Redstone Family Housing is a place where residents can live, work, play, learn, and raise their families in a secure and comfortable hometown environment.

The community complements the unique southern setting of Redstone Arsenal providing military families with a once in a life time living experience. Every family will be welcomed and served by a staff of professionals who genuinely care about their well-being.

Our staff is dedicated to serving residents by providing well maintained homes, community-focused activities and creating an environment where the spirit of camaraderie with other families can be nurtured and where personal connections can be made.

Hunt is a leading national real estate services company headquartered in El Paso, Texas. Deeply focused in its core areas of public private partnership, military housing, community development, real asset investment management and multifamily housing, Hunt is dedicated to building values through development, investment and management.

Founded in 1947, Hunt is firmly rooted in a legacy of leadership, integrity, and trust. For over 40 years, the company has focused on quality of design, construction, and development of military housing for the various branches of the United States military across the continental U.S., Hawaii and Alaska.

With over 36,000 housing units spread across 30 projects, Hunt prides itself on providing our Service Members and their families with a civilian-comparable, high-quality residential living experience.
