CSC Studies Better Promotion Practices

A better way to rate and rank individuals in the clerical field who are proposed for entry into first-line supervisory jobs is the thrust of a research project being conducted by the Civil Service Commission.

The project is expected to be completed within the next 12 to 18 months and result in a valid method for determining which persons are best qualified for initial entry into supervisory positions.

A representatives from the Commission recently visited the Army Missile Command to interview and give written tests to second-line supervisors as part of the research project. They were asked, for instance, to describe what qualities a first-line supervisor should have.

The Commission has studied a method used by other Department of Defense activities for first-line supervisor selection whereby individuals are rated according to their attributes for personnel management as well as their work experience and educational level.

Dave Balkin of the Civilian

Personnel Division, the Missile Command action officer for the project, said that a more appropriate evaluation of potential first-line supervisors would serve as an excellent management tool.

"With this system in force, when we have a vacancy, we could readily consult the files to see which persons have the best qualifications for handling people," he said. "Other services have found that there is a definite relationship between the way persons have scored on their tests and the effectiveness of the groups they supervise."

Rocket Ruminations

Without the United Nations our country would walk alone, ruled by fear, instead of confidence and hope. —Eleanor Roosevelt

Heraldry is as old as the human race, and the carrying of banners has been the habit of nations since the beginning of time.

It is most natural that America should have had its colonial flags as soon as the first colonists settled. And it is not surprising that those flags should have been created in a wide variety.

The Dutch brought their own striped flags when they settled in New Amsterdam, which we now call New York, and pioneers from other nations also brought along the standards of their countries when they settled on our shores.

The British flag, under which the English colonization of America was effected, remained the flag of the colonists for more than a hundred years and is therefore of special significance to our country in the evolution of our National flag.

Our separation from the mother country came gradually and it was only by degrees that the union flag of Great Britain was discarded. The final breach between the Colonies and Great Britain brought about the removal of the union from the canton of our striped flag and the substitution of stars in a blue field.

Back in the days of the Revolution there were colonial or regional flags by the score. While the pine tree was a popular design, there were numerous other symbols, such as beavers, anchors, and rattlesnakes, or combinations of these symbols, with appropriate slogans.

The Stars and Stripes was created June 14, 1777, when the Continental Congress resolved: "That the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

General Washington, when the Star-Spangled Banner was first flown by the Continental Army, is reputed to have described its symbolism as follows: "We take the stars from heaven, the red from our mother country, separating it by white stripes, thus showing that we have separated from her, and the white stripes shall go down to posterity representing liberty."

Americans around the globe—especially servicemen and women—will be honoring Old Glory on its 195th anniversary June 14. The Stars and Stripes still represents a land of liberty and our armed forces are there to insure it stays that way. (AFPS Editorial)

QUESTION: When people go on TDY and are provided transportation such as a rented car, can the government pay for additional insurance such as collision damage waiver, $2 per day, and personal accident insurance which amounts to $1 per day?

ANSWER: Most commercial rental companies carry insurance to assure minimum public liability, property damage, and fire and theft protection. These coverages, normally included in the basic rental rates, generally include a $100 deductible coverage, the renter (traveler) being held responsible for damages up to the amount of $100. In addition to this coverage, most rental companies offer a plan whereby the renter may pay an additional charge (generally $1 per day or $5 per week) to waive the condition of responsibility for damages to the vehicle up to $100.

AR 55-355 (Chapter 316) states that the payment of this additional charge is in the best interest of the government as well as the traveler, and is considered to be a reimburseable item of expense when paid by the traveler from his personal funds.

However, it will be noted that payment of the additional charge is authorized only for days when official duty is being conducted. For instance, in the event the temporary duty extends over a weekend, and no official duty is performed on Saturday and/or Sunday, payment of the additional charge will not be authorized for those days.

Pershing Firings Coming To End

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE—The final round in the Army's spring series of Pershing missile firings was scheduled for launch yesterday from a site near Green River, Utah, programmed to impact on White Sands Missile Range.

The missile was to be fired by troops of the 2nd Battalion, 44th Artillery, from Ft. Sill, Okla.

The current series began April 29. U.S. Seventh Army units fired the first 11 rounds under simulated tactical conditions.

A fall series of Pershing launches has been scheduled for McGregor Range, a Ft. Bliss, Texas, installation just south of White Sands. The beginning date and number of Pershings scheduled were not disclosed by the Army.

Since the off-range firing program began in late 1963, 138 Pershings have been fired by U.S.

Army troops and units of the Federal Republic of Germany Air Force. The total includes 19 rounds from Ft. Wingate, N.M., and 35 from Gilson Butte southwest of Green River, 73 from Black Mesa near Blanding and 11 from Green River, all in southeastern Utah.

This year marks the first time Pershings have been launched at the Utah Launch Complex headquarters at Green River.

In 1970, Black Mesa was used as the firing site.

Home Run Barrage

CWF Sluggers Go For Broke

Civilian Welfare Fund softball players were taking them four bases at a time last week when the eight league encounters saw a total of 28 home runs propelled over the fences at the Civilian Recreation Area.

Missile Intelligence accounted for eleven round trippers and RASA hitters connected for 13 more and the two teams each won a pair of games as did the Corps of Engineers. The week's action left MIA and the Corps together at the top of the standings and RASA all even with MISD in third.

MIA made it eight for eight by blasting GEM, 21-4, and D&T, 23-4. The Engineers equalled that with a 6-4 win over the Metrology Lab and a 15-4 whipping of GEM.

The RASA long ball barrage produced a 22-10 defeat of MISD and a 24-10 win over Safeguard. A couple of close battles completed the card with D&T shading Communications, 8-6, and MISD taking the measure of Metrology for a 10-7 win.

Jim Gamble hit for the circuit twice in each of the MIA wins while Gary Moore and Jack Harris each connected once against GEM and twice in the win over D&T. Mel Thomas joined the homer brigade in the latter game and Doug Hughes went four for five.

RASA presented a whole line-up of home run hitters with no less than seven players getting into the act. John Roberts and Jerry Arszman collected three apiece and Wayne Dahlke and Joe McClurran each hit a pair of round trippers.

Jay Allen, Sam Hemphill, and Randy Sumner were the other RASA hitters to deliver homers. Buddy Lewis homered and Hal Jacobs collected four hits in the losing MISD attack.

Jacobs homered himself and Fred Smith slapped a pair of triples to get MISD safely past Metrology. Jim Williams homered and Jay Compton collected three hits for the Labmen.

The Engineers stayed even with MIA despite a lack of home runs in their two outings. Only Hamil Martin was able to connect and his two-run shot provided the winning margin over Metrology.

Fred Taylor and Dave Cassidy got four hits apiece in leading the attack against GEM. Ray Parker and Ocke Freuchtnicht each hit safely three times in the losing cause.

Henry Younger was the man of the hour in the D&T win over Communications. His triple drove home the winning run in the top of the seventh and Tom Johnson singled home Younger with an insurance counter.

John Ruddy went four for four and Marv Throneberry hit safely on three of four tries for Communications.

Bulldog one-putted to take his well-deserved eagle and then continued with a bogey on the 397-yard, par four 4th.

He must not have been too upset, though — Bulldog finished out with 36, taking the prize for low gross on the front nine.

Inter-Post Softball Debuts Here On Friday

Third Army softball is on the Arsenal's weekend agenda with Redstone playing host to Ft. Benning for a pair of games on Friday evening and Saturday afternoon.

Redstone will be trying to get on the winning track at the expense of Benning after dropping a pair to Ft. McPherson in Atlanta last week.

The two rivals in the western division of the Third Army's interpost softball competition will clash at 7 on Friday evening and then return to the diamond next to Linton Field for a 2 p.m. game on Saturday afternoon.

COL A.J. Forsythe, director of the Redstone Arsenal Support Agency, will throw out the first ball and the 55th Army Band will help to inaugurate the new concept of athletic activity within the Third Army area.

Coach Ron Hall blamed loose defensive play for the two losses at McPherson last week. He said that both of his pitchers, Charles Brooks and Gene Cagle, deserved a much better fate.

Brooks permitted just three hits and no earned runs but still dropped a 3-1 decision in the Friday contest. Jim Johnson tripled and scored the lone Redstone run on a sacrifice fly.

Cagle opened on the hill on Saturday and was given even less support in Dropping a 12-1 decision. McPherson did score two earned runs this time while Cagle homered to prevent the shutout.

YSP Swimmers Open Against City's Best

Redstone's entry in the Rocket City Swim League opens the 1971 campaign tonight when it meets Whitesburg at the latter's pool. Racing begins at 6:30 PM.

Beginning their second year of competition in the 16-team city loop, the arsenal swimmers are facing a tough test. Whitesburg has won the city championship for the past six years.

The Whitesburg pool is on Sanders Rd. next to the Whitesburg Junior High School and is best reached from the Arsenal by taking Martin Rd. through the main gate to Whitesburg Drive.

More than 70 youngsters have been working out under Coach Greg Woods at the Special Services pool since schools closed. Mike Hertzog and Mary Anderson are assisting Woods, a former intercollegiate swimmer who raced while at Lafayette University.

LT John Toenes, Youth Sports Program Commissioner for Swimming, said about 60 percent of the team are returning veterans of last year's squad and emphasized that there is room for more. The team works out daily from 8 AM until 10. YSP is also sponsoring a diving team this year which practices at the same time.

All military dependent children—both boys and girls—between the ages of six and 17 are eligible to join the team.

The league swim meets are held every Wednesday night. Diving meets are held separately. A City Championship Swim Meet for all 16 teams has been scheduled at Big Spring pool on July 30-31.

In age group swimming, individual events include freestyle, breast stroke, back stroke, and butterfly over distances of 50 yards or 50 meters. Boys and girls eight years and younger race at 25 yards. There are also relay races for all age groups. The league has instituted a new event this year, a mixed freestyle relay for teams of two boys and two girls.

Arsenal Nine Takes On Arab

The Redstone entry in the Tennessee Valley semi-pro baseball league will be out to repeat an earlier double win when they take on Arab in a home and home series Saturday night and Sunday afternoon.

The Rockets captured a pair of one-run decisions in the earlier series with Arab. The Knights will be here for a 7:30 contest at Linton Field on Saturday and will host the Rockets for a 2:20 encounter on Sunday.

The Redstone team has taken eight of twelve league starts today despite dropping a pair to New Hope last weekend. The county team overcame an early 4-0 deficit to take an 8-5 win on Saturday and went 10 innings for a 3-2 victory the next day.

LT Wayne Wildman, playing manager of the Rockets, is seeking to schedule additional games in preparation for the Alabama State semi-pro tournament.

He said games can be arranged here or away by contacting him at 876-2089.

Teen Club Still Registering

Teenagers have two more sessions at which they can register to participate in the Redstone Teen Club summer program: tonight and Friday.

One stipulation is that new participants must be accompanied by a parent or guardian for registration. The Club is located in Bldg. 114 and the register will be available between 5 and 7 p.m.

Anyone over thirteen who has not reached his 20th birthday is eligible. ID cards are needed to register.

Club activities began Monday. The Club is open from 7 to 11 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesday, from 5 p.m. until midnight on Fridays (band night).

"DO YOU REMEMBER—" Jerry Breedlove (left), Internal Security Division, and Robert L. Wills of Lebanon, Ind. stir up old memories of the Corps of Military Police detachment which was one of the first military police organizations assigned at Redstone Arsenal in the early Forties. Wills and his wife, right, visited Redstone during their vacation. Wills was stationed at Redstone in 1942-1943 as a PFC with the 221st Military Police Company. He recalled the detachment pitched tents near the present saddle club building and told how he stood guard at the intersection of Jordan Lane and Drake when they were gravel roads. He remembered when headquarters offices were moved into what is now the Officers Open Mess.

Tech Publications Released By Defense Documents

ABERDEEN PROVING GROUND, Md.—A series of 952 technical publications defining Army test procedures has been released for general distribution through the Defense Documentation Center.

In relaxing controls on Materiel Test Procedures (MTPs), the Army Test and Evaluation Command recognized the need of prospective developers and manufacturers of Army hardware for detailed knowledge of military test requirements. Time-saving economies in the materiel development process are anticipated.

Under development since 1964, these documents have been available until now only to Army commands and activities responsible for design, development, and testing new equipment. They do not provide detailed test procedures for any specific item but describe the test criteria and general test procedures and techniques prescribed for use in engineering and service tests.

Authorized users may obtain either microfiche or hard copies of MTPs from the Defense Documentation Center, DDC-TSR-1, Cameron Station, Va. 22314.

BENEFICIARIES

Many times families learn they were not covered by their deceased husband's or father's government life insurance, usually through oversight. A veteran who wishes to change his beneficiary, or learn who he has designated as beneficiary, should contact the VA insurance center to which he pays his premiums, Philadelphia or St. Paul.

New NRI Courses Set

You can increase your technical know how and boost your chances for promotion by taking correspondence courses through the Non-resident Instruction Department here at the Missile and Munitions Center and School.

Two new courses recently developed by the MMCS department are being offered to you for the first time. Courses in automatic data processing and missile repair are now available.

Nine sub-courses in data processing take a correspondence student from the basics to the systems analysis portions of the field.

Forty-eight sub-courses are included in the newly-offered Missile Repairman's course, which totals nearly 350 credit hours when completed. The entire course is divided into three phases of instruction.

Phase one of the course is a review of basic electricity and test equipment.

The second phase varies according to the missile system you want to study. There are five to choose from including the Nike, Hawk, Sergeant, and assorted Combat Missile Systems, whose components are similar.

Phase three of the Missile Repair course is the jackpot for a proficiency boost, as it deals with the supervision and management of the ordnance field. This phase of instruction includes such courses as Quality Assurance, Quality Control, NCO Leadership and Career Development.

The series of sub-courses is packed with loads of handy dandy information necessary for a supervisory position within an ordnance detachment.

Army correspondence courses are free to any Department of Army-employed civilian and all active military. You can sign up for a course or sub-course simply

A Volkswagen guarantee doesn't have to guarantee a Volkswagen.

Any used car that's tough enough to pass VW's 16-point inspection deserves a VW guarantee. No matter how big it is.

You see, a VW guarantee isn't a 50/50 deal, but our full 100% guarantee to repair or replace all major mechanical working parts* for 30 days or 1000 miles. Whichever comes first.

So before we guarantee a big used car, we make sure it's as tough as our little car.

Here are some big cars who are tough enough:

*engine, transmission, rear axle, front axle assemblies, brake system, electrical system.

CSM WARREN F. BIBEY—receives a token of esteem from MMCS Command Sergeant Major Irel B. Reed at his promotion.

RECEIVES PURPLE HEART—SP4 Gerald L. Martin was presented the Purple Heart for wounds he received in Vietnam last year. SP4 Martin joined the 95th Calibration Service Company, after spending months in the hospital at Valley Forge. He is a member of the motor pool staff.

RECEIVES MERITORIOUS SERVICE MEDAL—BG Louis Rachmeler (left) pins the Meritorious Service Medal on LTC Herbert P. Underwood during ceremonies held recently at Redstone Arsenal. LTC Underwood, who retired this month, received the award for exceptionally meritorious service as the executive officer of the U.S. Army Missile Command's Directorate for Research, Development, Engineering and Missile System Laboratories from August 1969 to April 1971 and for his work with the Advanced Research Projects Division as project officer for the evaluation of the French-made STRIM missile.

School Gains New 'CSM'

The Army non-commissioned officer must regain the respect, prestige and professionalism he wore in bygone days if a modern volunteer Army is to succeed, according to the Director of Individual Training at the U.S. Army Missile and Munitions Center and School.

Speaking informally at the promotion of CSM Warren F. Bibey last week, COL Norman L. Holland cited Bibey as a pacesetter in regaining that aura of professionalism for the NCO.

As he was promoted, Bibey also received his third Army Commendation Medal. It was earned by his meritorious service as sergeant major of the sprawling training directorate.

CSM Bibey entered active Army service in 1950 and has served in Vietnam, Korea and Germany as well as in several installations in the U.S. In addition to his other awards, he holds the Bronze Star medal.

In addition to his job-related achievements, CSM Bibey and others planned and organized the most recent Military Ball for the NCOs of MMCS. The MMCS Ball now serves as a model for similar formal functions throughout the Continental Army Command, to the credit of all who arranged it, Holland said.

Bibey leaves MMCS this week to join the 15th Ordnance Battalion in Germany.

VA's 1970 report on its insurance operations showed that more than five million veterans were insured for about $38 billion under five different life insurance programs.

More than one million veterans were in job-training or enrolled in schools and colleges this spring under the current GI Bill—a 36 per cent increase over last year.

Improve your scrapbook without sacrificing your bankbook.

Unfortunately most 35mm reflex cameras that have a professional reputation also have a professional price. Very high.

Not the Minolta SR-T 100. It's made to the same standards of professional performance as Minolta's most expensive single lens reflex. But costs a lot less.

And you don't have to be anywhere near a professional photographer to take great pictures with the Minolta SR-T 100.

For one thing, your eye doesn't have to strain to compose and focus. The viewfinder stays at maximum brightness (doesn't dim as you "close down" the lens) until the instant you snap the shutter.

Adjusting for exposure is just as simple. You do it right inside the viewfinder, without losing sight of your subject.

Lens changing? Just a flick of the wrist and a click. Choose any custom-ground lens in the Minolta/Rokkor system from 16mm ultra-wide angle to 1000mm super-telephoto.

And be sure to look for an "M" tag attached to the camera. It assures you of a 2-year warranty, according to the terms of the U.S.A. warranty registration packed with the camera. That's longer than most cameras.

The Minolta SR-T 100 is in stock now at a low exchange price.

WALKER GOES ALL THE WAY
 How about a happy face to start off this week's group of newsmakers? And who wouldn't be happy after learning that he had just made it to the top in the Arsenal Soldier of the Month competition? And on top of that, knew that the following day he'd be finishing his 32-week missile course?

Those are some of the reasons SP4 Larry G. Walker is smiling. The 21-year old trooper from Ten Sleep, Wyo., worked his way up the ladder of elimination by keeping his appearance soldierly and staying knowledgeable in areas of military subjects and current events. Walker has been a student in the 1st ETC, learning repair of Sergeant Missile test equipment. He's going to be serving in Germany for his first duty assignment.

38 NEW SP5's

The flood gates have opened and a lot of permanent party enlisted men are happier this week because of it. We're referring to the deluge of promotions to SP5 that came through for School Brigade and UTC E-4's as a result of a Department of the Army message received at Personnel Division the other day.

No less than 38 men who had been on the MMCS promotion list for E-5 got the good news that 525 or more promotion points meant new stripes. And in the future—August is the target date—a cutoff point will be set on a monthly basis by DA for each MOS. Eligible E-4's will then be competing against their peers Army-wide, without regard to local position vacancies.

James P. Kean, Thomas L. Keefner, Forrest E. Lauderback, Robert P. McCord, David B. Porter, John H. Sherman, Edward A. Slowitsky and Kenneth A. Snow, Company B;

Bryan C. Baxter, Walter L.

Creekmore, Michael Lenz, Joe Long, James Lowery, William T. Pennie and Joseph A. Piotrowski, Company C;

Jackie D. Daugherty, Bruce A. Edwards, Robert F. Harris, Arnold T. Klausmeyer, Thomas A. Lammers, Lloyd D. Lassahn, Paul H. Moore and Kenneth R. Tracy from UTC's 118th Ordnance Detachment;

And, from various units: Paul A. Maw, HHC School Brigade; Richard L. Welsh, 7th ETC; Connie Snipes, 9th ETC; Robert G. Mefford and Ronald R. Simpson, HHC UTC; Bernard Ziska, 200th Ordnance Detachment; and Charles W. Roberts, 249th Ord.

Oh, and this reporter's birds feel a little more secure under their new umbrellas, too!

FOUR OFFICERS ON THE MOVE

Promotions are the thing this week, so if the news seems one-sided, remember that more rank is about the best type of news for those on the receiving end. Among our officers, two UTC lieutenants and two lieutenants from Student Officer Company advanced a notch last week.

Making captain were former first lieutenants Edward H. Bowker and Charles W. Greer.

BOWKER

GREER

The former has been serving as executive officer of the 249th Ordnance Detachment, having joined MMCS in November, 1969. Originally from Starkville, Miss., Bowker graduated from Mississippi State College in 1967 and went on to earn a Master of Science degree there two years later.

CPT Greer is currently a student in the missile maintenance officer course and he came here from a year with the 1st Cavalry Division in Vietnam. A South Alabamian by origin, the new captain has a Bachelor of Science in business administration from the University of South Alabama in Mobile.

Trading gold bars for silver were new first lieutenants Nick T. Cave and Joseph W. Patterson. Cave serves as assistant S-1 for UTC and Patterson is a student in the same course as CPT Greer.

WEARING THE UMBRELLA—Twenty three MMCS men from 1st Battalion, School Brigade, seem unusually eager as they reach for the big green and yellow five being held tantalizingly above their heads by MAJ Robert E. Vanlandingham, battalion commander. The reason? They had just received their new Specialist 5 stripes from Vanlandingham in a mass promotion ceremony held last week.

CAVE PATTERSON TOP INSTRUCTORS

Four outstanding instructors of Air Defense Department were honored Friday by the director of their department, Col Gordon D. Rood. The four were singled out for the extra effort they put into their instructional labors. Kenneth W. Cutler and Sp4 Kenneth W. Stufflebeam, Jr., Nike Division, David H. Mitchell and Marine MSG Joseph C. Holmes of Hawk Division were the awardees.

FIVE MORE MAKE FOUR

Meanwhile, back to the promotion department. Five more sets of SP4 patches are gracing the sleeves of permanent party troopers from 1st Battalion. In Alpha Co., recipients were Jozef Makohon, a company clerk, Cecil W. Doss, the Commandant's driver, Gary D. Martin, who works in the motor pool, and Rey FeBenito from Land Combat Maintenance.

And from Charlie Co. the new specialist is John Q. Adams, a clerk typist with DDL&P. Yes, John's middle name is Quincy, and we expect him to go far with a name like that.

GOOD NEWS FROM GRADUATES

Graduating students whose fine academic records earned them promotions number 18 this week. From the 1st ETC, SP4 stripes went to Emmett M. Billiott, Gary Wisniewski, James L. Bartlett, Jon O. Boomgaarden, Gary L. Coleman, Thomas W. Cullings, Phillip A. Hall, Larry L. Hardesty, Harvey D. Johnsen, Garry L. Jurgens, Jesse R. Gilbert, Dennis D. Mast, John M. Crandall and Ronald Z. Taylor. Clyde W. Murphy and Arvil G. Sexton, 6th ETC, and Donald W. LaMontagne of the 9th ETC likewise accepted their first eagle stripes.

Two Marine Corps students also jumped up a grade last week. Carl E. Patrick and Gerald T. O'Keefe are now proudly wearing lance corporal chevrons.

BRIEFLY . . .

Another item from the Marine Corps Admin Detachment — a "Meritorious Mast" was presented to SGT Bernard A. Shear by the detachment for his services as disbursing clerk there. Seems that "Meritorious Mast" is Leath-erneck jargon for what we'd call a certificate of achievement.

And one other brief note for civilian employees working in building 3300. As a result of the efforts of the Secretary, LTC Ann Smith, the "head shed" conference room will now be available to those employees during the lunch hour. Brownbaggers, rejoice!

LTC Porter has announced he would like to hear from more soldiers interested in joining the program.

GRADUATES CHARGED: HELP DESIGN VOLUNTEER ARMY

A volunteer Army, among other things, means more pay and better living conditions for enlisted men, but it also means increased responsibility for the individual soldier, said CPT Robert Murdock, commander of the 6th Enlisted Training Company, as he addressed 52 graduating missile repair and ammunition students at the U.S. Army Missile and Munitions Center and School, Friday.

"Don't look for what you can get out of the Volunteer Army program. Look for ways to improve the Army—to make it better for the man who will follow you," said CPT Murdock. "The higher officials have some good ideas, but are sometimes too far removed from the problems they are trying to solve. They need your cooperation."

"All of us here today will be affected by the Army in one way or another for the rest of our lives," Murdock continued. "As a civilian Murdock, a native of Southern California, is a veteran of three years' Army service. He received his commission in October, 1969, after completing Officer Candidate School. Prior to his assignment to Redstone Arsenal, he served with the 5th Infantry Division in Vietnam. He has also served at Fort Ord and Fort Irwin in California, and at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md.

Five honor graduates received certificates from the Association of the U.S. Army for their academic achievement. SP4 Larry L. ### COMPLETES COURSE

Joseph Kozuch, an engineer with the SAM-D Project Office, was one of 21 students who took part in the introduction to a radar short course held recently at the University of Missouri-Rolla.

The course was presented by the department of electrical engineering and the extension division.

Attendees at the school were from 12 different states and the District of Columbia.

now offering a two-year certificate program in law enforcement and a four-year degree program in criminal justice administration.

The two-year certificate program in law enforcement includes specialized courses such as law enforcement operations, elementary law and procedure, and criminalistics, but the emphasis is on general education.

"The certificate program is designed to improve the student's understanding of human behavior and society and to sharpen his ability to analyze situations and make appropriate judgements," said Raymond C. Watson, director of Continuous Education at UAH. The degree program in criminal justice administration is the first of its kind in Alabama. Students working toward this degree take a cluster of specialized courses in law enforcement while pursuing a major in an academic area. The program, which emphasizes courses in political science, sociology, psychology, and management is tailored to meet individual occupational needs.

As a participant in the federally funded Law Enforcement Education Program, UAH has available tuition grants for in-service law enforcement personnel, including military policemen. Inquiries concerning the new programs should be made to the UAH Division of Continuous Education.

Westlawn J.H.S. Class Hears Cuba As It Is

For students in an eighth grade social studies class, learning about the world beyond their classroom normally takes the form of reading textbooks, studying maps and preparing reports on special topics.

Tried and true learning methods such as these necessarily must fill a large portion of the hours spent in formal schooling. Rarely, however, do they draw spontaneous reactions like "Oh, wow!" or "Gawll. . .!"

Just such responses were common, though, when 1LT Alberto W. Tio recently told some 30 eighth graders at Westlawn Junior High School about life in Castro's Cuba.

The lieutenant, who commands an enlisted training company at the Army Missile and Munitions Center and School, has first-hand knowledge of the subject.

Tio, now 25, grew up in Matanzas, Cuba. In 1962, as a 15 year old high schooler, he came to the United States to escape the oppression of the Castro regime.

The two years he lived under the bearded dictator's brand of Communism gave Tio a wealth of anecdotes to draw upon in speaking to the students. And if their reactions were any indication, he gave them a far more vivid picture of conditions in Cuba than that found in any history text.

Tio told of the complete breakdown in public transportation that resulted from Castro's takeover of commercial carriers.

"It could take as long as a week to go 100 miles across the island, because hitchhiking or walking was the only means of travel open to an ordinary citizen," he explained.

He described how family members were encouraged to spy upon one another by the government and recounted an incident dramatizing what could result from such home-grown espionage.

"I knew of a woman who taught in the public school system and used to proudly tell how she had her father hung for crimes against the state," Tio said. The father's "crimes?" He had been a corporation executive and retained too many of his "capitalistic" habits to suit the new government.

A noticeable loss of color spread across the students' faces as the lieutenant told of an experience his family had with canned goods imported by Cuba from another Communist country. His mother had purchased a can of what was supposed to be luncheon meat, but upon opening it and sampling the contents, it was obvious that they had been victimized by deceptive labeling.

"It was made from mice," Tio said.

The expressions on the students' faces left no doubt that they would not soon forget the story.

Experiences such as these convinced Tio and his family that a better life was to be found outside Cuba. After waiting for their names to come up on a long official list, Tio and his brother were allowed to leave the island. Later, their parents were also allowed to leave.

The lieutenant finished high school in Miami, Fla., then graduated from the University of Miami with a bachelor of science degree in industrial engineering.

He enlisted in the Army after college and obtained a commission through Officer Candidate School.

Lt. Tio's opening words meant a good deal to the children in the light of what they had heard. "I've travelled to Spain, France, Italy and South America, besides growing up in Cuba," he said, "and the United States is the best country I've seen."

A bill proposed to Congress by the Administrator of Veterans Affairs would permit the VA to give premium pay to VA nurses working nights, weekends and holidays.

We would like to extend this special invitation to everyone to share with us a most happy occasion... the Formal Opening of the new facilities of Lee-Bentley Chrysler-Plymouth.

We hope you will take this opportunity to see what is now available to the people of Huntsville and Madison County. Nothing has been omitted to make our sales and services of Chrysler-Plymouth cars and Chrysler products the best to be found anywhere.

Visit with us Friday and Saturday, June 11th and 12th... Visit every department... Inspect every car... Enjoy with us these fine facilities that you, the people of Huntsville and Madison County have made possible.

Best of all... we would like for you to meet our employees. Without them and their dedication for your automotive needs, this occasion would not be possible.
