(Editor's Note: The MICOM Information Office conducts a question and answer program for job-related questions of general interest. Such questions may be telephoned to 876-4161 or 876-4400, or mailed to AMSMI-G. Some questions are selected for publication in the Rocket. Names are withheld. It is not intended that this program take the place of the usual supervisor-employee relationship which is the proper channel for specific job-related questions.)

Q. Only about half the personnel in the P&P Directorate have received the October 1971 issue of the City Telephone Directory. When will the balance be distributed.

A. Distribution has been made on the latest issue of the Huntsville Telephone Directory. Additional copies may be obtained, if needed, at the Arsenal's Telephone Directory Section, at 6-7151.

Q. The 1971 Open Season for the health benefits program is half over. The new brochures promised in the civilian personnel bulletin dated 9 Nov. 1971 have not been received. When will they be issued and will the open period be extended?

A. Brochures have been obtained by Civilian Personnel Division and are being distributed. Employees should receive a brochure regarding the plan under which they are enrolled. Civilian Personnel has no word that the open season will be extended by the Civil Service Commission.

Those desiring to make changes in their health benefits program should contact Sue Bulman at 6-5840.

Q. Last summer a contest was announced for selection of a new name for a forward area air defense system. What were the results?

A. Approximately 747 different names were submitted during the contest. Those names were evaluated by a special task team which narrowed the list to 20. The 20 names then were given to directors of all the major organizations at the Missile Command who narrowed the list to two names.

Maj. Gen. Edwin I. Donley selected one name which has been forwarded to the Army Materiel Command for coordination throughout such agencies as the Combat Developments Command, Army Air Defense Command, Continental Army Command and Office of Chief of Research and Development.

A decision likely will be made sometime in February at which time the contest winner will be announced.

Teen Club Sets

Holiday Dances

The Redstone Arsenal Teen Club is planning two dances during the holidays: the first on Christmas Eve and the second on New Year's Eve.

Otherwise, the club will not be open.

The Crossroads Band will play on Christmas Eve and the Saffron's on New Year's. Dancing will be from 8 p.m. until midnight. New Year's the club will remain open until 12:30 a.m.

The managers, Eleanor Hollis and Louise DeMichele, are wishing all a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year and hoping the club members will dress up for the dances.

Hunters Slow

Down In Take

Redstone hunters were able to account for only three deer this past weekend. These three bucks brought the season total to 58 deer taken on the Arsenal so far.

Sgt. 1-C Nathaniel Lewis got a 4 point, 98 lb. buck; Raymond Moore, a 7 point, 101 lb. buck; and Geno Michleski, a 6 point, 116 lb. buck.

Game Management officials are reemphasizing that hunters observe all safety precautions and stay out of areas that are posted as restricted.

To: ALL MICOM Personnel

In the past few days I have visited many of you at your work sites to express my thanks and appreciation for your support in the year now ending and to extend my personal season's greetings.

I suspect that if we could be granted one wish in the New Year, you and I would ask for an end to the uncertainty, that feeling of waiting for the other shoe to drop. The lesson of what we have experienced in 1971, however is that all of us, soldiers and civilians alike, must learn to live with uncertainty. Our nation is in the midst of major adjustment, a time of change with far reaching consequences not clearly seen yet by anyone. The causes and effects range far beyond Redstone Arsenal, the Army and the Defense establishment.

There is no reason to allow this to dampen our holiday spirits or cause undue concern about what the New Year will bring. The future, I find, has a way of arriving whether we worry about it or not.

As 1971 ends, we are on our way to a better, if smaller, professional Army, one with a continuing major role for the Army Missile Command and its products. We enter 1972 with new technology emerging from our laboratories that puts us in an excellent competitive position as emphasis shifts away from Vietnam and dollars and new missions go increasingly to those agencies most capable of helping the Army fulfill its role in the next decade and beyond.

I believe any realistic assessment of where we stand and where we are going provides grounds for optimism.

This is not, in short, a time to let down. We have a continuing job to do. It demands the very best from each one of us. The record will show that we can do it well.

I wish each of you, and your families, a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS, 1971 TO THE MEMBERS OF THE THIRD UNITED STATES ARMY

Since that time when the angelic chorus sang to the shepherds on the Judean hillside, the word "peace" has been synonymous with the festival of Christmas.

The word peace has been so misused by men and nations alike that it may seem a little trite; yet, when the season of Christmas returns, in a divine way it purifies the word and makes it come alive and sparkle with new meaning.

It is in the spirit of all the joy and happiness you can know that I wish for each member and family of the Third United States Army "peace" and goodwill unending.

So, may your holiday season be a blessed one and may the new year be your very best.

A. O. CONNOR
Lieutenant General, USA
Commanding

To each member of the Army Materiel Command, I extend best wishes for a happy holiday season, filled with all the joy of Christmas.

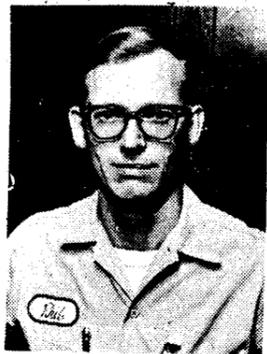

Your outstanding performance during the past year has enabled this Command to make a substantial contribution toward attainment of the peace, freedom and dignity which our nation envisions for all mankind.

Meeting the challenges of 1972 will be no easy task. As never before, it calls for moral strength and dedication to principles to bring us peace on earth, good will toward men, and the cherished freedoms that have made our country strong.

May the spirit of Christmas and the beginning of a new year bring peace and happiness to you and your loved ones.

Elevating Women's Status No Easy Task

Arleta Martin occupies one of the hottest chairs at the Missile Command. She is coordinator for the Federally Employed Women's program.

Women came to work one day in 1971 and found to their surprise that they had become the potential beneficiaries of a major new program - one which so far sounds great on paper, but has shown few visible signs of life.

With a goal to meet and people peppering her with questions about how this is to be done, her job has become interesting to say the least.

The goal which came out in a Commander's letter in October called for an increase in the number of women at MICOM in grades 13 through 15 - five additional 13's, two more GS-14's and a GS-15 to be on the rolls by the end of the year. There's no chance it will be met on time.

Miss Martin is not finding any simple means to help accomplish these goals, but she never thought it would be easy.

ARLETA MARTIN

"There are many barriers to overcome in promoting women," she said. "We do pretty well with promotions until we try to get past GS-12. Then we run into several bottlenecks.

"There is a pre-conceived idea that men belong in some kinds of occupations and women in others, and people seem to think that most of the jobs above GS-12 are the type to be filled by men.

"We have a problem finding qualified women candidates because they haven't been selected for promotion in the past. It's hard to put across that if a woman wants to work in a man's world, she should get the chance.

"There's a lot of emphasis placed on mobility and education in today's selection process.

"We have a problem finding qualified women candidates because of the barriers that have existed in the past that leave women concentrated in lower grade positions. The average grade for women at MICOM is approximately GS-6.

"Mobility becomes a barrier to selection of women in several ways. Many women, who can't be mobile because of family responsibilities, therefore are eliminated from consideration for a position before they get started.

"There are supervisors who will not seriously consider women because they assume they would not be interested in relocating, or fear they wouldn't stay on the job long because their husbands may be transferred.

Double Standard

"There are many men who do not desire to relocate even though they may indicate they do. Relocation may be something they don't want to do because of families or other reasons. No one raises an eyebrow when men won't move, yet this becomes a stigma for women."

"The real question concerns the true value of mobility as a selection factor. Does this factor really give us an insight into an individual's ability to perform? Does the fact that a person is willing to move to another geographical area tell us that this individual possesses greater knowledge, skills and abilities for a particular position than the individual who does not desire to move?"

"Unfortunately an individual's mobility has considerable influence as to whether or not she or he makes that best qualified list for career field positions.

"Another good question regarding mobility - is it really advantageous to the Government to be obligated for expenses allowed for transportation of employees and their families not to mention shipment of household goods and a host of other expenses connected with the sale and purchase of homes, especially in today's economic atmosphere?"

The emphasis placed on education also has an impact on the competitive position of women for higher grades.

"There are many women in the workforce today who began their careers when it was more important that Johnny receive a formal education than Susan. There seems to be, in some career fields at least, no way to equate years of quality experience to a degree, no matter how foreign that degree may be to the position being filled," Mrs. Martin said.

"Just a degree places a person in a higher competitive position for promotion, yet the individual who does not have years of education but has experience may be equally as capable of performing in the higher grade position."

Some Good Reasons

Another stumbling block to upward mobility for women is the lack of proper communication between them and their supervisors, in Miss Martin's opinion. Women may complain because they aren't promoted or given certain duties, yet there may be some underlying and good reason their supervisors decide they shouldn't advance.

"It's a supervisor's responsibility to counsel individuals so any deficiencies can be brought to light. Maybe they can be given special training to improve capabilities, or they can correct some fault if they know what it is. There can't be a rule book on counseling. It's something that should be done effectively, but on an informal and timely basis," she said.

Her conclusion on ways to solve the various problems is that it takes reconditioning of attitudes and updating of policies and procedures as well as laws so women will be in a more equitable position.

There are Equal Opportunity counselors in all elements of MICOM to whom women can take their complaints. This is a very successful way to clear up a lot of them according to Miss Martin. Some people bring their problems to her. She can cite the regulations or provide interpretations of them, and advise of any recourses. She does not tell people they should or should not file complaints. Once they understand the regulations and provisions, it is up to an individual to decide.

Chairs To Hope

The Redstone Recreation Association donated four wheel chairs to Hope, Inc. Wheel chairs, hospital beds and other equipment is loaned to the elderly in the community. The chairs are the most often requested item stocked by the Hope Lending Closet.

Ray Of Happiness For Others

FEMALE SANTA's? Although these Redstone workers have absolutely no physical resemblance to Santa Claus, they are playing the part of the old gent rather well. Julia Smith, Lilla Bentley, and Joan Ogle (left to right) admire some of the gifts the Secretary of the General Staff has collected for its two adopted children.

Christmas is the time for giving. It is the time when the unusual becomes the usual. And nowhere is this better demonstrated than at Redstone.

Many workers cast aside personal problems and work toward bringing a ray of happiness into the lives of those less fortunate. They enjoy playing the part of Santa Claus.

For example, anyone passing the Mail-Reference Library Division lately has probably noticed the festive decorations—including a Christmas tree surrounded by gifts for a young boy and girl.

The two children have been adopted by the Secretary of the General Staff in conjunction with a Christmas program sponsored by the Madison County Department of Pensions and Security.

Supplied with the first names, ages, needs, and sizes of the two children, the Secretary of the General Staff has donated needed clothing and several toys—including a shiny red bicycle.

Other Whitebeards include the personnel in the Lower Altitude-Air Defense Branch, Missile Systems Division, Directorate.

Working in conjunction with Salvation Army Christmas Charities, they have adopted two needy families for Christmas. Five children are involved.

To obtain contributions they decorated several donation boxes and displayed signs identifying the families and the project. Their gifts include food, clothing, and toys.

Personnel in the Multi-System Tool and Equipment Branch in Maintenance also qualify as Santa's. Although the group formerly sent cards to fellow workers, this year they decided to collect money, food, clothing, and toys to help those less fortunate.

They have adopted four families in Huntsville—including twenty-nine children—and are preparing a Christmas for them.

Every year it's the same. Christmas brings out the best in everyone.

Tree Lighting Heralds Season

The holiday season started officially with the lighting of the Christmas tree in ceremonies at the Redstone Arsenal Post Chapel. Maj. Gen. Edwin I. Donley, Commanding General, U.S. Army Missile Command, greeted the assembled guests and then pressed the switch to light the Christmas tree and the Nativity Scene outside the chapel.

Christmas music was presented by the 55th Army Band and then the Chapel Choir sang carols with the guests joining in.

Following the tree lighting ceremonies the children filed into Chapel to receive a gift from Santa Claus. Parents and adults had coffee and refreshments in the fellowship hall hosted by Col. Robert F. Mashburn, Staff Chaplain, and the members of his staff.

Chaplain Gerald J. Foley gave the scripture reading and Chaplain John L. Sharp the prayer.

Approximately 300 Redstone children and adults attended the tree lighting ceremonies.

White Collar...

Raise Awaits Signature

WASHINGTON—President Nixon has not indicated what action he will take on legislation passed by Congress last week granting a 5.5 percent pay raise effective January 1 for all General Schedule (white collar) federal employees.

The President spent yesterday and Monday conferring in Bermuda with Prime Minister Heath of Great Britain. Mr. Nixon has until December 28 to approve or reject the pay bill.

Congressional observers are predicting he will sign the bill into law. The pay raise passed both Houses of Congress last week as an amendment to legislation extending the President's economic stabilization authority. A veto of the pay provisions would kill the entire legislative package.

Mr. Nixon announced last August that he would defer the pay raise for federal employees and military personnel until July 1, 1972, as a key part in moves he made to strengthen the dollar. The effect of the new pay bill is to require that the federal raise be paid in January as originally scheduled.

Should he sign the bill into law, military personnel will get a raise averaging slightly more than seven percent. The rate is determined by comparability legislation passed in prior years.

The raise would be reflected in January paychecks for white collar and military personnel.

The pay bill made no mention of blue collar pay raises - also deferred for six months by the President - but sources here speculated raises for blue collar workers would follow soon if the President approves the white collar pay raise.

The American Federation of Government Employees and other federal employee unions had urged the pay raise become effective in January and worked hard for the measure which passed Congress Wednesday night.

Cafeteria Schedule

Interstate United has announced a revised schedule for cafeteria and snack bar service on the Arsenal during the holiday season.

Bldgs 5250, 5681, and 4488 will have one-line service during regular hours.

Bldgs 5400 and 7101 will have grill service only during regular hours.

Bldg 4505 will close at 1 p.m. December 23 and will resume normal operations on January 3.

Service Club Festivities

The Redstone Service Club has four holiday activities lined up for service members and their families.

A "Kandy Kitchen Party" begins the holiday activities Dec. 21st at 6:30 p.m. Then, on the 23rd at 7 p.m., the club will host a gift-wrapping party. Enlisted personnel and their families who would enjoy trying out some new "Kandy" recipes or would like to finish up those last-minute wrapping chores are invited to do so at the Service Club.

Christmas Eve activities get underway at 7 p.m. in the club's lounge and will include a night of carolling. An open house is scheduled for Christmas Day, as soldiers planning on spending Christmas away from home are invited to join the Service Club family at 3:30 p.m. for a day of fun and frolic.

Refreshments will be served at all the club's activities.

Choral Group Featured At December Program

The Officers Club Ballroom was decked with holly as the Officers Wives Club and its December uncheon and choral program.

Mrs. Robert C. Marshall and Mrs. Warfield Lewis had many workers who contributed their time and talent to decorate the ballroom. Mrs. Carlton Lowery's decoration committee featured centerpieces of Christmas trees on each table, laurels of holly, and 12 wall hangings each featuring one of the "Twelve Days of Christmas."

Christmas music was presented by the Officers Wives Club Choral Group under the direction of Mrs. M.W. Pettit. "It's Beginning To Look A Lot Like Christmas" set the mood of the program that ranged from traditional songs such as Paula Terry's solo in "Christmas Day" to a lovely carol "Poor Mary" which featured a solo by Gemma Bourre with Mrs. Pettit accompanying her on the harp.

Mary Robinson, Colleen Mashburn, and Ellen Speicher each contributed solos.

The entire choral group joined in on such numbers as the group of foreign Christmas songs from Spain, Russia, and Germany. Lib Morrow accompanied the group on the piano, and on "The Little Drummer Boy" Rick Niedermeyer joined in on the drum. The traditional closing of "Silent Night" seemed extra special as the first verse was sung in German by Gemma Bourre and then in English by the entire Choral Group.

TALENT ON PARADE

The Redstone Service Club will sponsor a talent show Dec. 26 at 7 p.m. in the club's lounge. All enlisted personnel who would like to show off their talents are invited to participate.

Those desiring to appear in the show are asked to contact any of the Service Club staff or phone the club, 876-4531.

Post Service Career Aim Of Transition

The Project Transition Program at Redstone Arsenal has grown during the last two years and is due to grow even bigger in the coming year. Julian V. Heimsness, a vocational development specialist, has just been appointed as full time Project Transition Officer for the post.

At the present time seven Redstone soldiers, E-3's through E-6's, are engaged in training as Computer Operators, Air Conditioning and Refrigeration Specialists, Finance Technicians, Motel Managers, Automotive Engine Rebuild Mechanics, Heavy Equipment Operators and Store Managers.

During November, 19 soldiers applied for Transition training and the total is expected to be even larger by the first of the year.

The purpose of Project Transition is to provide soldiers due to leave the service with marketable skills that are needed in the civilian work force. This program is pointed specifically at soldiers who served in such jobs as ammunition handlers, infantrymen, intelligence specialists and other related jobs that have no civilian equivalent in the Nations' work force.

Redstone soldiers due for discharge or retirement receive a briefing from post Personal Services Branch approximately six months before they are due to get out. This briefing covers job opportunities in civilian life, education programs, and training available under Project Transition.

On-The-Job

Under the Transition program, soldiers work during duty time with local civilian firms that are participating as on-the-job trainers. Some of these companies even provide jobs for the personnel they train when they have vacancies in the area where the trainee wants to settle.

With the Army due to release 65,000 men by the end of June 1972, and many of them eligible for Transition training, Redstone officials are looking forward to increased local participation. Heimsness is already contacting local and national business firms to provide additional training positions to meet the anticipated activity.

Citing the case of Sergeant (E-5) Norman A. Nelson, an Operations and Intelligence Specialist in the 7th ETC, Heimsness explained just how the plan is working.

Nelson attended the briefing at the Personal Services Branch for personnel due to get out of the service or retire within the six month period. During the briefing he became interested in Project Transition so he asked to check through the card file to see what training was available.

New Proj. Transition Officer

He discovered that a national finance company with a local office, was looking for a man who wanted to train in that area. Since his Army job was not considered a civilian marketable skill, Nelson applied for training under the Transition program.

His application was approved by a field grade officer in his military unit and Nelson then approached the manager of the local finance office. He was accepted, which meant he could work as a trainee for a maximum of 480 hours while still in the Army. During this time the company trains him, but does not pay him, because he is still receiving his pay as a Sergeant in the Army.

Job Waiting

Now with his discharge date approaching, Nelson has been told by the District Manager of the finance company that he will have a position with the company in Grand Rapids, Michigan after he gets out.

Commenting on the Transition program, Nelson said, "I always liked this type of work and wanted to get into the finance field. The Army is on the right track and I think this program can help many of the soldiers who are getting out. I am very happy that I am going to work with this company in my home town. They have been terrific to me."

The District Manager of the finance company added his praise for the program with these comments, "Our company is happy to get trainees in this field because there is always a need for qualified personnel. This way we get to accept a man, train him our way, get a chance to see if we like him and if he likes us, and then we usually offer him a job in a locality of his choice if a vacancy exists. We always prefer to employ the people we train. I am happy that Nelson is going to a job in the area he chose."

Discussing expansion of the Project Transition Program, First Lieutenant Frank J. Opp, Chief, Personal Services Branch, said, "We want to encourage all personnel who are leaving the service through discharge or retirement to check on the requirements for Project Transition training. Qualifications for the program are constantly changing as more and more personnel become eligible."

"Personnel interested in the program can call Heimsness at 876-5468, 876-8664 or 876-2844 for additional information. All of us in the Personal Services Branch want to help you and to make this program a success."

Protestant Women Lend Hope To Aged

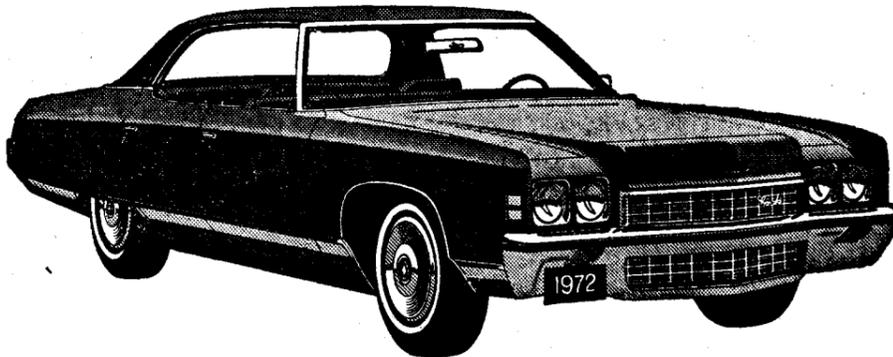

Protestant Women of the chapel are among the volunteers who assist the elderly of Huntsville through the HOPE Commodity Day service, furnishing transportation and taking care of the chores like standing in line and lifting heavy items.

Approximately 60 volunteers are needed each month to get the bags of surplus commodities to the homes of about 400 elderly clients.

The women are the second group from Redstone to participate. Enlisted men of the 200th Ordnance Group were the first to volunteer.

If you want a '72 Chevrolet at '71 prices, for goodness sake please hurry.

The new higher car prices recently announced did not affect those new '72 Chevrolets we already had in stock with the old 1971 price sticker. So you can still save on a new 1972 Chevrolet. But only while they last, and the excise tax has been removed. PLEASE HURRY!

MICOM Exhibits Scoring Punch In Downing MP's

The Unit Level Basketball League got underway last week at the post gym. Eleven teams in both the American and National League's will be battling through two round-robins to determine playoff berths in the post championships, tentatively scheduled for March.

In last week's first round action:
Monday

UTC had little trouble handling the 6th ETC, as they built up a 21-6 lead at the half and then coasted to a 36-23 victory. Osie Anderson sparked the win for UTC with 10-points, all in the first half.

James Mears and Billy Goodwin went on individual scoring sprees to lead MICOM to a 66-40 win over the 291st MP's. Mears hit 16-points in the first half and Goodwin a like number in the second half to assure the MICOM five of the win. Mears ended up the evening with 24-markers while Goodwin, held scoreless in the first half, had to settle for 16. Darrel Sample pushed through 12-points for the MP's.

In other action, Safeguard eased past C Co., 40-29 and the 7th ETC won by forfeit over the 227th Ord. Gary Landry paced the Safeguard attack with 13-points while Roy Bunche was high scorer in a losing effort for C Co. with 18-markers.

Tuesday

The 1st ETC, led by Ed Jelovich, put down A Co., 52-46. Jelovich hit the nets for 23-points to take game-scoring honors. Joe Savery added 11 for the winners, who led 26-13 at the half. George Williams was high for A Co. with 16 points.

The 157th Ord had just enough in their game with SOC as they came back from a 17-10 deficit at half to post a 34-33 victory. Michael Hall had 20-points for the night, 16 in the second half, to pace the win. Ken Sweasy was a one-man scoring machine for SOC. After being held scoreless in the first half of play, he put through 14 of his team's 16 points in the second stanza.

The 9th ETC outscored the 95th Cal, 35-26 to round out Tuesday's action. Trailing by four-points at halftime, ETC came back behind Fred Thorton and Larry Rollins to get the win. Thorton poured through 12-points and Rollins added 11 to pace the winners.

Wednesday

UTC posted its second win of the early season by outscoring the 227th Ord, 47-32. George Noble paced UTC's second win with 16-points, while John Mitchell and George Jellen added 10 apiece. Bobby Speed paced all scorers with 17-points in a losing effort.

The 291st MP's evened their record at 1-1 while handing Safeguard its first loss after one victory, 38-36. Safeguard led at halftime 25-21 but the MP's put it all together in the second stanza to win the verdict. Tim Zakawa led the MP team effort with 10-points while Eric Younkin added 9 and Darrel Sample and Frank Howard 8 each.

Also Wednesday night, SSG routed the 7th ETC 43-27 and the 6th ETC won by forfeit over the 249th Ord. After leading by only five, 18-13 at halftime, SSG pulled away in the second half of action to post its first win of the season. Sidney Granger and Gilbert Quick paced the winners scoring attack

King Pins Close In On Reba Lead

Jim Galbreath just missed connections with the Honor Roll and Ken Bell provided a big helping hand as the DeVault turned the S&M Bowling League race into a red-hot three way duel last week.

The league leading Reba five saw their lead cut to a mere half point in being held to an even split by Bale's Rentals. The King Pins took three from the Pinspotters to cut their second place deficit in half.

DeVaults made the big jump closing to within a single point of the Pins. Any one of the three contenders plus the fourth place Bushwackers could grab off the first half crown with two weeks yet to bowl.

Galbreath flattened 598 of the Playmor maples in claiming the league's Bowler of the Week award with a 667 handicapped total. His team mate Bell shot a 551 total as the DeVaults blanked MIA.

Reba's got a 531 from Carl Black but only two points from the Andy Andreottola-led Bale crew. Andreottola chopped down 521 sticks.

The Pinspotters moved up behind the lead of Vic Shellenbarger.

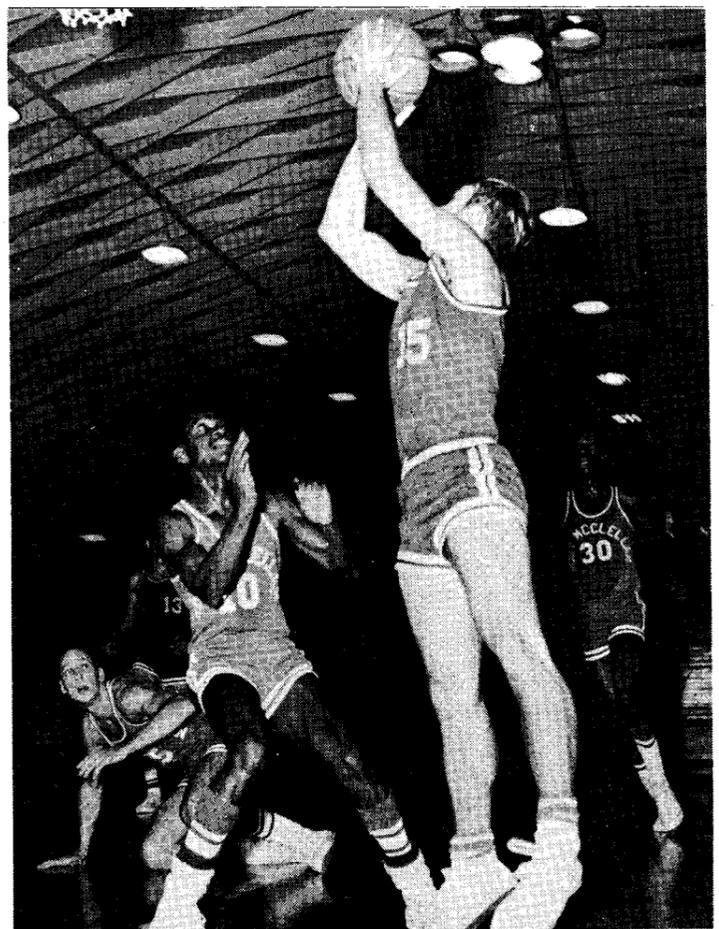

Elmer Rufe was the second high scorer of the week with his 561 that got the Rired Five an even split with Jim's Five and Chris Leachman hit for 538 as the Bushwackers broke even with Lot-o-Pins.

with 14 and 10-points respectively, while Ken Braxton was high for the losers and high for the game with 16-points.

Thursday

The 1st ETC moved its record to 2-0 by breezing by the 157th Ord, 48-27. Ed Jelovich was again the leading scorer for ETC with 19-points. Michael Hall, who was the scoring ace in the 157th's win over SOC, was the leader for the losers with 14-points.

In the only other game of the night, the Medics won a low-scoring affair from SOC, 32-20. Both teams were cold most of the night as the 11-6 halftime score indicates. Robert Evans managed 8-points for the Medics to take game-scoring honors.

UP FOR TWO—Redstone's Russ Spicer leaves a Ft. McClellan defender flat-footed as he goes in for two points during Friday night's game at Ft. McClellan. The Rockets lost the contest 85-66.

Short-Handed Rockets Fall To McClellan

Redstone, playing without the services of three regulars, couldn't get off the ground last weekend at Ft. McClellan as the Rockets dropped a pair of conference games to the Blues, 85-66 and 77-61.

The double-loss to McClellan evened the Rockets record at 3-3 in the tough Western Division of the Third Army League. McClellan now stands at 4-2, good enough for a first place tie with Ft. Campbell.

The Rockets, playing without Louis Martin, Ed Jelovich and Jerome Campbell, tried to counteract McClellan's potent fast-break offense with a slow, deliberate attack of its own but to no avail. The Rockets did manage to stay in contention during both games until midway in the second period. At that time, trailing, they were forced to run with the Blues and that proved disastrous. McClellan used both opportunities to pad its lead and put the games out of reach.

The Rockets trailed by only one point, 16-15 at the end of the first quarter Friday night and it looked as if Coach Spann's strategy might work. But then, McClellan put its fast-break into high gear and exploded for 28-points in the second quarter while the Rockets were managing only 20.

That forced Redstone to play McClellan's run and shoot game in the second half and the Rockets just weren't up to it. They trailed by only 10 at the end of the third period but when the final buzzer sounded they were on the short end of an 85-66 verdict.

Greg Perkins paced Rocket scorers in the game with 20-points, while Russ Spicer added 18 and Al Weissenfluh 10. Don Colston was high for the Blues with 22 while Larry Varmedoe netted 19.

Saturday's contest was almost an instant-replay of Friday night's affair. The Rockets kept close through most of the first two periods but then McClellan went on a scoring binge which put them up by 14 at halftime. Again, the Rockets were forced to run in the second half and again, McClellan was just too much for them. Final Score, 77-61.

Redstone goes into action again Jan 7-8 here against Ft. Rucker. Gametime for the Friday's game is 7 p.m. with a 2 p.m. tip off the following day.

Misfits About In After Sweep

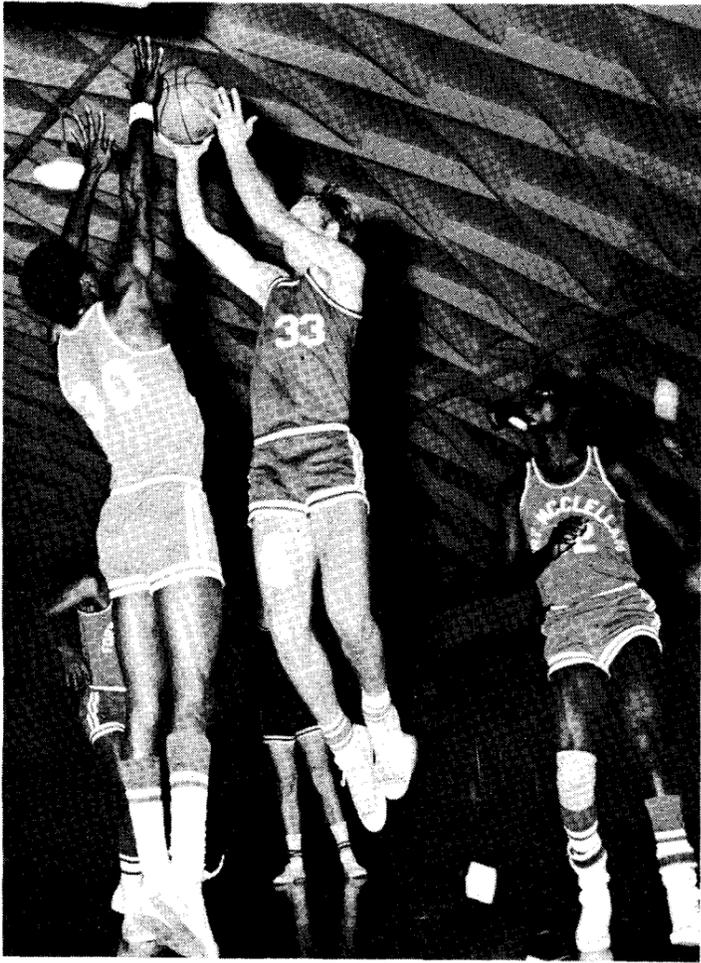

The Misfits are now the team to beat for the 1st half title in the RSA Officers Bowling League, following their key sweep of the Metrocals last week.

That gave the Misfits an enviable 2-game lead, to carry into the closing round of 1st half action tonite.

Three Misfits eclipsed the 500-series norm in their important win. John Justice led the way with a superb 560, and was supported by Bob Porter's 509 and Al Robinson's 506.

The Swingers trail the Misfits while Sperry Rand and the Bottlenecks are knotted in 3rd place, three games out. Those three still have a slim chance for 1st half honors, but it'll take some classy bowling to overcome the Misfits with only four points remaining.

Top individuals last week included the Blackjacks' Bob Coltrane (533), the Bottlenecks' Bob Wendt (201-533), the Swingers' Bob Nix and Hank Brotherton (both 529), the Bottlenecks' Ray Weinberg (201-516), the Mixups' Rich Oliver (516), the RASA Rasca's Tom Wilkerson (515) and the Dippers' Claude Montecucco (514).

DEFENSE PREVAILS—A Ft. McClellan defender blocks Al Weissenfluh's attempt at two points during Friday night's game at Ft. McClellan.

CFW Girls Gain Split For Week

The Civilian Welfare Fund broke even in women's basketball last week with the Missile Command scoring a win and Safeguard coming out on the short end.

The MICOM gals won their first victory after three losses by outscoring the Marshall Center, 57-37, while Safeguard tumbled before the powerful State Farm team 68-44.

Last week's double bill closed out the first round of play in the Huntsville Women's league. The second half gets underway on January 10 following a two-week layoff.

Carole Bissinger continued to pace the MICOM scoring by pouring 27 points through the nets. Helen Smith and Joyce Waid hit for ten a piece and Linda Melton collected four goals and eight points after playing the first three periods in the back court.

Alice Underwood was the top MARS scorer with 12 points.

Linda Haygood set the scoring pace for Safeguard with 15 but Connie Kirkpatrick scored 31 for the defending champions.

School Sergeant Attends DOD Technical Workshop

Master Sergeant Lawrence Wallace of the Missile and Munitions Center and School is one of two soldiers who recently attended a four-day Department of Defense Technical and Engineering Data Workshop.

The 17-year veteran and chief instructor in the Pershing Division of the Land Combat Department attended the session with more than 80 persons representing all branches of the military service.

The session, held at the Naval Ship Missile Systems Engineering Station in Port Hueneme, California enabled the men to discuss and point out data problems experienced in the field that may find solution via policy and procedural changes.

The workshop theme, "A Critique of Engineering - Technical Data - The User's Viewpoint" featured five panel discussions.

Subjects were maintenance, procurement and provisioning, operations, mechanization and in-service engineering.

A native of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, "Super Sarge", a name Wallace acquired through association with many Defense personnel, participated in the Maintenance panel of the session.

Bombers Regain Share Of Lead

If the last half of the AMC bowling league season is anything like the opening round, it just may be summer before a champion is crowned.

The 14-team circuit reached the halfway point last Wednesday with two teams deadlocked at the top and four more outfits within seven points of the co-leaders.

The All-Sports fell into a tie with the Bombers after dropping three of four points to the Sprinters while the Bombers were winning three from the T-Birds.

Ed Kellis shot a 561 and Tom Smith turned in a 556 reading to get the Bombers their winning margin while Art Fredricks did the Sports in with a league leading 566 count for the Sprints. Earl Sims shot 165 in each game for a triplicate on the same side.

The Cobras stayed two points back in third place despite dropping three points to the Bandits, the fifth place occupants. Don Slagle was the most productive Bandit at 556 and Willie Wiggins was close behind at 536.

The fourth place Hughes TOW quintet eased past the Fat Cats and moved to within three lengths of the top and the Sheratons claimed sixth, seven points out, by winning three from the Toppers.

Jack Nelson shot 559 for the Inn Keepers while Dick Gore turned in 533 for the losing Fat Cat attack.

In other matches Reggie McLaney rapped the maples for 535 as the Alley Cats took three from the Lancers and the Chrysler TOWs got two points out of a closing 1023 game to break even with the Rejectors.

Two-Stripe Cincy Singer

LAYING DOWN HIS SOUNDS—Reggie Williams of the Army, formerly a member of The Majestics of Cincinnati, lays out his own style of blues at the Service Club.

Corporal Reginald Williams, 19, a native of Cincinnati, Ohio, and currently assigned to the 7th ETC has been singing soul music since he was a youngster. Before joining the Army, Williams was in a Cincinnati group called the "Majestics." They toured throughout Ohio, including Kent State University of Cincinnati, and they appeared in clubs in Akron and Dayton.

Williams, who occasionally accompanies himself on the piano, sings rock, blues, and soul. Curtis Mayfield and Isaac Hayes are two of his favorite singers.

At his last post, Fort Polk, Williams was the winner of the Outstanding Entertainer Award by the Service Club there. He also won the club's entertainment trophy for his company.

Four of the five members of the "Majestics" are currently in the service. Cpl. Williams and another group member are in the Army, one is in the Air Force, and the fourth is in the Marines.

Williams has sung at the Redstone Service Club and the EM Club. Since then he's been looking around for other engagements, but he has found that job hunting can be difficult. He has a good sound, and it is hoped that he will perform at the club again in the near future.

Almost $100 Average Pay On Good Ideas

There's a lady in the Civilian Personnel Division who has good news for people who like money.

She has lots to give away.

Matter of fact, she hopes to give away more than ever before during January.

The way to get your share is to think of things that will save money or manpower in government operations.

Just write it down and send it down and send it to her.

That's how you participate in the Suggestion Program.

Delia Black, executive secretary of the Incentive Awards Committee, is the gal with the gold.

Turn Them In

Nothing makes her sadder, particularly at this time of the year when she knows just about everyone is bracing for post-Christmas bills, than to think of all the military and civilian personnel here who have good ideas, put them to work, but fail to take that extra few minutes to write them down and submit them as formal suggestions that could bring them checks or other formal recognition.

There's special campaign being run on suggestions throughout the entire month of January. Military and civilian personnel of all the Army commands and agencies serviced by the Civilian Personnel Division are being urged to participate.

During the first quarter of this Fiscal Year, almost $10,000 was paid among 197 military and civilian personnel in all Army agencies served by the MICOM Civilian Personnel Division. These people made worthwhile suggestions that were adopted.

These suggestions brought an estimated first year benefit to the Government totaling $2,082,902.

Money is not the only reward for good suggestions. People can gain recognition for their ideas through awards of certificates of achievement.

Award winning suggestions have included such things as ways to reduce stockage of missile repair parts, changes in regulations that resulted in saving time, and procedures that brought about more efficient ways of operation.

Any good idea that is identified and submitted will be carefully evaluated.

It could mean dollars that help pay Christmas bills.

IT'S LIKE THIS—Roland Woelfel recites a poem for old Saint Nick during a party for children of German Air Force personnel at MMCS. It was held December 6th, which is Santa Claus Day in many countries worldwide, including Germany. Each child received a gift from the North Pole toymaker and refreshments were served. Just three more days and the man with the ruddy cheeks and rejuvenated reindeer will be streaking across the U.S. sky and working his way down your chimney. Remember him with hot chocolate or maybe a little nip. (U.S. Army photo by SFC Raymond R. Dussault)

Looking For Post-Service Employment?

Looking for a job?

Need help planning a career?

A Career Opportunities Day for young people throughout Huntsville and Madison County is next Tuesday at the Huntsville Community Center located at 300 Church Street.

Purpose of Career Opportunities Day is to inform students at all levels and other job seekers about employment throughout Huntsville and to help them plan for a career.

John Hinkle, a member of the Chamber of Commerce planning committee, said military personnel stationed in the Huntsville community are also invited to attend. Information would be particularly helpful to soldiers who are completing military duty, he said.

Huntsville employers, including the Missile Command, will have booths and exhibits at the Community Center manned by specialists who will explain the businesses represented, careers involved in their company operations, education and experience requirements, and occupational trends.

Sessions will begin at 9 a.m. and continue to 5 p.m.

There is no admission fee.

MISSILE & MUNITIONS CENTER & SCHOOL
NAMES IN THE NEWS
 By SP4 Jerome Mercer

For What It's Worth

Looking over the list of 114 students graduating from the school last Thursday this writer noticed a SSG John Kennedy graduated from the Sergeant Test Equipment Repair course while SP4 Tom Collins came out as the honor grad in the Shillelagh Missile System Repair course.

Fourth Best In Second

Last week at 2nd Battalion award ceremonies the 4th ETC was recognized as the battalion honor company for November.

In November, 1LT Sharon N. Sledge's company achieved the highest overall rating during battalion inspections in the areas of barracks cleanliness and maintenance, area police, administration and overall company operations.

Suggestion Adopted

SSG Michael R. Felton, the personnel records supervisor in the Personnel Division, noticed that though UTC did not have its own certificate of achievement but had to use that of MMCS. UTC is a Third Army operation based here.

Felton's suggestion that a UTC certificate of achievement be designed and authorized was recently adopted and future UTC'ers can look forward to earning their own distinctive award.

Medals Awarded

Several soldiers stationed at the school were recently decorated for past duty performance.

SP4 Gladstone C. Reddicks, a former platoon sergeant with the 1st ETC who ETS'ed this week, received his second Bronze Star Medal, this one for valor.

Reddicks, 19, was decorated for heroic action while on a night ambush to secure an abandoned firebase in Vietnam on November 23, 1970.

Reddicks was an infantryman with the First Cavalry's 7th Regiment there.

SFC Gene A. Davis, NCOIC of

the General Ammunition Division's Course Development Branch, received the Bronze Star Medal for service as a platoon sergeant and then First Sergeant of the 606th Ord Company, Cam Rhan Bay, Vietnam, from June 1970 until May of this year.

First Sergeant Charles T. Payne of the 6th ETC was decorated with the Meritorious Service Medal for outstanding service as a First Sergeant with the 2nd Infantry Division in Korea from June 1970 until July of last year.

SSG Albert T. Shaw, the operations scheduling NCO for MSTD, got the Army Commendation Medal for service as the administrative supervisor, headquarters, U. S. Army Strategic Communications Command, Europe,

SHAW

Schwetzingen, Germany, from August 1968 until July of this year.

The Nashville, Arkansas, native has over 15 years of military service.

SFC Willard R. Jones of C Company got the Army Commendation Medal for duty performance as a technical NCO in

DDL&P's Technical Review Branch from November 1970 until this month.

The 41-year-old soldier is leaving in January for a tour in Okinawa.

SSG Randy L. Townsend, the Television Department's NCOIC, received the First Oak Leaf Cluster for his Army Commendation Medal for duty as a personnel sergeant and then NCOIC of the personnel division of the 29th Signal Group, Sattahip, Thailand, from November 1970 until October of this year.

TOWNSEND

MAJ Thomas F. Hall, Jr., was decorated with the Army Commendation Medal for duty while assigned as Logistics Management Instructor, Logistics Division, OTD, from January 1970 until November of this year.

Hall, who holds a bachelor of science degree in chemistry from

HALL

Ouachita University, Arkadelphia, Ark., is presently working toward a masters degree in administrative sciences at the University of Alabama, Huntsville, under the "bootstrap" program.

MSTD

If you don't hear people referring to DOI's Officer Training Department in the future as much as in the past, its because the Officer Training Department no longer exists, at least under that name.

The new name for OTD is the Management and Special Training Department (MSTD)

Instructors Recognized

Recently two instructors in Nike Division's Missile Launcher Branch received certificates of achievement for duty performance in their assignments prior to coming to MMCS.

SSG Robert F. Winer received a certificate for service as a Nike launcher repair foreman with the 166th Ord Company, 2nd Battalion, 562nd Artillery, 87th Artillery Group, Fort Wainwright, Alaska, from June 1970 until May of this year.

SSG Frederick J. Burrows got his certificate for duty as an instructor in the aircraft armament division at the Army Ordnance Center and School, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md., from Oct. 1969 until Nov. of this year.

Civilians Commended

Numerous civilian employees were recently commended by Commandant COL Gilbert P. Levy for their past work at the school.

In DOI, Bettie C. Kelley received an Outstanding Performance Rating certificate and Sustained Superior Performance Award for work as a clerk typist while Amelia A. Moore and Dorothy T. Durham won Outstanding Performance Rating certificates for work as clerk-typists and Rey O. Edmundson as a supervisory training instructor.

Also in DOI, James M. Jager, Leroy S. Heston, and Wayne M. Morgan, Sr., got quality increases.

In the Directorate of Logistics, four employees received Outstanding Performance Rating certificates: Charles E. Thornberry, a supply clerk; James T. Fanning, an electronic fire control systems installer and repairer; John Smith, Jr., a motor vehicle operator, and Annette G. Barnard, as a secretary.

Betty H. Walker in Logistics won a quality increase.
