

Checks With A Bounce

"Oh, what a tangled web we weave..."
A number of people are learning the full meaning of that old adage the capitalistic way—with a checkbook.

Taking pen in hand, some folks seem to think the easy solution to being "flat broke" is to simply fill in the blanks, regardless of what shape their bank balance is in.

But, often that seemingly harmless little act snowballs into consequences they hadn't bargained for.

A serviceman, for example, may find himself face-to-face with a court-martial. Although varying with the amount of the check, penalties for a bad check between $50 and $100 may rise to the maximum of a bad conduct discharge and/or a year's imprisonment.

A check for more than $100 could shackle a soldier with a dishonorable discharge and up to five years in jail.

When a check bounces, a soldier is notified by letter informing him that he has a limited time to make restitution. If he fails to do so within that time, it is assumed that he intended to deceive and legal actions may be taken.

A soldier who writes a bad check off-post may be prosecuted by local law authorities. Or, in cases that directly involve the military services, he may also be subject to prosecution in the military courts.

For whatever reasons, the number of bad checks seems to be on the rise both on-post and off. A spokesman for the Post Exchange noted a 40 percent increase in the incidence of bad check writing during July, August and September, than in the previous three months.

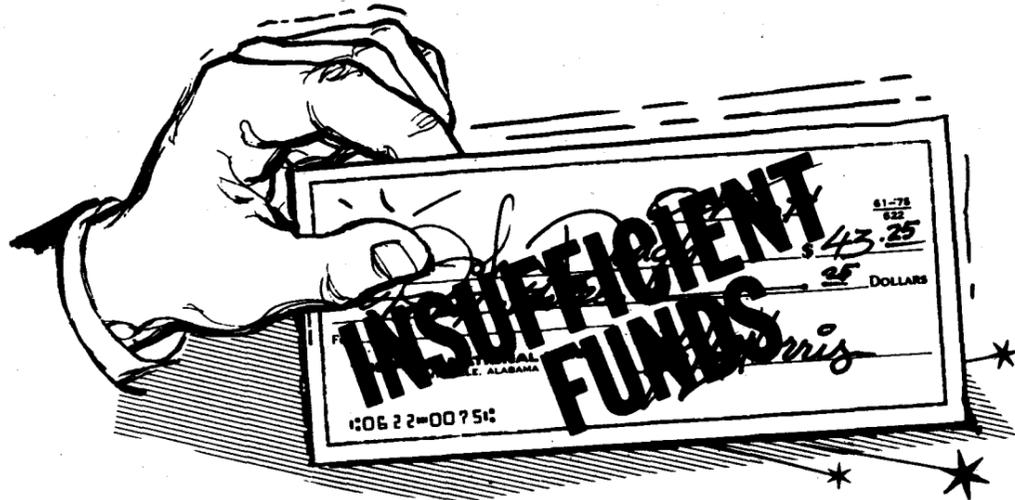

Last year, approximately 34 million personal checks were cashed at Army and Air Force exchanges at a value of $1.3 billion.

The check cashing policy is extended as a courtesy to servicemen and women, who with a valid military identification card, may cash checks at any exchange. Previously, each installation had its own policies and restrictions.

Visiting servicemen are entitled to the same privileges as local residents.

The number of dishonored checks reached the 217,000 mark last year at a cost of five dollars each for processing.

A full scale attempt to combat the situation has been launched and includes the use of a computerized program that provides on-the-spot information about known offenders.

. . . . . Not The Answer

The service charge for a bad check at post exchanges was raised from $2 to $5 in early June.

Soldiers are being warned that the clamp-down may result in revocation of the check cashing privilege and other exchange services.

On the civilian side of the fence, some offenders have been caught passing bad checks on-post. In such cases, the local courts have no jurisdiction. However, according to a spokesman from the Judge Advocate's office, these individuals are tried by the Federal Magistrate Judge.

A random survey of banks in the Huntsville area showed that the number of bad checks is on the increase. One local cashier attributed the cause to the present condition of the economy.

"Anytime there's tight money, you see more of this."

In December, 1971, the Alabama legislature passed the Worthless Check Act. The law requires that the giver of a bad check be sent a registered return card letter giving him 10 days to make restitution to the recipient of the check.

Any person violating any provision of the Act shall be punished upon conviction as follows:

Category I: When the check is for less than $100.

First offense: a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $100.

Second offense: a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $200 and/or imprisonment not to exceed 30 days.

Third and subsequent offenses: a fine of not less than $200 nor more than $400 and/or imprisonment not to exceed three months.

Category II: When the check is for $100 or more but less than $500.

First offense: a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $200.

Second offense: a fine of not less than $200 nor more than $400 and/or imprisonment not to exceed three months.

Third and subsequent offenses: a fine of not less than $400 nor more than $800 and/or imprisonment not to exceed 18 months.

Category III: When the check is for $500 or more—a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $5,000 and/or imprisonment not to exceed three years.

Bumper Bloopers

"I did it my way" seems to reflect the thinking on the application of new automobile decals. If variety is indeed the spice of life, arsenal parking lots are overflowing with sticker handiwork.

A notice distributed with the new de-calcs states the procedure for application on front and rear bumpers on the driver's side. Mutilated, torn or otherwise unreadable decals should be returned to the internal security division, and old decals should be removed from bumpers.

Energy Program Not Settled

The energy conservation program for Redstone this winter is being updated by Facilities Engineer in light of the unsettling power outlook being posed by the Tennessee Valley Authority.

While it is not yet known exactly what form the updated program will take and what measures it will call for, it is being tailored to bring about a reduction in power consumption in the neighborhood of 20 per cent, as per TVA's request.

It is a certainty that the program will be keyed to individual effort, since Facilities Engineer has done about all it immediately can in the way of making the installation's physical plant more energy efficient, according to John Norton of the mission planning, construction and environmental office at Facilities Engineer.

"Right now we're trying to get our program in gear and organize a systematic approach to this problem," Norton said. Supervisors will assume a major role in seeing the program through, he added.

Another Facilities Engineer official said somberly: "We'd better all take TVA damn seriously in this matter."

A letter to supervisors is being prepared that outlines conservation measures individuals can take and the role of supervisors in the program.

The installation Energy Conservation Committee is meeting to give the program more firm direction. The Rocket will print more details when they become available.

Pick 27 As Para Trainees

Civilian Personnel Division officials have announced the selection of 27 MICOM employees to fill para trainee positions in a variety of career fields at the command. The para trainee program is a part of Upward Mobility.

Career fields presently covered are personnel, accounting, mathematician, budget and program analysts, procurement, supply, and traffic management. The positions are in the Civilian Personnel Division, the Directorate for Management Information Systems, the Comptroller, Special Systems Management Office, the Procurement and Production and the Materiel Management Directorates, and the Missile Research, Development and Engineering Laboratory.

Individuals selected as para trainees are assigned to positions in their respective fields and given on-the-job and classroom training. Upon successful completion of the training they progress to higher grade levels without further competition.

Applicants for para trainee positions must have shown initiative to get whatever training on their own is needed to reach their career goals.

Para trainee positions are established within the manpower resources of an organization. Unlike Army Materiel Command interns, para trainees do not sign a mobility agreement. They remain at Redstone following completion of their training.

Mary Spears was the first MICOM employee to be selected as a para trainee.

Path To Success

(ANF)—Enlisted men and women will soon be finding promotion information easier to obtain. This fall all enlisted personnel will receive their own copy of a new DA pamphlet entitled "Your Pathway to Success: The Enlisted Promotion System."

The pamphlet is designed to show the soldier how the promotion system works and its relation to various levels of command.

Chaparral-FAAR Seeks Product Office Status

Chaparral, a heat seeking missile that defends against low flying enemy aircraft, and its early warning eyes, the Forward Area Alerting Radar (FAAR), have been pulled out of Special Systems and planted on a front burner by the Missile Command.

"We've got so much activity going that we had to establish a Chaparral/FAAR Management Office," said Lieutenant Colonel Robert Gruen who heads the new office.

Gruen said a major missile improvement program, plans for new production, and interest by foreign countries wanting to buy Chaparral "... have created the demand for more intense and concentrated management." As a result, MICOM has established a management office and appealed to higher headquarters for authorization to establish a Chaparral/FAAR Product Office.

"We're modernizing Chaparral to extend its useful life well into the future," Gruen said.

Among improvements to Chaparral, an Army modification of the Navy's Sidewinder air to air missile, are a new seeker, fuze and warhead, an IFF capability and a smokeless motor.

The new missile has been tested against drones at White Sands Missile Range and Fort Bliss and results have been outstanding, Gruen said.

Already deployed worldwide with the Vulcan anti-aircraft gun, Chaparral/FAAR "... will be even more reliable and effective with these new improvements," he added.

Chaparral/FAAR Management Office now has about 18 military and civilians but MICOM plans to expand that number. The office will be staffed primarily from elements within the Missile Command.

Chaparral is an infrared heat seeking missile mounted on a tracked vehicle that complements other air defense weapons in the Army inventory, covering the battlefield sector above the range of the man-portable Stinger and Redeye, and below Hawk. The FAAR radar provides early detection of attacking enemy aircraft and relays information to the anti-aircraft sites.

A Chaparral management office located at Redstone was established in the mid 60s. The system was deployed in 1969.

Later, Chaparral was transferred to MICOM's Air Defense Special Items Management Office, and a year ago to Special Systems Management Office, which manages Army Weapons, most of which are no longer in production.

AMC Executive Named DA Deputy

Edwin Greiner, a native of New York, has been sworn in as the new Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Army for Installations and Logistics. A career civil servant, Greiner previously served as the Assistant Deputy for Logistics Support at the Army Materiel Command.

A World War II Navy veteran, he began his civil service career in 1949 when he was appointed from the Junior Management Assistant Register to a position with the Air Force. Thirteen years later he was promoted to a super-grade position with the defense supply agency.

Another move took Greiner to the Department of Defense in 1967 and he remained there until transferring to AMC, in 1969.

the basic pay and quarters shown in the charts, officers will receive BAS of $50.52 per month. Enlisted BAS will be a daily rate of $2.41 for those authorized to mess separately, $2.71 when rations are not available and $3.61 on the emergency ration schedule. The legal limit on pay, $3,000 per month, remains in force, so for senior officers there will be no pay raise.

Payoffs Make System Well Worth The Cost

NEKOMA, N.D. - One of the Army's top civilian leaders said here last week that on time completion of the Safeguard BMD system represented a success close to "one of the three or four most demanding undertakings in history."

Norman R. Augustine, Assitant Secretary of the Army (Research and Development) made that personal assessment in prepared remarks at the acceptance ceremony marking turnover of the completed Safeguard system, an event he termed: "The culmination of an important phase in one of the most massive, complex undertakings in military history."

"The significance of reaching an equipment readiness date established over four and one half years ago is certainly a landmark event of epic proportions in the weapons acquisition process. Hitting the mark, as you have done, is almost without precedence," he told the leaders of the military-civilian team which developed, built and deployed the ABM system.

And, Augustine's remarks left little doubt that he felt the system was worth the cost. He cited these "payoffs":

—The complex will provide us invaluable experience in operating a ballistic missile defense system, experience which the Soviet Union has now been accruing for a period of several years.

—The technical advancements which have been achieved during the development of this system will have major payoff for many years to come in increasing the effectiveness of our military forces and, in some degree, in civilian payoff as well.

—Without BMD there is a very great doubt that the AMB Treaties and the Interim Offensive Agreements with Russia would have materialized. "The benefits in terms of peace throughout the world are the real pay off."

Citing advancements in phased array radar and digital computers made in the development of Safeguard, Augustine said "the country will reap the benefits from spinoffs from this technology well into the future."

Magnetic Security

Takes Coded Card To Get In

Each soldier and civilian slips what looks like a plastic credit card into a slotted box near a steel bar turnstile. Each time one of the cards is inserted, an electromagnetic latch frees the floor-to-ceiling turnstile long enough for one person to pass through.

That's the new look in restricted area security at the Missile and Munitions Center and School. A new magnetic card control turn-stile system, put into operation recently, controls who goes into what buildings—and when.

The system includes a control unit in the MMCS Headquarters building, a nearby teletype input-output console, and three pairs of turnstiles and magnetic card reader units at three controlled access areas.

The system was installed at a cost of about $55,000. Estimated first-year cost saving resulting from use of the system is about $150,000, with projected savings to be $195,000 each year after that.

PAY COSTS

The savings figures represent pay costs for civilian security guards formerly posted at entrances to those areas.

The installation of the system was phased to insure continued employment of all existing civilian guards. All continue to be employed within other Redstone organizations.

During the first few days the system was operating, lines of employees formed at the turnstiles during peak traffic periods as some made unsuccessful attempts to insert their magnetic cards into the readers in one swift, continuous motion.

The lines are expected to disappear within a few days as card users grow accustomed to the procedure.

The cards were issued during September to soldiers and civilian employees of MMCS whose jobs require daily admittance to those secured areas.

Each card includes an issue control number on its face and a magnetically coded strip representing a "blind" number on the back. The blind code number does not correspond to the issue control number.

The coded strips make each card unique, and only MMCS cards will work at one or more of the control points.

If a person with access to only one building tries his card in the reader unit for another area, an alarm on the terminal would sound.

ACCESS DENIED

As a further control, some cards are valid in appropriate buildings only during certain portions of the day. A person whose duties require him to be in a building only during the day could be denied access at other times.

Still further, a console operator can at any time tap out a request on the keyboard to find who is in any building at any given time, or who had been in any building during a time frame in the past.

The controller memory bank can be updated through the teletype console to change access for individuals or groups. Numbers of cards reported lost or stolen may also be punched into the computer, which can then sound the alarm if those cards are inserted in the magnetic readers on the turnstiles.

Additional card readers and turnstiles can be added to the system if needed, requiring only further programming on the existing terminal hardware.

The new system, less expensive than guard payrolls, effectively controls access to restricted areas.

But the loud clang of an electromagnetic catch bolt may never take the place of the friendly "Good morning" of the Redstone Arsenal security guards.

Public Meeting Looks At Cancer

The American Cancer Society and the Alabama Consortium for Progressive Education are presenting a free, public health education program entitled "Will You Develop Cancer?" open to interested Madison and Jackson County citizens.

The program will be held Thursday evening October 17 from 7 to 8:30 in the Fellowship Hall at First Baptist Church, on Governors Drive.

Speakers will be Dr. Charles Selah, a Huntsville surgeon and Iris Calhoun, a clinical nursing specialist at Huntsville Hospital. In addition to the speakers, the program includes a short film on cancer followed by an audience question and answer session.

Some Not So Obvious

You may never suspect it, but one of your nearby co-workers could be one of the 143 handicapped persons employed in local Army agencies.

There are 17 different conditions that identify persons as handicapped as defined by the Civil Service Commission.

There are obvious handicaps: amputations, deformities, blindness and deafness, as well as less apparent ones: degrees of vision and hearing impairments, organic heart disease, controlled diabetes and epilepsy, and emotional and mental problems.

Hiring the handicapped is emphasized each year by observing national employ the handicapped week. This year the week began October 6.

Governor George C. Wallace and the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped have expressed support of the program through proclamations urging removal of barriers that may deter hiring handicapped persons.

The proclamations ask all elements of government and industry to take positive action in hiring, placing and advancing handicapped workers.

Huntsville Joins In Korean Celebration

More than a hundred Huntsvillians helped Korean soldiers from the Missile and Munitions Center and School celebrate their annual Armed Forces day at the Officers Open Mess last week.

Major Park Hak Chul senior Korean officer, and the 24 Korean soldiers studying the HAWK, Nike and Vulcan air defense systems at the activity hosted the event.

The program featured remarks by Major Park and the master of ceremonies, Warrant Officer Lee Byung Kon.

Mi Kyong Brown, Junior Miss of Korea in 1969, performed a series of Korean folk dances and played the Ka Yae Kum, a lap-held stringed instrument similar to the guitar. Miss Brown, a 17-year-old student at Butler High School, has lived in the U.S. since 1971.

Choi Ki Chon and his students performed demonstrations of Tae Kwan Do, the ancient Korean martial art.

The Korean soldiers also held a drawing and presented door prizes to the winners. Among the prizes were representative works of tapestries, costumed dolls and Korean art—wall hangings, scroll other souvenirs.

No Calls Means Success To Fire Chief

Fire Chief M. F. Rohrbacher measures the success of the fire department by the number of fire calls he does not receive.

"When we make no runs, I figure that people are doing what they should to avoid fire," he said.

The Chief referred to the Arsenal's leading cause of fires—smoking. Of the 107 fires last fiscal year 37 were related to smoking.

A large portion of the fireman's time goes into some aspect of fire prevention activities. All the men are trained to serve as part time inspectors, so all take a stint of looking into most of the Arsenal's 2,000 buildings—monthly, the ones containing operations more hazardous and quarterly, the others.

They have presented more than 50 lectures and fire prevention demonstrations to employees.

Firemen are also on hand during landings at the airfield. The men have logged 1,351 hours of such flying time.

Also, on the list of duties is the eternal readiness of all the equipment, and, of course, the answering of fire calls.

Tops on the firemen's appreciation list where equipment is concerned is the recent addition of aluminized fire fighting suits. Each man was issued a suit and it will be worn routinely on fire calls. Formerly, such suits had been used by those units standing by at the air field.

Rohrbacher, retiring in December, and his understudy, D. M. Doyle, are working toward dropping the fire loss figure which the Arsenal experienced.

"We burned up more than $22,000 last fiscal year," said Doyle.

Since 1968 the smallest loss in one year was $4,000 in 1971. The largest followed the next year with loss of more than $90,000.

"This is the reason we emphasize fire prevention so much. Many of the fires are preventable with attention to fire hazards. It is why we set aside Fire Prevention Week each year on the anniversary of the great Chicago fire of 1871."

Toddler's questions answered.

Smoking Still The Major Culprit

Each year fires kill nearly 13,000 persons and destroy $3.1 billion dollars in property. Much of that waste is caused by human carelessness, negligence or by an attitude: "It can't happen to me."

Monday kicked off fire Prevention Week at Redstone Arsenal.

The annual event marks the anniversary of one of America's worst disasters—The Great Chicago Fire of 1871 which killed 250 persons and destroyed 17,430 buildings at a cost of $168 million dollars—a staggering sum, especially a century ago.

Redstone Arsenal Fire Chief D. M. Doyle passed along several fire prevention factors for soldiers at the Missile and Munitions Center and School.

ARE YOU A CAREFUL SMOKER?

"Smoking is the greatest single cause of fires," according to Doyle.

Since the first of June this year, four mattress fires have been reported in the troop billets at the School the fire chief said.

"Many persons fail to heed the conspicuous 'No Smoking In Bed,' signs" he said.

ARE MATCHES AND LIGHTERS KEPT AWAY FROM CHILDREN?

Redstone had 24 reported fires last year due to smoking materials, according to Doyle. Of these, seven cases of grass fires in the family housing areas were reported with the probable cause of children playing with matches, he said.

ARE PORTABLE HEATERS PLACED WELL AWAY FROM CURTAINS, BEDDING, FUR-

NITURE AND OTHER COMBUSTIBLE MATERIALS?

"Waste materials and rubbish are great contributors to the start and spread of fire," said Doyle.

One storage area was completely destroyed by fire last year at MMCS. Combustible items were stored too close to an electric heater, Doyle explained.

BEFORE THE HEATING SEASON BEGINS, DO YOU HAVE ALL COMBUSTIBLE ITEMS WELL BACK FROM HEATERS AND VENTS?

"Three to four fires are reported each fall with the changeover from air-conditioning to heating," said Doyle.

"Be sure all flue pipes, vent connectors, gas vents and chimneys are inspected each fall, and cleaned and repaired as necessary," added the fire chief.

IS YOUR STOVE, INCLUDING OVEN AND BROILER, KEPT CLEAN OF GREASE?

Nearly every year grease fires are reported in the housing area.

Although one-third of the nation's deaths each year occur in the home, Mr. Doyle is also concerned about the rapid growth of automobile fires on Redstone Arsenal.

"Already this year, we have had 21 reported cases of automobile fires," said Doyle.

Recently, a soldier had a tune-up on his car. The same day his car was completely destroyed by fire because of a faulty fuel line.

"In most cases, leaking lines or faulty carburetors are the blame for the fires," he said.

Sometimes vehicles are like homes on wheels, complete with electrical "appliances" and combustible carpeting and upholstery.

"Individuals should make periodic checks of their vehicles as well as their homes," said Doyle.

The means of fire prevention is to eliminate fire hazards, but the only effective way is to establish a well-planned program with supervision and inspections.

Each fire that is prevented ultimately means the prevention of property loss, human suffering, or even loss of life.

Pre school children examine fire apparel.

Sixth Shocks Medics As Race Tightens

Fourth Deadlocks West As MICOM Leads East

By SP5 Dave Cowan

A group of medical men known as "Meddac" were supposed to have their pride and all of their earthly possessions at stake last Monday night in the RSA Men's Flag Football League.

The medics, last year's champions and undefeated so far this year, lost their first game of the football season Oct. 1 in a very embarrassing way, to the 6th Student Company.

The untimely loss again created a three-way tie for first place in the Western division of the league as the 8th Student Company upended the 4th students 8-0, and then later in the week the 8th fell to the medics 6-0. All three teams were undefeated going into the week's action.

In the Eastern race, MICOM has taken a dominating lead, 5-1; with Company C at 3-2—the only other team of the six-team division over the 500 mark.

MONDAY

On Oct. 1, the 6th SC stunned Meddac, 14-0; the Marines edged the 7th, 14-6; 8th SC nipped 4th SC, 8-0; while the 291st MPs blanked Company A, 14-0.

The 6th students won their third game of the season against Meddac. The students blanked the medics on Ron Danko's 20-yard run and quarterback Steve Dever's 15-yard pass to Beveridge Miller, while Danko added a two-point PAT.

R.R. Cromwell ran 55 yards for a TD and then passed to D. R. Fannin for the PAT to give the Marines a surprising 14-6 overtime win over the 7th students. Both teams were deadlocked at six-all at the end of regulation time. The students scored on George Dixon's interception, while Marine quarterback Cromwell fired a 15-yard TD pass to Fannin during regular play.

A 8-yard pass play from quarterback Jim Johnston to Charlie Jones and then a Johnston-to-Leo Mayhue pass for the PAT gave the 8th students a hard fought 8-0 win over the 4th.

Winless Company A suffered their sixth loss as the MPs beat the permanent party squad 14-0. The policemen scored two touchdowns on a 25-yard pass from Bob Walker to Oral Alsbrooks and Johnny Lee's 25-yard run. Lee's TD was followed by Walker's one-yard plunge into the end zone for the PAT.

In Tuesday's action under the lights, Meddac nipped 8th SC, 6-0; 4th SC trounced Company C, 22-0; MICOM blanked Company B, 28-0; while the Marines edged the 291st MPs, 6-0.

Meddac avenged their earlier loss during the week with a 6-0 win over previously undefeated 8th SC. Quarterback Chris Wanzer fired a 20-yard pass to Richard Boozer in the second half for the game's only touchdown.

The 4th students received a double win in the second game Tuesday night. They defeated Company C 22-0, after celebrating the 8th's loss to Meddac. The 4th had suffered their first loss Monday at the hands of the 8th.

Student Jim Whitfield ran 60 yards for a TD and then was on the receiving end for two additional scores on 11 and 30-yard passes from quarterback Hallberg, while student William Mabray ended the 4th's scoring with a 30-yard pass to Cornelius Williams.

Ray Smith threw three TD passes, two to Arthur Perrin and one to Paul Johnson, and then ran 15 yards for another as MICOM routed Company B, 28-0.

During the missilemen's first six games, they have allowed only two points scored against them. The two points were scored by the medics in a 2-0 win over MICOM earlier.

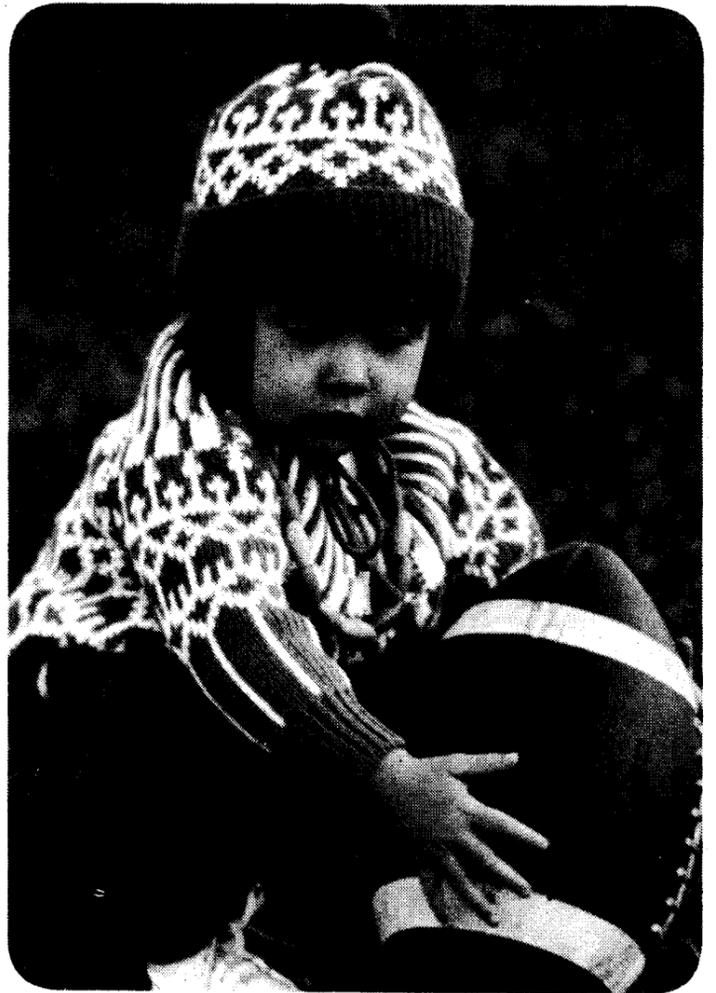

The Marines won their second game with a 6-0 win over the MPs, but no game statistics were available for the ROCKET at press time.

WEDNESDAY

The 6th SC clasted Company B, 36-0; 4th SC shutout the 7th, 14-0; MICOM beat the Marines, 16-0; while Company C edged the MPs, 6-0, in games Wednesday night.

The 6th students scored five touchdowns in their win over the B's. Quarterback Steve Dever ignited four TDs on passes to Emmerson, Bruce Kirk, Beveridge Miller and another to Kirk, while Ron Danko fired to Miller for a 35-yard TD. Three TDs were climaxed with PATs.

Quarterback William Mabray

Arsenal Youths Claim Four Wins

The RSA Chiefs sacked Madison's quarterback for a safety, but that was all they got as the Rams kept their unblemished record intact with a 12-2 win over the Arsenal youths in a Pop Warner football game last Saturday.

It was Madison's fourth consecutive win, while the Chiefs dropped to a 2-2 slate in the Pee Wee (8-10 year-old) division.

The Chiefs out-duelled the Rams defensively in the first half for a 2-0 lead. Redstone's score came on a safety in the first quarter when Clarence Charles and Keith Harrell sacked Ram quarterback John Rossetti in the end zone.

Rossetti got his revenge for a TD with a pair of second half scores, one on a 74-yard scamper.

Fullback Billy Boatright and halfback Darvi Stevenson led the Chiefs in rushing with 62 and 53 yards respectively, while Keith Harrell made 18 tackles defensively.

Chiefs 27 Boys' Club 6

The RSA Chiefs ran for 482 yards offensively in defeating the Huntsville Boys' Club 27-6 in a contest Sept. 30.

The Chiefs took a 14-0 lead at halftime on TDs by Boatright and Stevenson, while John Ragano and Paddock added PATs. The Arsenal youths added another TD in the third quarter on Ragano's four-yard run for a 20-0 lead.

The Huntsville squad finally got onto the scoreboard late in the third stanza on a reverse play by Victor Howard. Leading 20-6, the Chiefs wrapped the game up in the final period on Boatright's TD and Peter Macconachie's point after touchdown.

Stevenson and Boatright led the Chiefs' offensive attack with 143 and 117 yards respectively, while the same two men defensively made 58 tackles.

RSA Saints 24 Boys' Club 6

The Redstone Saints remained undefeated in the Midget division of the Pop Warner league with a tough 24-6 win over the Huntsville Boys' Club last Saturday night.

The Saints scored on their first possession of the game as quarterback David Ragano plunged one-yard into the end zone; capping a 62-yard drive in 12 plays.

The Saints increased their lead to 18-0 on TD runs by halfback Bobby McEvoy and fullback Kyle ran 20 yards for one TD, then found Jim Whitfield open for another score on a 35-yard pass that enabled the 4th to beat the 7th students, 14-0.

MICOM ran their record to 5-1 with their latest win over the Marines. Joe Jones supplied the missilemen's punch with two TDs—a 10-yard run and a 55-yard pass play run on a throw from quarterback Mike Spry. MICOM added two PATs, one on a pass from Spry to Arthur Perrin. Spry took the ball into the end zone himself for the other.

Company C found the winning way again and ran their record to 3-2 as quarterback Jerry Butler drilled a 20-yard pass to Joe Toney for a TD, giving the C's a 6-0 win over the MPs.

RSA Rams 13- Jets 0

The RSA Rams picked up their third consecutive victory with a 13-0 victory over the Madison Jets in a 10-12 year-old division game last Saturday.

It was the Rams' 24th consecutive win—an unbeaten string dating back to 1972 when the team was formed.

Mark Archuleta scored the first

Ram TD in the first quarter on a 55-yard run off tackle. The Rams added to the lead when halfback Tracey George recovered a Jet fumble and raced 39 yards for the score. Jeff Hodge took the pigskin over for the PAT.

Colts 26 Lacey's Spring 0

The Madison Colts downed Lacey's Spring 26-0 in a 120-pound division game Saturday night.

The Colts took the opening kickoff and drove 53 yards in seven plays with Mike Sketers taking the pigskin over for the TD on an eight-yard run. Barry Carpenter added the PAT.

The Colts added three more TDs before the first half ended on a 31-yard scamper by Sketers; Joe Connie's four-yard run and Carpenter's 40-yard dash after intercepting a Lacey's pass.

The 26-0 Colt lead stood up in the final half as neither team could score.

I DIDN'T TOUCH HIM—Mayhue (70) of the 8th SC seems to disavow any knowledge of the reasons for medic Chris Wanzer's (58) tumble after a long gain in last Thursday night's action.

ANSWERS

(Editor's Note: The MICOM Information Office conducts a question and answer program for job-related questions of general interest. Such questions may be telephoned to 876-4161 or 876-4400, or mailed to AMSMI-G. Some questions are selected for publication in the Rocket. Names are withheld. It is not intended that this program take the place of the usual supervisor-employee relationship which is the proper channel for specific job-related questions.)

QUESTION: When we get a pay raise, some employees will receive the additional pay sooner than others, depending on pay periods. How does this work officially? To be equitable shouldn't everyone start getting the added pay at the same time?

ANSWER: Last week the Rocket stated that the two pay period at Redstone begin on October 5 and 19. That is an error. The pay periods begin October 6 and 13. Now, it gets complicated. The same day the Rocket was published last week, a news story out of Washington stated that the pay raise would be retroactive to October 1 for all employees. That is also an error. Civilian pay officials say that by law, pay raises are effective on the first pay period that begins on or after October 1. Pay periods are considered personal to each employee and have been established at Redstone on a staggered basis.

QUESTION: Is it all right for active duty military personnel to use their military titles in connection with positions with commercial enterprises?

ANSWER: No. AR 600-50 prohibits active duty military personnel from using their military titles or positions in connection with any commercial enterprise. A commercial enterprise is any organization other than one which is exempt from Federal income taxation under the provisions of enumerated subsections of section 501 (c), title 26 US Code. Prior to authorizing use of military titles or positions in conjunction with any non-DOD activity, active duty personnel must insure that the organization involved is tax exempt under one of the applicable subsections of Section 501 (c). If doubt exists, consult the Military Law Division of the MICOM Legal Office.

Take The Class To The People

Twenty-six Upward Mobility program participants in the Directorate for Materiel Management were included recently in a training course usually given to career employees in the supply field.

They were in classes for an Army Logistic Management Center (ALMC)-sponsored basic course in supply management which covers the latest supply techniques.

The course, conducted by Helen Nixon of the Directorate, was in three classes of two and one-half days each. A comprehensive overview of supply management functions at the National Inventory Control Point level was presented.

Using MICOM personnel as instructors makes it possible for more individuals to receive training than could be offered if they had to be sent to ALMC at Ft. Lee for courses.

A. A. Stewart, Supply Management Activity Program Manager, says, "It is gratifying to have and use in-house expertise to conduct courses of this nature, and to see the Upward Mobility program in action."

The Directorate recently designated seven para-trainee positions and filled six under the Upward Mobility program.

NCOA Seminar

More than 400 veterans from the North Alabama region found jobs through the "opportunity seminar" sponsored by the local Non-Commissioned Officers Association chapter in August according to a spokesman for the organization.

"That figure represents participants who have already been placed. We expect the figure to increase, since NCOA 'mini-resumes' are still going out to potential employers," said Master Sergeant Mattie A. Carter, one of three newly elected NCOA trustees.

Other trustees recently elected by the membership are Sergeant Major Estel Cannon and Specialist Six Thomas Duhley. Carter, Cannon and Duhley were sworn in during the organizations' quarterly social.

The NCOA's next meeting is tonight, Carter said, and he urged all NCOA members to attend.

“The Army’s what you make of it. And I’m makin’ it.”

Sergeant James Thomas likes his job, and likes to talk about it.

“I’m in light vehicle maintenance. And every day there’s something different. That’s what keeps it interesting.

“Whenever I go home, my friends are always complaining about their jobs. And some of them aren’t even working!

“But I like what I do. And my wife and I like the life. The shopping’s good. The schools are good. And the medical service is great. So we’re making it fine.”
