNAVAUT'S MALL April 10-17 is also open to Society members. Each may submit four entries in both black and white and color slide divisions. Black and white prints are to be mounted on 16x20 backs.

Cryogenic Engineering Course To Be Offered

A short course in Cryogenic Engineering will be held at the University of Alabama Huntsville Campus, June 5-9, 1967.

Cryogenic Engineering deals with the processes and techniques required at low temperatures. The temperature range is normally limited to temperatures below -150° Centigrade.

This course covers the technical aspects for attaining, storing and transporting fluids and solids in the low temperature range. The presentation will include six hours of lecture and two hours of discussion and problem solving each day.

In general, attendees should have a good background in thermodynamics, mathematics and heat transfer. The level should be equivalent to or above that of a Mechanical Engineer with a Bachelor of Science Degree.

Enrollment may be made by individuals or companies. However, enrollment is limited, so early registration is desired. For further information contact Conference Activities Department, University of Alabama Huntsville Campus, P. O. Box 1247, Huntsville, Alabama 35807. Telephone 837-4700, Extension 321, 322.

Grotto Tour Set Saturday

A tour of the Ave Maria Grotto is scheduled by the Service Club Saturday. A tour bus will leave the Service Club at 9 a.m.

The Grotto is a four-acre park designed to provide a natural setting for the 125 miniature reproductions of some of the most famous historic buildings and shrines of the world.

The masterpieces of stone and concrete are the lifetime work of Brother Joseph Zoetti, a Benedictine monk of the St. Bernard College and Abbey at Cullman.

Among the numerous replicas are famous buildings of Jerusalem and the Holy Land, Roman landmarks, missions of the American Southwest and other famous shrines.

Sunday, the Club will hold open house for the enlisted men stationed here and their guests.

GETTING IN SHAPE—Four of the Protestant Youth of the Chapel get in some woods walking time before the Spring Retreat April 7, 8, and 9 at Camp Cha-la-kee on Guntersville Lake. The theme of this year's retreat is "The Rough Years." The schedule includes study, canoeing, fun, food, recreation and fellowship. The group will leave the Post Chapel for Guntersville Apr. 7 at 4:30 p.m. Left to right are: Chris Thompson, Chaplain (Capt.) Benjamin Gorbea, PYOC Councillor; Temple Vaughan, president, and Betty Vaughan.

Youth Band Hits Capacity In Drive

The Huntsville Youth Band received so many applications during its recent membership drive that it is unable to accept any more until further notice.

Nearly 300 youngsters from 9 to 17 are members of the police-sponsored group. Several arsenal connected families, military and civilian, have members in the county-wide performing group. The only requirement for membership is that the boy, or girl, report to one of the practice sessions on Wednesday or Saturday at the Youth Band Auditorium on Triana Boulevard, directly across from Joe Bradley School.

Information about the organization is available by calling Band Director Dan Della Calce at 877-2827 or 837-6324.

Documentation Whips S & M For CWF Crown

Last Period Rally Nets 81-53 Win In Final Game

A blistering fourth-quarter rally carried Documentation to an 81-53 victory over a fighting Supply and Maintenance team in the final game of the CWF basketball tournament played at the Post Gym last Sunday.

The win gave Documentation a clean sweep of league honors following their nine straight wins in regular season play.

For the beaten S & M cagers the loss ended a truly remarkable recovery. The Suppliers dropped their first two encounters but were given a reprieve when Intelligence and Security used an ineligible player in the second loss.

That provided the spark and S & M made the most of their second chance with three straight wins. The third victory, a 53-46 upset of Finance and Accounting, put them in the final game against the unbeaten Documentation five.

In the final game the underdogs stayed with the league champs until the last minute of the third quarter when their star, Jim Cunningham, left the game with five personal fouls.

From there on it was just a matter of how large a margin the Documentation team would pile up.

Cunningham and his running mate, Dan Chepkaukas, carried on a running duel with Greg Bogue and Dennis Vaughn through the first half with Documentation holding onto a five-point lead, 34-29, at the half way point.

Bob Hubbard picked up the tempo for the leaders in the second half as they widened the gap to ten points after three periods. Documentation turned it into a rout with a 27-9 margin in the final quarter as both teams cleared their benches.

Hubbard took scoring honors for the game with 20, one more than Vaughn. Bogue hit for 16 and Jim Bunnell also hit double figures with 11 for the winners. Cunningham hit 19 before being ousted on fouls and Chepkaukas added 13 more for S & M.

The Suppliers just plain out-scraped the highly favored Accountants in earning the chance to challenge Documentation in the final game. They used a methodical attack sparked by the outside shooting of Chepkaukas and Bill Bentley to offset the rebounding strength of F & A.

The score was tied 15 times including a 27-27 deadlock at the half. Supply took a three point lead after three periods and then added four more points to their lead in the final period.

Chepkaukas paced the attack with 19 and Bentley chipped in with 15 more. Charles Williams and Elliott Agee collected 16 apiece in the losing cause. Dave Carter turned in a tremendous defensive effort when he limited the high scoring Cunningham to seven points.

STC Pace Setters Have Rough Night

The underdogs had their day in the School Troop Command bowling league last week with each of the three front runners going down to defeat at the hands of teams far down in the standings.

The Headquarters First took it on the nose with a 3 to 1 loss to the B Seconds but managed to hold onto their slim one point lead when the Hqs Seconds and 7th ETC suffered the same fate.

While the leaders were having their troubles Company A took care of the fireworks by exploding with a 1083 game (997 scratch) in grabbing three out of four from 9th ETC.

Jerry Wiener had a 214 in the big game and added games of 176 and 223 for 613 Honor Roll count in pacing the assault. Larry Makanani had a 207 in the game and Doug Damp contributed a 222. The former ended with 570 and the latter totaled 562. Jeff Basile equalled Damp's score in the losing cause.

The league leaders got a 564 from Gene Shavlith but it wasn't enough as Don Reichert led the

Unbeaten Teams Lead Volleyball

Company A of the School Troop Command and 8th ETC have moved out to an early lead in the Unit Level volleyball league race, each with five wins in as many starts.

The former grabbed the lead in "A" division last week when they handed 7th ETC their first loss after four straight wins. The ETC outfit has a like lead over the once beaten Military Police in "B" division.

The short volleyball season was scheduled to end this week.

Tipton Jumps Two Notches On Ladder

Jack Tipton made the only appreciable gain in the Post Handball ladder last week when he swapped his fifth place standing for the No. 3 slot that had been held by Tom Ellis, the defending post champion.

A. A. Gilman-Bey continued to occupy the top rung on the ladder with J. O. Kovac still the runner up. Max Freudenberg held onto the fourth spot between Tipton and Ellis while Tom Lynch took over as No. 6.

The remainder of the top ten are Jack Yanchar, Manuel Flores, E. K. Hardison and Lt. Williams.

B Seconds with 550. Eddie Waldrep led the Hqs. Seconds with 556 in their losing effort with Nike FMTE.

TOURNEY FAVORITE—When the Arsenal handball tournament gets underway at the Post Workout Facility on April 1, Spec. A. A. Gilman-Bey will be favored to lift the crown now worn by Lt. Col. Thomas Ellis. The New York soldier, who is assigned to Company A of the School Troop Command, has taken over the top rung of the handball ladder which will be concluded next week. Col. Ellis captured the post crown last year but at the present time occupies the fifth place in the ladder.

Marshall Champs Make First Start

First round action in the first Redstone Arsenal basketball tournament will be completed with a pair of games at the Post Gym this evening. The six-team classic opened last night with the first pair of games.

The RPL Quantum Jumpers, winners of the Marshall league, make their first start in the 6:30 opener when they take on the winner of last night's game between Headquarters Company, School Troop Command, and Documentation.

The winner of Tuesday's game between the Military Police and the Test Lab Fireballers will take on Finance and Accounting in the 8 o'clock game tonite.

Two loser's bracket games are slated for tomorrow evening with single games scheduled for Friday, Monday and Tuesday. The championship game will be played next Wednesday evening.

The Jumpers dominated the Marshall league this year winning 14 out of 16 during the regular season and then adding the post season title to their laurels.

They have a well rounded scoring attack with three regulars averaging over ten points per game. Gary Arnett is their leader with a 17.6 per game average.

Regardless of who their opponent is, the Jumpers will be trying to knock off a team that has not tasted defeat yet this season. The Headquarters five posted 22 consecutive wins in taking the Unit Level championship while Documentation took both the regular season and tourney crowns in the CWF League.

Finance and Accounting made the meet by virtue of their second place finish in the CWF league season. Their lone loss was a heartbreaking overtime setback in the hands of Documentation.

They dropped another game to the CWF champs by two points in the tournament before being upset by Supply and Maintenance.

The Accountants have a well-rounded attack built around their very able playmaker, Dave Carter. Elliott Agee and Danny Franklin give them their potent outside shooting while Charles Williams is the principal threat under the boards.

Black Jacks Close In On MMCS Lead

A clean sweep win over the Hubs boosted the Black Jacks to within a single point of the leading Rounders in last week's action in the MMCS Officers League.

Ron Parker was the leader in Black Jack Attack with a 559 and Ralph Nearhoof was not far behind with 538. Hank Meincke added a 515 to the cause and Tom DeLoach was the fourth Jack to pass 500 with a 511. Bill Kelly shot a 518 for the Hubs.

The Rounders staved off the Jack threat by winning three themselves from the Squirrel Hill Mob. Milt Fogel was the leader with 542 and Bob Percy had 511.

Don Davis toppled 541 maples and Tom Wilkerson racked up 518 more but the Swags were only able to split with the Rocket Rollers. The split left the Swags a full seven points off the pace.

In the final match the Bad Gnus took three out of four from the Satellites. Bill Moeller turned in a 221 in the third game to keep the Gnus from scoring a sweep.

Legal Staff Includes Five Lady Lawyers

If President Johnson should happen to look at the Army Missile Command when he is thinking about one of his favorite programs, Women in Federal Service, he would be pleased to learn of the number of lady lawyers in the Missile Command Chief Counsel's Office.

Out of a staff of 33 lawyers, five, or more than 15 percent, are women — Shirley Miller, Jeanne Scales, Louise Dumas, Lou Ann Oberg, and Karolyn Pond.

The entire Army Materiel Command, of which the Missile Command is a part, lists a total of 233 lawyers, and only 13 of these are women, or some five percent.

Two of the five lady attorneys at the Missile Command are grade GS-13, one is a GS-12, one a GS-11, and one a GS-9. Under the Army Materiel Command Career Management Program, a GS-13 is a senior attorney trained and fully qualified.

Frank Buckley, the Missile Command Chief Counsel, considers the lady lawyers' contribution to his office so vital that he is planning to add another to his staff.

All the lady attorneys at the Missile Command find working for the Federal Government a rewarding experience from a professional and personal standpoint. They get into aspects of the law they might never encounter in private practice, and they know they are definitely accomplishing something on behalf of the Army.

Since most of the legal staff are men, as are other persons with whom they work, the ladies all understood they would be working primarily in a male atmosphere and they were prepared to accept this without relinquishing their basic femininity.

"These ladies are in open competition with their male counterparts. They are not restricted in assignment in any way. They receive no credit for being feminine and are not penalized in any way for their femininity. So far as I can see, in the normal course of career progression, one of these ladies could be a future Chief Counsel of the Missile Command," Buckley said.

The Chief Counsel is the Commanding General's advisor on expenditure of appropriated funds and on all matters of business and commercial law, to describe the mission broadly.

Shirley Miller was the pioneer among these women attorneys at the Missile Command, having started to work here in January 1960, and it is not unlikely that her proven competence influenced the decision to add more ladies to the legal staff.

She succeeds in making people feel she has a thorough understanding of legal problems and knows what she is talking about, to put it plainly. Good old-fashioned common sense, a keen mind, and the ability to express herself concisely with a warm human touch are among Shirley's talents.

Her areas of responsibility are MAW, TOW-Helicopter and ex-

Shirley is from Birmingham and received a degree in speech and a graduate degree in law from the University of Alabama. Her college studies were interrupted by a tour in the WAVES during World War II. She was a Chief Petty Officer and spent most of her service time in Washington, D. C.

Her husband is a local attorney and they have five children, which incidentally Shirley considers her main interest. Her hobby is some creative writing, mainly poetry. The children are Patrick, 16, Timothy, 13, John, 12, Daniel, 11, and Mary Elizabeth, 4.

For a couple of years before Shirley joined the Chief Counsel's staff, she taught school in Huntsville.

She is a member of National Collegiate Players, a charter member of Alabama Law Review, the Alabama and the Federal Bar Associations, Chi Delta Phi and Kappa Beta Pi honorary fraternities, and of Alpha Xi Delta social sorority.

The second lady to come aboard in the Chief Counsel's Office was Jeanne Scales, a native of Mississippi, where she was a partner in a law firm with her brother in Jackson before she came to the Missile Command.

Her move to Redstone came about rather casually. She was riding around Huntsville one day, came upon the Civilian Personnel Office, and decided to see if there were any vacancies for lawyers at the Missile Command.

Jeanne is an attorney advisor, is enthusiastic about her work, and says it has decidedly broadened her legal experience as she has handled everything from formally advertised procurement to international agreements. She now advises on legal matters relating to Research and Development procurement actions and Missile Command contract activities in support of the Advanced Research Projects Agency, an element of the Office of the Secretary of Defense.

"I like to stimulate thinking in people, inspire their confidence in the ability of lawyers, give them an opinion and lead them to an objective," Jeanne said. At the same time, she likes to temper her advice with levity — "A lawyer, especially one of the feminine variety, has to have a sense of humor and the ability to look at all sides and possibilities when reviewing a case," she added.

"My boss encourages independence of thought—if all lawyers thought alike only one would be really thinking" she observed. And she noted "There's always a challenge in my job, and I look for areas that are new to me to add to that challenge."

Jeanne is a graduate of Hinds Junior College, has a bachelor's degree in English from Millsaps College, and her law degree is from Jackson School of Law. She decided to study law after trying high school teaching.

A dignified looking lady who sparkles when she speaks, Jeanne loves people, and she likes to travel. Her business has taken her to Germany and various points in the U. S.

She is a biographee in Who's Who of American Women, and has been since the third edition, a biographee in Who's Who in the South and Southwest, and in the International Dictionary of Biographies published in London, England. She has membership in the Mississippi State, Hinds County, and Federal Bar Associations, and the Association of the U. S. Army.

While living in Jackson, she was active in the Business and Professional Women's Club and served as president. She is also a charter member of the Jackson, Miss. chapter of Quota International.

She has been admitted to practice before the Supreme Court, State of Mississippi; the Circuit Chancery and County Courts, State of Mississippi; and the U. S. District Court of Mississippi, Southern District.

Up in the Missile Command Andover Branch, Andover, Mass., Louise Dumas serves as an attorney advisor concerned with Hawk

SHIRLEY MILLER

Missile System contracts.

She is from Lisbon Falls, Maine, originally, and received her law degree from Northeastern University School of law in Boston. During World War II, she was a Tech/Sgt with the WAC. She still considers Maine her legal residence.

Louise has been admitted to practice before the Supreme Judicial Court, of the State of Maine located in Portland; the U. S. District Court; District of Maine; and the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals First Circuit, Boston.

Lou Ann Oberg from St. Louis is an attorney advisor in the Adversary Proceedings Division of the Chief Counsel's Office. She has been at the Missile Command since November 1965, and was a law clerk in U. S. District Court No. 3 in St. Louis before she joined the Chief Counsel's Office.

The law is just one of Lou Ann's many interests and talents. She is an artist and sculptress, and enjoys piano, golf, reading and knitting. Now she is taking a course in water color at the Huntsville Art League and in history at the University of Alabama. Her goal is a Ph.D in Political Science, and law is one of the stepping stones.

This very attractive young lady has a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science from Grinnell College, and a law degree from Washington University in St. Louis. During the time she was registered at Grinnell, she was selected by American University under their Honors Program in Government to study there. Students for the resident study at American U. are chosen from various colleges participating in the Program. She liked Washington, D. C. so well while at American U. that she wanted to stay there. For two summers while she was in college, Lou Ann studied at the Washington U. Art School.

Lou Ann received full tuition scholarships for all her college work including undergraduate and graduate school. In Law School at Washington U. she received the Dan Carter-Earl Tedrow Memorial Award for being the person best representing the aims and goals of the Legal profession.

She has held offices in the Junior Section of the Bar Association of St. Louis, been chairman of and served on numerous committees of this Association of the American Bar Association, Missouri Bar Association, Missouri

Bar and the Lawyer's Association of St. Louis.

In addition to these groups she is also a member of the Huntsville Art League.

The latest lady addition to the Missile Command's legal staff is Karolyn Pond who has been working here a couple of months. She too is from St. Louis and received degrees in English and Law from the University of Missouri.

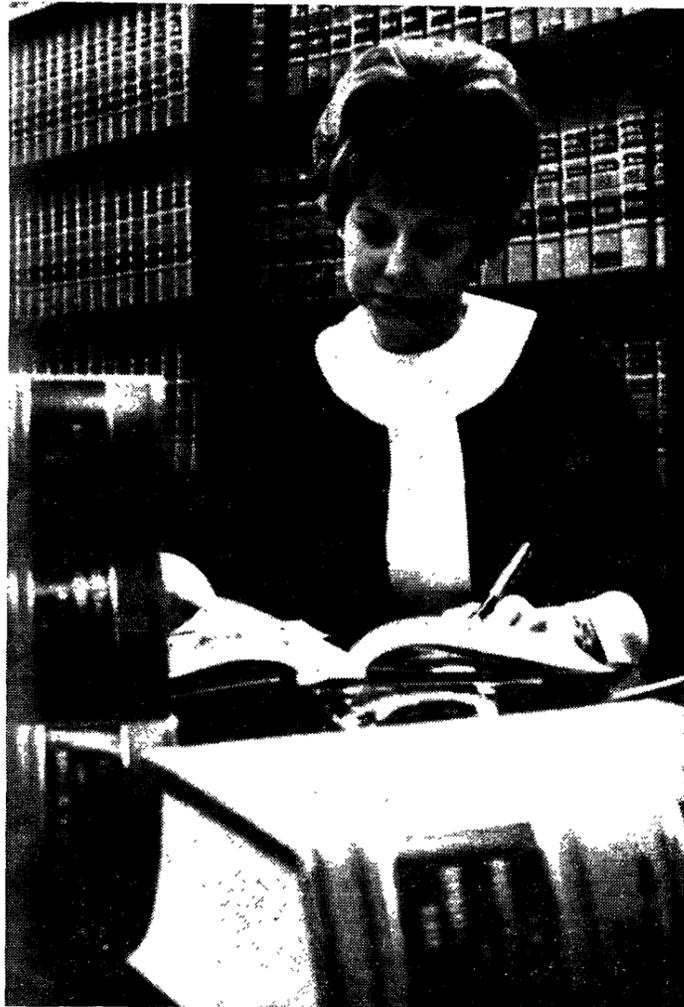

She is not only new in the Chief Counsel's Office but almost new to the profession since she took her bar exam in June 1965 and was sworn in before the Supreme Court of Missouri that September.

Karolyn has been engaged in assisting other attorneys in the Land Combat Division of her office with various problems during her training period. This is a temporary assignment in the nature of on-the-job training and will undoubtedly be followed by assignments in the procurement law field requiring the same independence of action now granted to the other attorneys, both masculine and feminine.

A refreshingly pretty young lady, Karolyn is a member of the Missouri Bar Association and of Delta Gamma social sorority. She had served as assistant General Counsel for the Missouri Public Service Commission in Jefferson City before moving to Huntsville, and had also been in private practice with a Fulton, Mo. law firm in 1965.

"I've been too busy getting settled in Huntsville since we came in October to find time for outside activities," Karolyn said. Her husband is an engineer and is employed by an aerospace firm.

The lady lawyers have made the Chief Counsel's Office a more

ARTIST'S CONCEPT—The Combat Development Command's exhibit next week is shown as an artist might sketch it. The exhibit will be located in the field adjacent to Bldg. 5250.

CDC Plans Exhibit At Arsenal Soon

A glimpse into the U. S. Army future will be presented to personnel of Redstone Arsenal next week when a special touring exhibit entitled Today's Vision—Tomorrow's Victory is on display here.

The mobile van display which tells the story of the U. S. Army Combat Development Command, will be in the field to the east of Building 5250, Monday; in front of Building 4488, Tuesday; in front of Building 5681, Wednesday; and in the area of Headquarters, Army Missile and Munitions Center and School Thursday and Friday (Building 3300).

The exhibit's story revolves around the Combat Development Command's main mission—to provide the Army Chief of Staff with answers to three questions: How should the Army fight? How should the Army be equipped? How should the Army be organized?

These questions are answered for viewers by means of a motion picture color slide show, animated and technimated panels, and colorful photo-artwork.

One section of the exhibit features a "build your own division" panel on the ROAD (Reorganization Objective Army Divisions) concept. By pushing selected "combat needs" buttons on the panel, viewers can tailor fighting units to meet specific tactical requirements based on the enemy's capability, the weather and terrain.

Another panel enables viewers to lift the relative weights soldiers throughout history have carried on the battlefield. It also highlights USACDC's program for lightening the future soldier's load without decreasing his mobility or increasing his vulnerability.

Viewers can also participate in a simplified war game, illustrative of USACDC's vastly more sophisticalated methods of evaluating new ideas. The objective of the game is to capture the enemy's jungle strong point by using one of four platoon-sized units.

At another section of the exhibit, viewers will take a simulated trip into the 1990's and see how today's actions at Army Combat Developments Command will successfully meet the Army's challenges of tomorrow.

Other exhibit highlights include a motion picture which points up the necessity of USACDC for today's Army; a color slide show on Army airmobility, now being used successfully in Vietnam; and a colorful flow chart outlining the stages in developing hardware for the soldier's use.

Today's Vision—Tomorrow's Victory was produced by the Army Exhibit Unit at Cameron Station, Virginia, with technical assistance furnished by Army Combat Developments Command. It is open to the public free of charge.

DOD STATISTICS REVEAL that 6,711 U. S. service personnel lost their lives through hostile forces actions from Jan. 1, 1961 through Jan. 7, 1967. An additional 1,534 lost their lives from non-hostile actions.

Don't be stood up on stand-by.

Going home, you'll want to fly on military stand-by. You save half the regular fare, and that's worth saving.

So come to United Air Lines first. You'll find us at airports serving 111 U.S. cities. From most of them, we have more flights to more cities than any other airline.

And United has the largest commercial jet fleet in the air, so there are more seats available, less chance of having to wait around on stand-by.

Men and women in United States uniform, with authorized military leave or furlough papers, fly stand-by at 50% off regular Coach fare. (This fare also applies within 7 days after discharge.) You can sit wherever the seats are—even First Class when the other seats are filled.

Here's hoping we see you soon. Back home, they miss you.

For information and tickets, visit or call your JAMTO office located at Bldg. 3684, Neal Road. Tele. No. 876-5851.

Army's posture at the end of FY68 will represent further progress toward the "One Army" concept with actions to date already placing much of the needed support for active divisions into the reserve force structure.

Proposed forces for the end of FY68 are the equivalent of 27 and one-third divisions. Nine of these are reserve components. A reserve infantry division will be converted to mechanized.

Substantial Progress

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said "very substantial progress" has been made in working out the detailed composition of each division and brigade force, "not only in terms of maneuver battalions, but also in terms of various other combat and support units."

The secretary recalled statements he made in May 1961 supporting a realignment before congressional committees. At that time he noted, "they must be so organized, trained, and equipped as to permit their rapid integration into the active Army."

A "ready" division without "ready" support elements would be incapable of combat, he said. "The division force concept insures that our planning explicitly recognizes this relationship, indeed interdependence, between the division and its major support elements, since it requires us to identify these elements in detail."

For the priority reserve, Mr. McNamara said: "We are temporarily treating three of the existing brigades as brigade forces, leaving 13 in the supporting forces in FY68."

While there are no plans to change the number of priority reserve maneuver battalions, specific mission assignments will change.

New Airmobile Unit

Plans are to convert an active airborne division to airmobile configuration in early FY69. A new, permanent airborne brigade will be formed from the converted division's excess elements.

There will be a small increase in Army maneuver battalions to increase the armor content of the Europe-oriented forces and the infantry content for other forces.

AIR FORCE RESERVE unit, the 446th Troop Carrier Wing, Ellington AFB, Tex., has received special recognition from NASA for its "unique contribution to the United States manned spacecraft effort over the past four years." Specifically noted was the wing's flight testing support provided for parachute systems and radio location aid systems for the Gemini and Apollo programs. (AFNB)

Elimination of cigarette smoking would prevent most lung cancers, according to the American Cancer Society. Lung cancer took almost 50,000 lives in 1966.

Command Awards
Sergeant Contract
For System Work

The U. S. Army Missile Command has awarded a $947,709 contract to Sperry Utah Company for work on the Sergeant missile system.

The contract will provide for continuation of research and development work on the Sergeant Phase II Ground Electronics Improvement Program.

Sperry Utah, a division of the Sperry Rand Corporation, will carry out the contract at its facilities in Salt Lake City, Utah. The company is prime contractor for the missile system.

The improvement program is designed to increase the fire-on-time reliability of Sergeant, a Field Artillery ballistic missile, which can be armed with either a nuclear or conventional warhead. It has a range of from 25 to 75 nautical miles.

Heart of the new electronics will be a digital computer which consolidates the functions of several pieces of equipment used in checking out and counting down the missile in the present system.

Sergeant is in operation with United States troops on the continent and overseas, as well as with troops of the Federal Republic of Germany. It is managed from the Sergeant Project Office at the Army Missile Command, Lt. Col. Arthur G. Lange, Jr., is Project Manager.

The contract was negotiated by the Missile Command's Procurement and Production Directorate.

LIEUTENANT HAS PRINCIPAL ROLE IN LOCAL BALLET

The principal male dancer for the Huntsville Ballet Presentation Saturday night at Huntsville High Auditorium is Army Lt. J. J. Jepson, Executive Officer of the 291st Military Police Company.

Lt. Jepson joined the local Ballet Association in June, 1966. At 23 he is a veteran of almost 17 years in show business on and off Broadway. Lt. Jepson has also made time to earn a Bachelor of Arts Degree from the University of Richmond (Va.), between filling assignments in such classics as Annie Get Your Gun, Brigadoon and other Broadway musicals.

He first started his dance studies under Marion Mease and at 17 was the principal dancer of the Richmond Ballet Company.

IN NINE YEARS of operation, TAC's 4440th Aircraft Delivery Group, Langley AFB, Va., has delivered more than 12,000 aircraft to almost every area on the globe. The 4440th is the only organization solely responsible for delivery of Air Force and Military Assistance Program aircraft.

Summer Job Program Youth To Continue This Summer

FORT MONROE, VA. — Thousands of young people of ages 16-21 are expecting to find summer employment at installations under the United States Continental Army Command (CONARC) this year. Personnel officials at CONARC Headquarters, Fort Monroe, Va., say the President's Youth Opportunity Campaign will be used for the third year on CONARC installations throughout the country.

It is a program tailored for students in need of jobs to supplement educational costs and to develop skills.

The number to be employed will be announced late next month.

The minimum wage for a maximum 40-hour work week has been set at $1.49 per hour.

Specific skills are not needed to fill these jobs. Job holders will be used on such projects as grounds beautification, rehabilitating facilities prior to the arrival of reserve forces, and office work without a requirement for clerical skills.

In last year's program, approximately 200 summer positions were filled throughout.

Following normal standards for federal employment, these jobs will be filled without regard to race, creed, or color. Positions also will be open equally to male and female applicants.

The primary focal point for youth interested in the program is the offices of the U. S. Employment Service in the 50 states.

When you can fix this Volkswagen, you can fix any body.

When you can rebuild the crumpled fender of a Volkswagen Karmann Ghia (built by hand in the first place by the Karmann custom coachmakers), you can hand-shape, hand-weld and hand-sand any body that comes down the street.

Since we can, we will: our VW Body and Paint Shop is open to everybody. For collision work. For touch-ups or total paint jobs.

If you're a VW owner, you know what to expect: service as good as the car. Craftsmanlike. And businesslike.

If you're an owner of any other car, come in anyway where you see our sign "Authorized VW Body Shop."

Sometimes we think it ought to say "We do invisible mending."

Training Support Meet Began Yesterday Here

Col. Glenn Bass, Chief, National Maintenance Point, S&MD, welcomed a Training and Support Work Group meeting at the Missile Command yesterday. The group convened for the purpose of coordinating those areas of Training and Training Support associated with the TOW, XM-26, and Advanced Aerial Support System Weapon Systems.

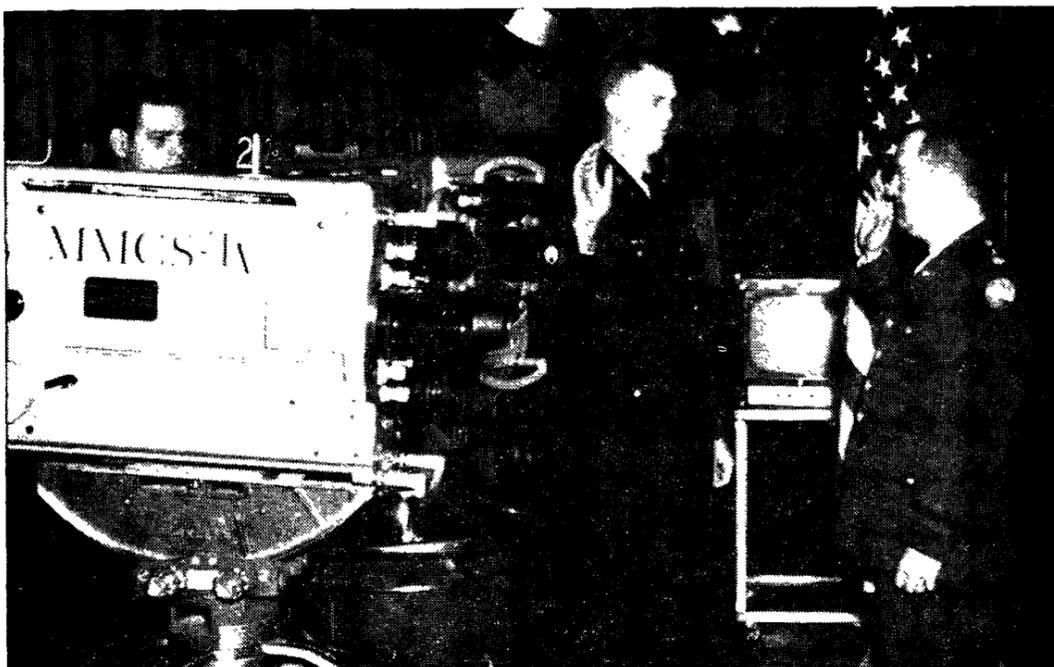

Representatives were from major Army Command and Agencies.

Col. Bass emphasized the importance of personnel and training in the development of an effective weapon system. He stated that the hardware, its support facilities and trained personnel required to man the hardware, and facilities are all equally subordinate to the system and are, therefore, equally essential subsystems to be considered in system development. COL Bass emphasized the need for complete and effective cooperation and coordination as so many different Agencies have mission assignments in the personnel and training area.

Personnel from the TOW Project Manager's Office and Land combat Commodity Office participated.

The meeting was sponsored by the New Equipment Training Division, NMP, S&MD and chaired by the Div. Chief, Jim Goodwin. Personnel of the Maintenance Engineering Division made presentations on maintenance support.

VOLUME CONCENTRATES ON LOGISTICS

The logistical experience of the U. S. Army from its birth through the period of the Korean War is told in the latest volume of the ARMY HISTORICAL SERIES, The Sinews of War: Army Logistics, 1775-1953. Sinews of War contains numerous example of the Army's varied logistical experience which will enable the reader to gain needed perspective on logistical problems as a whole and comprehend more fully this comparatively neglected aspect of the Army's history.

The volume was written for the Army by Professor James A. Hutson, a combat veteran of World War II and an Infantry colonel in the Army Reserve. He is on leave from his post as Professor of History at Purdue University and is teaching at the National War College during the current year.

The 789-page book, published by the Office Chief of military History, Department of the Army, contains photos, maps, charts, appendix, bibliography and index. It is on sale for $5.75 by the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.

Frequent overexposure to direct sunlight causes most skin cancers, according to the American Cancer Society. Skin cancer struck more than 85,000 in 1966 and caused about 5,000 deaths.
