

Junior High Students Work In Summer

Quick now, who is the youngest federal employee at the U. S. Army Missile Command?

Who is "they" and their age is 14. Ten 14-year old girls to be exact.

The young people are participating in the Neighborhood Youth Corps Program. They are employed by the Department of Labor and are working at the Missile Command for the summer. All plan to return to school in the fall, and that's one requirement for selection to participate in the program.

The 92 at MICOM range in age from 14 to 21.

Two of the 14-year-olds Ophelia Johnson and Annie Jefferson, are working in the Civilian Personnel Division. Ophelia attends Ed White junior high where she is striving to be a member of the drill team. A recent typing course has proved useful in her job in the Training and Development Branch. Looking forward to a secretarial career, Ophelia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson, Jr.

Johnson

Annie is a member of a family of nine, headed by her mother since her father died. Mrs. Gladys Jefferson and her family live at Harvest where Annie attends junior high. Annie has moved to town and is living with her grandmother, Mrs.

Jefferson

Olivia Matthews, during the summer. Before she went to work in the Technical Services Branch, she thought about a career in home economics, now she isn't sure.

Debra Hughes, working in the Purchasing and Contracting Branch finds herself in the enviable position of earning, learning and getting one step closer to a secretarial career. She is secretary of the Student Council and president of the Home Economics Club at Westlawn junior high. Her government job includes clerical, secretarial and messenger, duties and it allows her to visit offices other than her own. Six other 14-year-old girls are in the Directorate for Procurement and Production, all assigned in Bldg. 4488. The Neighborhood Youth Corps youngsters share a bus to and from work each day. They work five hours Monday through Thursday and four hours on Friday. Their work must be unclassified since none of the young people have a security clearance.

Wanda Smith, a student at Calvary junior high, is one of seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Willie A. Smith. Her duties are not confined to filing. She reproduces documents and is scheduled to visit offices other than SIX YEARS OF REDEYE—William Morrow (right), General Manager of General Dynamics Corporation, presents to the Army Missile Command a full-scale model of the Redeye weapon system, commemorating six years of Redeye production and delivery to the Army. Accepting is Brig. Gen. Louis Rachmeler, Deputy Commanding General of the Missile Command. At center is E.K. Charlton, former deputy project manager for Redeye.

Accidents Up: Safety Worries

Army safety men are fast becoming as nervous as a prospective bride about the month of June although, admittedly, for different reasons.

Tom Davidson, Chief of the Safety Office at the Army Missile Command, said June recorded more accidents than any other month during FY 71—for the second successive year.

Among mishaps were five lost-time injuries, two Army motor vehicle mishaps and one property damage accident.

Despite the staggering rash of June accidents, there were some noteworthy accomplishments, Davidson said. Among them:

—Both the Huntsville Division, Thiokol Chemical Corporation and the Target Operations Department, Teledyne-Ryan, completed the year without a recordable accident.

—The Shillelagh missile assembly facility, operated by the Silas Mason company at Burlington, Iowa, closed out operations there by completing the last four years without an accident of any kind and five and a half years without a disabling injury.

—The Missile Command, as a whole, bettered seven of eight targets established by the Army Materiel Command.

—The Redstone Arsenal Support Activity exhibited real improvements in seven of eight categories and beat the AMC targets in every category.

Significant improvement was noted in the number of accidents per employees, Davidson said.

Hiring Barriers Falling

Federal agencies can no longer exclude all women or all men from consideration for government positions unless there is strong justification to limit determination of eligibility to a single sex.

A recent letter from the Civil Service Commission to all heads of federal departments makes it clear that the circumstances involved in such a justification are going to have to be very unusual.

The letter, dated May 10, said among other things: "consideration of eligibles for appointment shall not be restricted to one sex unless in the judgement of the Commission the specific conditions of employment are such that the work concerned otherwise

Food Contractor Second IFB Out

The Post Restaurant Council has issued a second invitation for bid covering proposed operation by a civilian contractor of Redstone Arsenal cafeterias, snack bars and vending machines primarily serving civilians south of Neal Rd.

The new IFB, issued Monday, calls for bids to be submitted on Aug. 2 and establishes September 7 as the target date for the contractor to be operational. The Army Air Force Exchange Service which operates all cafeterias and vending machines on the arsenal will continue with the present operation in the interim.

The IFB issued this week went to 38 prospective bidders. The original IFB issued on May 7 went to 26 firms but none responded. Qualified bidders who may wish to obtain an invitation to bid may do so by contacting the Post Restaurant Officer at 876-5938 or requesting one in writing by addressing: Commanding General, USAMICOM, Redstone Arsenal, Ala., 35809, ATTN: Post Restaurant Officer (AMSMI-KP) Bldg 7101 Room 47.

When the original call for bids passed last month without any bids being received, the Restaurant Council debriefed firms invited to bid to learn why none had submitted proposals.

The IFB was then restructured to overcome problems that had been identified which were susceptible to change.

The original IFB called for operation of cafeterias in Bldgs 5250, 4488, 4505, 5400 and 5681, conversion of the cafeteria in Bldg 7101 to full line vending and continuation of full line vending operations in Bldgs 8027, 5678 and 5687. It also required continued operation of a snack bar in Building 3781 and a mobile canteen to service isolated buildings south of Neal Rd. Operation of random vending machines (cigarettes, soft drinks and candy) was not included in the original IFB.

The restructured IFB issued this week calls for operation of cafeterias in Bldgs 5250, 4488 and 5681. Cafeterias in Bldgs 5400, 7101 and 4505 would be con-

The Army Community

"What do the words 'Army Community' mean to me? Nothing, absolutely nothing."—response by a MICOM SP4, July 1971.

Well what do the words mean to you?

It probably depends on who you are, how long you've been around the Army, what your general attitude toward service life is. A lot of things.

Some of us did an informal survey the other day, just stopping people in uniform and asking them to define "Army Community". The only soldiers who used exactly the same words in reply were the same ones who cite the days, hours and minutes remaining in their obligated service. They said the term meant nothing.

The others, the ones who tried, gave us many answers: friends, services, shared experiences, places, things, activities. They weren't all "lifers" either. Even though not one of them gave the same answer or listed what he believed to be the elements of the Army Community in the same order, they had taken a look and had seen something worthwhile.

The Army's leadership feels that the Army Community is a strong point in favor of the Modern Volunteer Army program, but before it can be it obviously must be understood and appreciated as a benefit. What it takes to do that is effort on the part of an individual, an effort some, at least, are unwilling to make.

Webster's defines a community this way: "A body of people having common organization or identity, or living in the same place under the same laws or regulations."

That would seem to fit the bill. Add the word "Army" in front of "Community" and it definitely fits military life at this post or any other.

To the man who has gone looking for it, the Army Community is his home territory wherever he hangs his hat. When he moves to a new post, he readily locates old friends he has known elsewhere or has the instant opportunity to make new ones among his neighbors in the post housing area or barracks. He looks upon the post commander and his staff as the counterparts of officials in the civilian community. The post chapel is his church.

The Army post and its multitude of activities are a ready made community for him and his family. Each person tacitly blends his own character and personality into the overall. As the post population changes the community alters. It takes and it yields to each exactly as much as he willingly puts into it. No, that's not quite right, because there is a hard core of people at every post determined to have a good community, ready to give more than they receive in turn.

An Army family frequently engages in volunteer work. You find them in post hospitals and post youth sports activities.

Services to the troops function through the Army community providing benefits funded by Congress, those that the Army provides on its own, those that the Army families on a post provide for themselves and others.

There are services from the Army medical facilities, special life insurance plans, commissary and exchange privileges, education, libraries, service clubs, housing on post and assistance to find it in the civilian community, motion pictures, recreation, legal assistance. The list goes on and on.

Being a part of the Army community does not imply or require that an individual close his eyes to the outside world, turn back at the perimeter fence, nor does it mean that the serviceman is restricted in his choice of what he does in his off duty time.

You have to feel just a twinge of genuine sorrow for a man who tells you his definition of the 'Army Community' is: "Just a bunch of people living here on post."

He never looked, so he never saw, and he never will understand.

Former Employee Dies

Joseph Donald Galligan, 65, a chemist at Redstone Arsenal for seven years before his retirement from Civil Service in 1964, died in Washington, D. C. last week. He is survived by his wife, two sons and a daughter.

Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson recently announced plans for a six-fold increase in the number of VA-operated drug addict treatment centers bringing to 32 the number in operation by October 1971.

LTC HODGES

Let Soldier Do His Job!

"The key to the modern volunteer Army is to offer each soldier a challenge, have a job for him to do, train him properly to do his job, and let him do it," LTC James R. Hodges told 49 Missile and Munitions Center and School graduates at ceremonies held Friday.

"We are striving for a professional Army. This simply means that those in the Army must be professionals. And to be a professional you must accept the challenge of your job and give your best effort," said the acting deputy director of the School's Officer Training Department.

Hodges, a veteran of 17 years military service, has been decorated with the Bronze Star Medal with the first Oak Leaf Cluster, the Joint Service Commendation Medal, the Army Commendation Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters, and the Vietnam Cross of Gallantry.

The four honor graduates in the graduating class were: 2nd. LT John M. Beer of Fitchburg, Mass., with a 91.0 overall average in the Ammunition Officer course; SP4 David K. Murphy of Davenport, Iowa, with a 95.6 in Wire Missile System Repair; PFC Harley R.

verted to snack bars as would the existing full line vending operations in Bldgs 8027 and 5678. The full line vending operation in Bldg 5687 and the snack bar in Bldg 3781 were dropped from the restructured IFB and would be closed. The mobile canteen service has been broadened in the new IFB to service the Bldg 3781 area as well as isolated buildings south of Neal Rd.

The contractor would also take over operation of all random vending machines south of Neal Rd. under the new IFB.

The contractor would be required to pay the Post Restaurant Council a percentage of his gross sales each month. The Restaurant Council, a non appropriated fund activity, would use the funds to buy equipment, replace and maintain equipment, make change in cafeteria facilities and operations and support the Civilian Welfare Fund.

would be seriously impaired." Only two examples of situations where the Commission would agree to certify selectively on the basis of sex were cited in the letter:

1. "When sharing of common sleeping quarters is required" or
2. "When institutional or custodial services can properly be performed only by a member of the same sex as the recipients of the services."

The letter noted that up to now, if an agency requested certification of men only for law enforcement positions requiring the bearing of firearms, the Commission would honor the request. That's no longer the case. The Commission has determined that the bearing of firearms does not fit the serious-impairment-of-work standard.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at Redstone Arsenal July 21 and again July 28.

The first visit in Bldg. 7110 is augmented each month by a visit to the Post Service Club to be more readily available for personnel at the Missile and Munitions Center and School. However, individuals throughout the Arsenal who miss the first visit can donate at the second one when the Bloodmobile is set up in the Post Service Club.

At the Post Service Club the doors open at 10 a.m. and close at 3:30 p.m.

SAFETY

There was one accident per 262 employees last year as compared with one per 249 the year before. The greatest reduction, however, was in lowering the injury rate from one per 400 employees to one per 478 employees.

Although the cost per capita increased, there was an actual reduction of $20,918 in total accident costs over the previous year, Davidson said.

Free Food Marks PX Cafeteria Opening

Mrs. Inga McCool and Joe Timmons are managers of the newly renovated post exchange and cafeteria, respectively, which formally opened Saturday in the troop area.

COL A.J. Forsythe, Deputy Post Commander, cut the ribbon to officially open Bldg. 3479, the first building to be completely remodeled by the post exchange in five years.

During open house Saturday, guests were treated to free coffee and cake in the morning and free beer and pizza that afternoon.

Among improvements is a new-look recreation area which features new walls, lighting, wall-to-wall carpeting, a new serving line and a draft beer dispenser. The PX got a face lifting which included new floors, walls, ceiling, lighting, floor fixtures, an enlarged sales area and a bigger stock of merchandise.

Cafeteria hours are from 6:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday. Pizza and beer will be available daily from 2 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday and 1 to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Nervousness, sweating, hot and cold flashes, gooseflesh and dilated pupils.

These may be the characteristics of a GI looking at the Playboy "Playmate of the Month" but they are also withdrawal symptoms experienced by someone discontinuing the use of narcotics.

Such information as how to identify withdrawal symptoms is found in a recently-published 14-page American Red Cross booklet titled "Drugs and their Abuse." It describes drugs and their effects, accepted medical uses, problems of overdose and abuse, the symptoms they create and the first aid care that should be given to a person who has misused drugs.

The booklet deals with eight groups of drugs, specifically: alcohol, marijuana, depressants, hallucinogens, inhalants, narcotics, stimulants and tranquilizers.

Copies of the booklet are being distributed through Missile and Munitions Center and School duty sections.

A member of the first graduating class in January designed the patch. Safety Warns: Handle Electricity With Due Respect

When the Redstone Arsenal Installation Central Safety Council convenes on July 15, it will have electrical safety on the agenda as a major item.

In the first five months this year, the Army lost 29 persons who were electrocuted. Though none occurred at Redstone Arsenal, the Arsenal Safety Office intends to re-emphasize electrical safety to preclude a local tragedy, either on or off post.

Leading cause of electrocutions was improper handling of TV and radio antennas. Fourteen fatalities occurred while individuals were trying to erect or lower antennas which became entangled in electrical lines.

The second highest cause of death came as a result of stringing and maintaining communication cable or wire.

Defective electrical wiring and equipment resulted in the third and fourth highest causes of death by electrical shock.

Other causes ranged from taping a live wire to entangling a crane boom in electrical lines.

A veteran, to speed up the Veterans Administration's response to his inquiry, should be sure to include his full name, address and claim number, if he has one.

Winter Coal Crisis Unlikely

If people of Redstone suffering in July heat can remember that it gets cold here in the winter, they shouldn't worry. Army Missile Command Facilities Engineer officials report that about 31,000 tons of coal are on hand and the stockpile is accumulating more.

"It looks as though we won't be facing a crisis this year, barring no long, drawn out strike. We should be in good shape by Oct. 1. The supply we have now is enough to carry us through 60 days of cold weather," Niles Prestage, chief of the Utilities Branch at the Facilities Engineer, said.

Recognition Is Earned By 20

Barns

Twenty certificates have been signed, countersigned, sealed and delivered to members of the Army Missile Command for accumulating 2,000 or more hours of sick leave.

To everyone who accumulates 1500 hours or less of sick leave, the counter-signature is not on the certificate of recognition; but since the Army Materiel Command placed the 2,000 hours in a separate category in which the individuals are recognized by GEN Henry A. Miley, Commanding General of AMC, and by the Commanding General of the commodity command where the individuals are working, in this case MG Edwin I. Donley, the latter awards are coordinated through Delia W. Black, executive secretary of the Incentive Awards Committee.

During ceremonies recently, GEN Donley handed certificates to 16 of the 20 people who have earned the recognition.

The greatest number of people who received certificates are from the Redstone Arsenal Support Activity, Facilities Engineer Division. They are: Thomas M. Barnes, Charles A. Burns, Virginia O. Chandler, Ernest Clark, Henry L. Fanning, Robert L. Grider, Ira A. Lawhorn, William C. Lawhorn, Oscar C. Russell, Rebon F. Smith, Alvin W. Swaner, Prince C. Weiler, Roy Williams, John C. Woodard and Cecil M. Young.

Rufus R. Porter from the Directorate for Personnel, Training and Force Development earned the certificate as did George A. O'Reilly on the Missile Command Comptroller staff and Cortes C. Shepherd of the Information Office.

Two members of the Directorate for Materiel Management, L. Eugene Hughes and John G. Duncan, received certificates.

From the Research Development & Engineering & Missile Systems Laboratory, Gregory S. Moshkoff was awarded a certificate.

Getting Ready To Make A Move? The Army Offers Some Suggestions

WASHINGTON (ANF)—Military Traffic Management and Terminal Service (MTMTS) offers service personnel moving to new stations several suggestions for the shipment of their belongings.

DOs

- Contact your local transportation officer immediately upon receipt of orders.
- Schedule your move with the transportation officer well in advance of the desired moving date.
- Be present at home during the packing and pickup.
- Be ready to accept your goods at their destination.
- Contact the designated transportation officer immediately upon arrival at your new duty station and give him your telephone number. If you can't be contacted, the goods will be placed in storage-in-transit, which could delay delivery of your possessions as well as increase the cost of the move.
- Set up the delivery date for a normal weekday; however delivery of the goods on a Saturday, Sunday or holiday is acceptable if mutually agreeable to you and the carrier.
- Call the local transportation officer if the packer or mover is not providing quality service.

• Sign the Government Bill of Lading (GBL) even if your goods are received in a damaged condition. This action will not relinquish your right to file a claim for any loss or damage, but damage must be listed on the reverse side of the GBL, DD Form 619 or inventory. DD Form 619 is to be signed only for services actually provided.

• Be sure the carrier furnishes you with legible copies of the inventory, statement of accessorial services (DD Form 619) and the GBL.

• Plan your move during the week (Tuesday to Thursday) and at times other than the 1st, 15th or 30th day of the month. This will help you get better service and a more timely move.

DON'Ts

- Don't wait until a few days before your move to apply—plan ahead.

Big Orange Whips Arab Tourney Foes

The Missile Command Girls softball team has won its first two games by lopsided margins in the annual softball tournament at Arab, Ala.

With Kathy Leeth and Pat Shipp teaming up for a game-ending double play to preserve a nine hit shutout for Gladys Hill, the Big Orange took a 20 to 0 victory over the 1st National Bank of Gunterville.

Donna Hudson, second baseman, had five hits and made several outstanding defensive plays; Kathy Leeth had four hits, two doubles and two singles; Frances Bogue, had four hits and scored four runs; and Beverly Stringfellow slugged a triple and three singles and scored four runs in the winning effort.

The big double play that ended the game came with one out and a

Orange with one of them a home run with two aboard.

Kitty Swain stroked three singles to add more runs for the Missile girls.

Donna Hudson came up with two double plays to lead the defensive play and hold the Piggly Wiggles to one run.

Gladys Hill pitched both games allowing only one run in 12 innings of play.

The MICOM girls are currently holding down second place in the Huntsville Industrial League and are scheduled to play Sentry Insurance, the first place team, this evening at the Astro Space field in Research Park.

Sentry Insurance has lost only one game and that was to Missile Command earlier in the season. A win for the Big Orange would tie them with Sentry for first place in the league standings.

By the end of this week, MICOM could be winners of the Arab Tournament and also be tied for first place in league play.

Girls Enter City League Tournament

Teams in the Huntsville Parks and Playgrounds Girls' Softball program are entering the double elimination tournament.

Redstone Arsenal's Sprints, intermediate girls, enter the tournament as Western Division champions with an 18 win to no loss record. The Rebels are runnersup in the Western Division with a 15-3 record.

In the Senior Girls class the Arsenal's Rockettes hold second place in the Western Division with a 14 to 4 record.

The Veterans Administration may suspend from participation in its loan program those who take unfair advantage of veteran borrowers or decline to sell a new home to, or make a loan to, a creditworthy, eligible veteran because of his race, creed, color or national origin.

Redstone Softballers Go On Winning Streak

The Redstone Arsenal Traveling Softball Team has won four out of five games during the last three weeks and will go up against the league leaders this coming weekend.

In winning their last three games, Redstone played their best defensive games of the season.

Playing at Fort Campbell, Ky., the Missilemen lost the first game 6 to 0. Jim Johnson pitched a seven hitter and Ron Simpson got three singles in the losing effort. The Campbell team was able to get six runs on seven hits.

In the second game Jim Johnson was the winning pitcher with a 5 to 3 victory. The game was tied 1 to 1 through six innings, but Redstone scored four big runs in the 7th inning. Harley "Bear" Gray doubled in the go ahead run to wrap it up.

Fort Campbell scored two runs in the bottom of the 7th inning, but the Missile-tightened up on defense and grabbed the 5 to 3 decision.

Redstone took the first of two games with Fort McPherson, Ga., by a 3 to 2 score. Gene Cagle pitched a five hitter, struck out seven and allowed one base on balls.

Cagle had a slender 1 to 0 lead going into the forth inning, but Fort McPherson batters pecked away for two runs and the lead. Redstone bounced back with two runs and the ball game on centerfielder Gary Garcia's triple and shortstop James Mear's homerun in the sixth inning for the 3 to 2 win.

The Redstone softballers made it a sweep over Fort McPherson taking the second game 7 to 2. Jim Johnson allowed only three singles, struck out four batters and issued only three bases on balls.

Playing in his last game for Redstone, Johnson went on a hitting spree to win his own ballgame. He hit a triple with the bases loaded to score three runs. Later he also hit a double, scored two runs himself and personally accounted for five of the seven runs scored.

Backing up the three hit performance, the Redstoners played tight defensive and error-free ball to wrap up the 7 to 2 finale.

This weekend, Redstone plays Fort Benning, Ga., a team that earlier in the season beat them with a no-hitter. They will be going up against the Benning team without the services of Jim Johnson, who has been transferred to another duty station.

MIA - C of E Tied In Hot Slo-Pitch Race

Final Round Starts Leaders Slug It Out

Despite rainy weather for part of the week's activity, the Civilian Welfare Slo-Pitch League had six teams in action.

SAFEGUARD took an 11 to 7 victory over D & T, MISD eked out a 9 to 7 win over GEM, and RASA edged MIA 13 to 12. Computation Center dropped out of the league so Metrology and Calibration had an open date.

Individual honors on the SAFEGUARD team went to Garry James with two triples and a double; Paige Stagner with a homerun; and Clarence Worley who had four hits, one of them a homer.

On the loser's side Steve Reed had 3 for 3 at bat; Hunter Horton had a homer; Win Morris had two hits as did Lyle Lathrop.

MISD came up with four homers, two by Harold Jacobs, one each by Elliott Agee and Buddy Louis; and three big hits by Bob Pochico in their 9 to 7 win over GEM.

Big guns for the losers were Ray Whiddon with three hits and George Benzenhafer with a homerun.

RASA's homerun hitters made the difference in their 13 to 12 victory over MIA. For the winners Wayne Dahlke had two homers while John Roberts, Jerry Arzman and James Hemphill had a homer each, and Bryan Baker came through with three hits.

MIA's Jim Gamble, Jack Harris and Bill Fales each had a homerun and Dave Powell garnered three hits, but it wasn't enough to take the win.

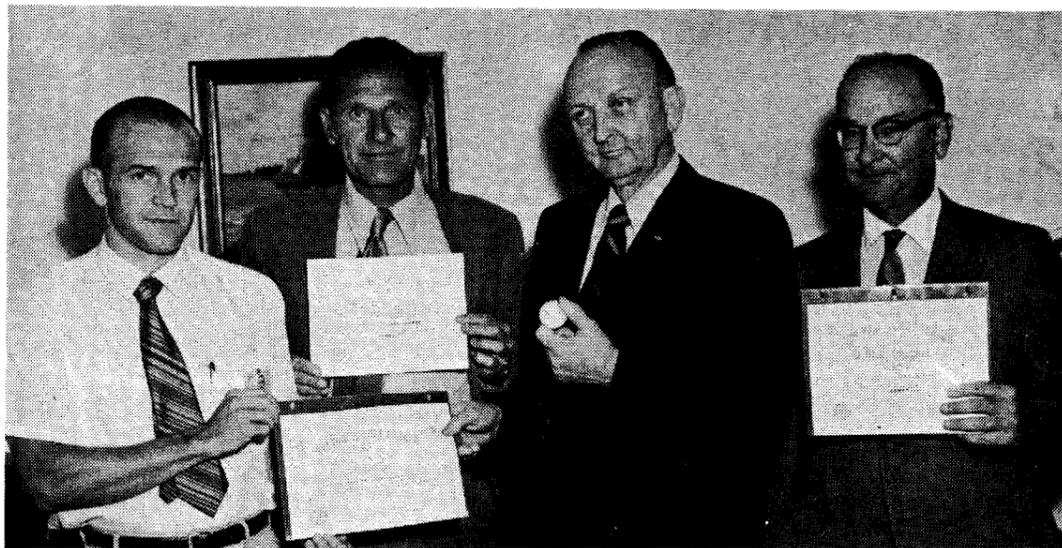

In the Homerun Derby the standings are: John Roberts, 14; Hamil Martin, 11; Jack Harris, 11; Elliott Agee, 9; Jerry Arzman, 8; and Wayne Dahlke, 7.

Will Withholdings Cover 1971 Tax?

Due to a new law changing the withholding system, it is possible that the Federal tax being withheld from wages of some Federal employees is not enough to cover their income tax liability—so that they may owe an unexpected big

These employees are especially affected:

—Each married employee who expects to earn $25,000 or more in 1971 whose spouse is not employed;

—All working couples.

In order to help employees in estimating their 1971 tax liability, payroll offices have been issued copies of the 1971 income tax rates and tables.

If you find that you need more withholding, you should file a new exemption certificate (Form W-4 with your employer and claim fewer exemptions or ask for additional dollar amounts of withholding.

Army Swimmers Lead US Team To Victory

WASHINGTON (ANF)—Two Army men led the U.S. Armed Forces Swimming Team to victory at the 1971 championships of the Conseil International du Sport Militaire (CISM) in Syracuse, Sicily, recently.

The team won top honors in six of the 13 events and established new CISM records in five of the contests.

Sp4 Dennis O'Conner, Ft. Carson, Colo., won four gold medals and one silver medal. A former Colorado State University swimmer, he has been a U.S. National Championship finalist on several occasions.

Pfc Ross Wales, Ft. Polk,

La., won three gold medals at the CISM swimming championship. He swam for Princeton, has been U.S. National Champion and placed third in the 100-meter butterfly at the 1968 Olympic Games.

CISM was started by Americans shortly after World War II to provide military sports competition for Allied troops serving with the army of occupation in Europe.

Other nations participating in the CISM championship were Belgium, France, Germany, Holland, Iran, Italy, Spain, Sweden, and the United Arab Republic.

LIFE SAVING TECHNIQUE—Three local men demonstrate the technique they used to save a man's life recently. Freeman G. Lee, left, loosens the tie of Ricahrd Miles, center, as Robert Ford, right, supports the man's head. Lee and Ford are Army Missile Command employees and Miles is local representative for RCA. All three were on a trip to Massachusetts when a man seated near them in a restaurant apparently lost consciousness and choked. Lee used his Boy Scout training in mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to save the man's life. Ford and Miles cleared the area and assisted in the treatment. Mrs. Dorothy Reed, secretary, and Monty Lee, age 8, watch the demonstration. Lee is committee chairman for Boy Scout Troop 235 in Decatur, Ala. His son, Monty, is a Cub Scout and a member of Pack 272.

Lee Revives Stranger

The Boy Scout motto, "Be Prepared," means that scouts are trained to cope with any emergency. Freeman G. Lee, committee chairman of Troop 235 in Decatur, Ala., recently used his scout training to save a man's life.

Lee, who is Chief of the Product Assurance and Test Division of the U. S. Army Missile Command's Land Combat Support System's office was on a business trip to Massachusetts when the emergency occurred.

Lee; Robert Ford of the Missile Command Product Assurance Directorate and Richard Miles, an RCA employee based in Huntsville, were dining at an Inn in Revere, Mass.

A man sitting at an adjacent table suddenly slumped forward. His companions began pounding him on the back, but these treatments had no effect; the man slipped out of his chair and on to the floor.

Noticing the man was turning black and his muscles were relaxing, Lee moved into the group as Miles and Ford cleared the immediate area to give him room to work.

Ford held the man's shoulders and Lee began mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. The man was big, making it difficult for Ford to hold him and especially difficult for Lee to get into the correct position to administer the treatment.

Both men continued the treatment and after a few minutes the man started shallow breathing. His color began to return.

When the rescue squad arrived, the man's breathing was stronger and he could recognize people around him. An ambulance took the man to a local hospital where he was treated and released several hours later.

It wasn't until several days after he returned to Redstone Arsenal that Lee learned the man's name. Revere police and rescue squad members said Lee's emergency treatment did save his life.

Actually it was no accident that Lee was able to go through the emergency treatment without a hitch. One week prior to the emergency, Lee and members of Scout Troop 235 viewed films and practiced mouth-to-mouth resuscitation exercises as part of their scout advancement program.

Although he has been active in scouting work since 1958, Lee said this was the first time he had ever used his training in this type of emergency.

Though he has been in the scouting program long before he had a son, Lee's young son, Monty, is now a Cub Scout in

AUTOVON's Expansion Continues World-Wide

WASHINGTON (ANF)—Automatic Voice Network (AUTOVON)—the nucleus of the nation's Defense Communications System — continues to grow larger to help make the world seem smaller for personnel at 2,000 military bases around the globe.

The world-wide AUTOVON system links over one million telephones, teletypewriters and data sets and provides key military leaders with the capability of completing global, private-line telephone calls in a matter of seconds.

AUTOVON provides a number of vital communications services, including conference telephone calls to link parties on several continents, automatic pre-emption of users' telephone lines for high-precedence calls and "hot lines" that cause a pre-determined telephone to ring as soon as the caller picks up his own instrument.

AUTOVON now utilizes 86 switching centers—60 in the United States, nine in Canada and 17 in Europe, the Pacific and Panama.

The centers are similar to local telephone exchanges that are capable of handling both local and long distance calls automatically. The centers generally are installed at locations remote from large cities and major sections, and the communications routes that interconnect the centers bypass such areas.

Each center has a minimum of three communications routes to other centers —those in priority locations have as many as nine alternate routes. The U.S. portion of the network consists principally of leased commercial telephone lines, while the overseas portions are primarily owned by the U.S. Government.

Worden Gets Meritorious Decoration

The Army's "Meritorious Civilian Service Decoration" was awarded to Leslie L. Worden, 8002 Tea Garden Road, in a ceremony at Redstone Arsenal last week. Worden, a branch chief at the Missile and Munitions Center and School, was recognized for his part in helping save the life of a fellow employee.

Presenting the decoration to Worden was COL Gilbert P. Levy, commandant of the Center and School.

When a co-worker suffered a severe heart attack in his office last December, Worden quickly responded to the emergency. He took prompt action to prevent suffocation by the victim, and effectively directed the efforts of others rendering assistance.

The citation accompanying the decoration credited Worden and a former Arsenal employee, Mrs. Bettye C. Ausman, with playing a major part in preventing the death of their co-worker.

Open Sesame Sometimes Begins On GED

Are promotions coming just a mite too slow for your caliber of man? Well, what are you doing about it? Check yourself out, strac yourself up! Do you have that high school diploma? What about some college credits? "No !!!" Well, what are you waiting for?

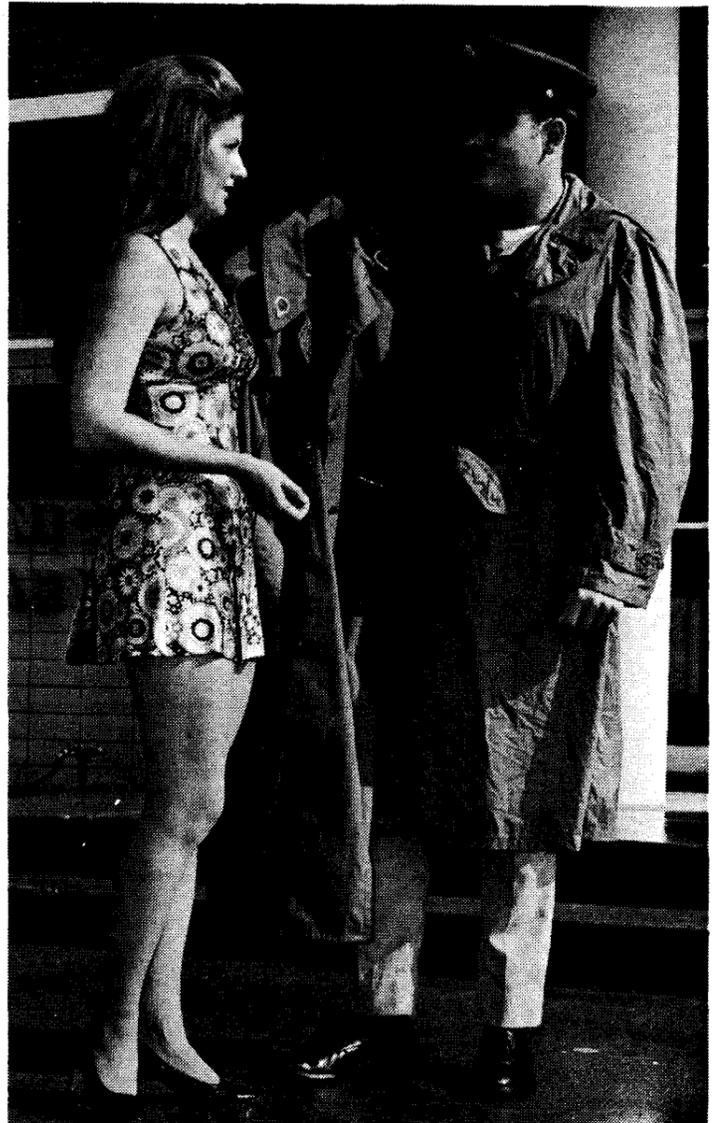

The Army has a General Education Development (GED) program set up for completion of your high school education, and will soon have a program for two years of college credit under the GED program.

The high school dipoma became almost a necessity in the '60's and is fast becoming a basic requirement in the '70s. The Army offers you the chance to get it free. All you need apply is the time and effort.

Thanks to the efforts of a number of people at the Missile and Munitions Center and School and Missile Command, a series of after duty hours classes designed to prepare you for the General Education Development tests is being held in building 3303 nightly Monday through Thursday.

Qualified teachers from the Huntsville City School System hold classes beginning at 6 each evening for courses in English-Literature, Mathematics, Social and Natural Sciences. These are the four basic courses necessary for a high school equivalency certification. Instructors provide personalized attention tailored to each individual's particular needs.

At the end of the course or whenever you and your instructor feel that you are prepared, you can take the GED test for your high school equivalency.

DRESS RIGHT—DRESS?—Susan Briseno, a civilian employe at the Missile and Munitions Center and School, helps bring the Army up-to-date with the cotton-polyester raincoat that now completely replaces the old Army taupe garment. The color is AG 274, but SP5 Bill Hayes seems interested in other figures at the moment.

In addition to a chance to get that high school diploma, the Army's promotional system is tied to formal educational levels. For each year of high school completed, you accumulate seven promotion points. A soldier with a high school diploma receives 60 promotion points. According to Army regulations, the high school diploma or GED equivalent is required for promotion to E-6.

Although its not final yet, plans are being made to offer a two-year college equivalency preparation course and GED test. Assistant MMCS S-3 officer CPT Robert R. Thompson has been the project officer and coordinator for setting up the program for MMCS military personnel. For more information about the program, contact either the Post Education Office at 6-2844 or the MMCS S-3 section at 6-7797.

According to calculations, the college GED equivalency examination could save you hundreds---perhaps even thousands---of dollars on a college education. Its something worth checking into.
